60 Hamilton, London, Windsor, St. Thomas, St. Catharines,

Mr. Thomas Lang United to Adelaide Jeffries.

Mr. Thomas Lang was yesterday united in marriage to Miss Adelaide Jefferies, daughter of Mr. William Jefferies of the W. A. Murray Company. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride, 79 Blecckerstreet, and was performed by Rev. J. F. Ockley of Berkeley-street Methodist Church. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers and plants. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Maud, dressed in white muslin, and she also carried a large bouquet of flowers. Mr. James A. Lang, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The little Misses Edna and Mazle Jefferles were the maids of honor, and were attired in pure white. The bride wore a dress of white organdie, trimmed with white lace. After the ceremony the newly-wedded couple and about 60 of their friends partook of a recherche wedding feast, and the evening was pleasantly spent. Mr. and Mrs. Lang left on a honeymoon trip to the West, and on their return will take up residence at 308 Sackville-street.

XXXXXXXXXXXXX HOW GRAPE-NUTS FOOD IS CONSTRUCTED.

When ready for the market it is in the form of small granules from the size of a pin head to two or three times that size. These pieces glisten when held to the light, showing the grape sugar crystalized and deposited on each granule. This grape sugar is one of the most nutritive articles of food known, and is produced and evolved from the starchy part of the grains while in process of manufacture.

No Cane or Beet Sugar is used in making Grape-Nuts.

A Magic Pill—Dyspepsia is a foe with which men are constantly grappling, but cannot exterminate. Subdued, and to all appearances vanquished, in one, it makes its appearance in another direction. In many the digestive apparatus is as delicate as the mechanism of a watch or scientific instrument, in which even a breath of air will make a variation. With such persons disorders of the stomach ensue from the most trivial canses and cause much suffering. To these Parmalee's Vegetable Pills are recommended as mild and sure.
