PROPOSED LINE WILL TAP PAYING DISTRICT

Will Suburban Railway Get Franchise - Mr. Carnegie Approves Pians-York County.

WEST TORONTO, Aug. 19.-Next Monday night's council meeting is called primarily to discuss the matter of nnexation, but it is safe to say that the big question of the evening will not be that of union with the city, but the discussion of the proposed extension of the suburban railway, which Manager Royce is so assiduously projecting. The temper of the meeting on Monday night last when Mr. Royce spoke briefly with reference to the matter shows that the city council as a whole are alive to the situation, and may safely be trusted to safeguard the rights of West Toronto.

The distance from the corner of The distance from the corner of Keele-street to the proposed starting point of the suburban railway to the Humber bridge is approximately about three miles, and the route which the company would like to acquire presents no engineering difficulties, going as it does along Annette to Elizabeth-street south to the West Tool beth-street south to the West To-rento pumping station and Ellis-av-nue, and Swansea from which the York Township council have made ar-rangements to open up a road to the Humber, the proposed terminus. The contention of the two managers The contention of the two managers has been gossip in theatrical circles for 48 hours. Briefly, Mr. Savage holds that he has the exclusive right to the production in this country, and has made public an affidavit said to have been sworn to by the dramatist. He gave several performances of it at Hartford, Conn., and was preparing for an elaborate production here when Mr. Fiske announced his performance as a surprise. Mr. Savage at once hurried his plans, and both productions were produced last night. Everywhere the eye could reach about the Garden Theatre three-colored bills Garden Theatre three-colored bills were displayed which read as follows:

"Thou Shalt Not Steal!"
The Devil.
Garden Theatre.
Do not buy stolen goods.

The story has not yet been told of how Mr. Fiske sent George Arliss and the rest of his company up into West-chester County, where they lived under assumed names and wore strange disguises, rehearsed in town halls and barns, and when they were quite ready to flash it on New York did so with such dramatic effect that Mr. Savage, busy rehearsing the Boston company of "The Merry Widow," was for a few minutes maybe completely hornsfew minutes maybe completely hornswoggled. Then he took a long breath and got busy. He changed the name of the version of Moinar's play that he possessed from "The Cloven Hoof"— under which name it had been shown in Hartford, Conn.—back to "The Devil," to match Fiske, and cracked the managerial whip over the backs of his actors.

His star, Edwin Stevens, was at the time on Nantucket Island. Mr. Savage got him by wireless. Mr. Stevens chartered a steamboat which took him to Woods Hole, where he caught an express train to New York. He arrived at Mott Haven at 1.59 Monday morning, where an automobile was waiting for him. Straight to the Garden Theatre, at something less than 60 miles an nething less than 60 miles ar hour, the automobile took Stevens, where all night rehearsals had started already under the direction of Mr. Savage, Mr. Herford and Robert Mil-

Mr. Savage held them hard at work until daylight yesterday morning, six hours of steady grind. There was a short interval then for breakfast and rest, and then at 9 o'clock in the morning Mr. Stevens and the rest of the company went back to work and plugged away until 7 o'clock last night. A few minutes more than an hour later the audience was in the Garden Theatre applauding a company of actors who appeared as fresh and energetic as if they had been resting, letter perfect, for weeks.

At least a thousand people were turned away at each place, and an hour before the bells tinkled for the lifting of curtains the police were busy shepherding people into some approach to order upon the sidewalks.

Instead of a blasphemous drama, the audiences beheld a virile representation of the frailties of human nature, painted in varied colors have a manufacture of the frailties. painted in varied colors by a cunning painted in varied colors by a cuming master. "The Devil" is a morality play of the highest order. It is the first thoughtful representation of the new season, and discussion of its merits as a play and of the moral it imparts must be deferred until a later date. It only necessary to record now that it created a profound impression.
