WELSH TROOPS GALLANTRY. London, Oct. 2.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters in France telegraphs today: The result of the fighting arising from the German fighting arising from the German counter-attack yesterday our position beyond Cameron house seems largely, if not quite restored, whilst elsewhere we advanced over a hundred yards owing to the gallantry of the Weish troops, who drove back the enemy.

I learned that the ground in front of our line is strewn with German corpses. The enemy suffered frightfully in unsuccessful attempts to regain some shell holes in the area he professes to regard as tactically valueless.

There is a considerable proportion of Poles and Alsatians among the new troops which the Germans have hurried up to defend the Menin ridge. The enemy are desperately anxious to impress their people at home with the impress their people at home with the impress their people at home with the content of their "victory" in to impress their people at home with the extent of their "victory" in Flanders for which they are resorting to their old trick. The mere handful of prisoners they have taken in the recent fighting have been sent to a town where a number of prisoners a town where a number of prisoners previously taken had been assembled. The prisoners are marched thru the town while they are cinematographed for the benefit of the Berlin public.

BERLIN'S REPORT.

Berlin, via London, Oct. 2.—An official statement says:

"Western theatre: Front of Crown Prince Rupprecht: In the centre of the Flanders front, the artillery duel was intense. Between Langemarck and Hollebeke on several occessions it increased to waves of drumfire."

"In the morning our storming troops wrested from the British a portion of the fighting region at Polygon Wood, north of the Menin-Ypres road some 500 metres deep, and held it against strong and repeated counter-attacks. In addition to considerable casualties, the enemy lost prisoners.

"Front of the German Crown Prince: Northeast of Soissons, the artillery fighting activity increased. Before Verdun there was a lively firing engagement in connection with a successful enterprise on the eastern bank of the Meuse.

"Near Bezonwaux, during the morning, shock troops with pioneers, broke info the rear lines of the French position, destroyed trench establishments and returned to their own position with more than one hundred prisoners.
