

1841
Your Committee, in concluding their Report, cannot help calling upon the Members of the Church for their earnest and persevering co-operation, without which, their efforts must at last prove ineffectual; and that they will endeavour, by the blessing of Heaven, to do good to the souls of their destitute brethren, and afford all the means of reading the "Book of Life," and of becoming acquainted with a Saviour, "who is both
"able and willing to save to the uttermost."