

PERIODICAL OR OCCASIONAL EVENTS, 1891.

- January. 1. Very mild, heavy rain. 2nd, rapid fall of temperature, by morning a 3rd a change of 41° had occurred. 16th, Coldest day of year, average 5° 13.
18. Robins numerous. 21st, Woodpeckers numerous. 27th, Black Cap Tit-mouse.
- February 6. Robins, Greybirds and Bluejays numerous.
- March 26. Robins and Crows numerous. 29th, Butterflies seen.
- April 2. Greybirds, Hawks, Blackbirds and Bobolinks seen.
18. Meadow Larks seen. 13th, Frogs heard. 22nd, Blackbirds numerous.
- May 18. First lightning of year.
3. Last snow of season. 6th, Gulls flying N. 7th, Fireflies seen.
8. Plum Trees and Pear Trees in bloom. 9th, Swallows seen; Humming Birds seen.
10. Whip-poor-Will seen.
14. Oriole seen. 15th, Thin ice. Last frost of season, 23rd
- June 11. Heavy thunderstorm; 0.62 in. of rain fell in 16 minutes, 2 to 3 p. m.
16. Warmest day of year; heavy thunderstorm; 1.28 in. of rain fell in a little over an hour.
- August 9. Almost constant succession of thunderstorms all day; 2.44 in. of rain fell.
- October 10. Hoar frost, first of season. 11th, Swallows last noted.
13. First ice noted. 26th, Last thunderstorm.
- November 1. First snow of season. 18th, First measurable snow.
19. River Don frozen.
- December 9. Large flock of small birds about.
27. Bluebird seen.