PAPER SAYS BASEBALL PLAYERS WILL BE EXONERATED BY LANDIS RISBERG AND Expected 400 Fans Will Accompany Fusiliers To Sussex This Evening

No Trace of "Criminal Intent" But Action of Players "Highly Improper"

CHICAGO, Jan. 12-The Herald and Examiner today said it had learned from "an authoritative source" that Commissioner Landis' decision will exonerate all members of the White Sox and Detroit baseball teams involved by "Swede" Risberg and "Chick" Gandil in an alleged fixed series in 1917. The newspaper continues that from The newspaper continues that from the same source it learned the verdict would carry sharp censure for the White Sox who contributed $45 each in 1917 toward a pool of $1,100 for the Detroit pitching staff and will reprimand the Detroit players for taking it.

The "gift fund," as the paper says the money will be termed, will be characterized as "highly improper," but the decision will state that Commissioner Landis has been unable to find any trace of "criminal intent" involved, on either side.

Sullivan said he wanted to meet Flood and told Madden to go get him the fight. Madden tried to sign them up for Queensbury or London rules, but Flood was very gruff and hardboiled and trying to frighten Madden, said, "It's going to be catch-as-catch-can and everything goes!"

CHOSEN COMMODORE

Madden hesitated, finally agreed, and went over on the lower eastside to rouse Sullivan out of a deep slumber and tell him of the dangerous foe he had matched him with and under what conditions they would fight.

Sullivan knocked Flood out in eight rounds in a one-sided fight on a harge.
