A linen shower given Mrs. J. B. M. Baxter last evening at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur Carter, West St. John was one of the prettiest functions of the kind ever seen here. Miss Elizabeth Dodge and the Misses Allen, Elsie and Lois Colston were the instigators of the pleasant surprise for the bride. She thoroughly enjoyed opening her many parcels. The linen was the flower girl in dainty gown of pink and white crepe paper, with bonnet to match. She carried a basket, beautifully trimmed, and another with lovely flowers. Dainty refreshments were served at a late hour by the young lady hostesses, who were assisted by Miss Florence Carter, sister of the recipient. ## CHILD WELFARE WORK DISCUSSED BY SOCIAL SERVICE COUNCIL

Some Excellent Addresses Heard at Yesterday's Sessions.

A number of very fine addresses were heard at the sessions of the Social Service Council, yesterday afternoon and evening. Dr. F. W. Patterson, president of Acadia, urged the compulsory sterilization of the feeble minded as the only practicable way to deal with that problem. Child Welfare work was discussed by Miss Julia Lathrop. At the evening session Hon. P. J. Veniot presided and extended greetings.

Miss Julia Lathrop, founder and first Chief of the Children's Bureau of the United States Federal Department of Labor, gave a notable address on Society and the Child and Mrs. E. P. MacCallum, the assistant secretary of the Social Service Council of Canada, in a carefully prepared address told of the conditions of maternity in Canada, presenting the deplorable facts of the high mortality and placing before the audience some suggested remedial measures.

The afternoon session discussion on the immigration report, which Rev. Canon Vernon, of Toronto, presented, was lively and many of those present spoke on the subject. Canon Vernon summed up the immigration policy he advocated in the words "selection" and "settlement." Bishop Lloyd, of Sackville, presented a letter deploring the alleged wholesale admission of foreigners into Canada under the present immigration policy of the government. Says Question Economic One.

Dr. F. H. Gishbourne, of Ottawa, considered that no Government could prevent the emigration to the United States as he believed that lack of employment in Canada and high taxation were the causes sending Canadians across the border. Rev. W. H. Morris, of Toronto said rural and national migration followed capital and wallpapers were Mrs. Robert Hawker, Mrs. Fred Z. Fowler, Mrs. Clara Schofield, Mrs. Joseph Hamm, Mrs. C. Frank MacNeill, Mrs. John F. Kelly, Mrs. W. L. Caldwell and Mrs. W. H. McQuade. ## WOODSTOCK ASKS LOWER LIGHT RATE

Matter is Presented to the Public Utilities Commission.

Dr. Louis F. Gould, manager of the Maine & New Brunswick Power Company at Aroostook Falls, was the principal witness before the N. B. Board of Public Utilities yesterday afternoon at the reopened hearing of the application of the Woodstock Electric Light, Railway & Power Company and the Carleton Electric Company to fix rates for electrical energy, wholesale and retail, contingent upon the consumption in the town of Woodstock.

Dr. Gould was closely examined by Mr. Mildren, the expert of the board, and in his evidence referred to the contracts made by the Maine & N. B. Power Company with the town of Houlton in the first instance in 1908 when it was absolutely necessary to find a market for the Aroostook Falls hydro current before capitalists would advance the money necessary for the developments.

Mr. Gould explained that the contract was necessarily much lower than it should have been and was for a period of 15 years renewable at the same price. He dealt with the fact that there were three cents for electric lighting and two cents for power, and it at the end of a year the bill against the town was more than $10,000 there was an additional discount of 5 per cent.

The charge for power for the first 5,000 k. w. was two cents and between that amount and 28,000 k. w. two cents less 15 per cent. From that amount up to 36,400 the discount increased to 25 per cent and from that up to 65,000 k. w. the discount was 30 per cent. But in 1918 these discounts were done away with by agreement on a flat rate of one and a half cents a k.w.h. for power was agreed to. The other towns in Maine served by the Aroostook Falls power did not get so low a rate, four cents being charged them for lighting and two cents for power, less discounts. The rates to the Carleton Electric, he said, from the Maine & N. B. Power Company were three cents for light and one and a half cents for power. These were passed along under the proposed rates to the Woodstock Electric Light Company for three cents for power and four and a half cents for light, and the proposed rates to the consumer are four cents for power and about 10 cents a k.w.h. for light, with the exception of the town of Woodstock, which is named at six cents.

Mr. Gould gave considerable information to the board regarding the operation of the Maine and N. B. Power Company, stating that there was an intermediary company, called the Gould Electric Company, which bought the power from the generating company and sold to the town.

Mr. Rutledge, Town Manager of Woodstock, and Fred Crighton, who was also present on behalf of the town, asked that there be another investigation of the cost of the Carleton Electric transmission line and that the rates be much reduced from those at present. Mr. Rutledge endeavored to prove by the rates charged in towns in Maine that the Woodstock rates were higher than they should be.

It was argued by Mr. E. R. Teed and by A. B. Connel, C. C., that the construction of the transmission line by the Carleton Electric Co. was absolutely necessary, that the situation, so far as the illumination of the town was concerned, was a very serious one, and that this was too late in the day to raise objections.

The board promised consideration and a speedy judgment. Mr. Gould, of the Woodstock Electric Light Co., was also present, although not examined, having given his evidence at a previous hearing. The board will hold a private session today.

ARRESTED AND RELEASED. Last evening about 8:30 the police were called to the W. C. A. recreation centre by a phone message. When they arrived they were told that Miss M. L. Cooke, of Quebec River, and the centre and the ladies were a bit frightened. The man was quickly found and had simply been walking up and down the sidewalk. As the ladies did not wish to enter a complaint he was allowed to go.

TWO OFFICERS ARE HURT DURING TRIP. Halifax, Jan. 29.—The British oil tanker Lucerna, from South Shields, Eng., en route to Philadelphia, arrived in port this afternoon with two of her officers requiring hospital treatment, following injuries sustained during a decidedly tempestuous voyage.

A REMARKABLE SUICIDE. London, Jan. 30.—A remarkable story of a man who placed his head on a block and pulled a rope so that his head was smashed by a blow equal to a 50-ton weight was told at an inquest at Hershman, near Walton-on-Thames. The victim was John Albert Faulkner, aged 67.

A nephew said that his uncle suffered badly from nerves and was greatly worried because he had not been able to carry out work properly. He was allowed to do light employment to keep his mind occupied. He went to the dock hammer, the overhead gears of which were worked by electricity. The hammer weighed 15 cwt., but falling at the rate of 30 feet a second it struck a blow equal to 50 tons.

SISTER Mary's KITCHEN

LUNCHEON DISHES COMBINING VEAL AND PORK

Veal and pork can be used together excellently. Veal lacks fat which is supplied by the pork and as both meats require long cooking the result is very satisfactory.

Beast of Veal

One breast of veal, 1 pound sausage meat or finely chopped pork, 3-4 cup rice, 1 tablespoon grated cheese, 1 large onion, 1 carrot, 1-2 small turnip, parsley, thyme, bayleaf, peppercorns, salt and pepper. Remove bones and tendons from veal and trim neatly. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and spread evenly with pork. If plain ground pork is used it should be well seasoned with salt and pepper. Roll veal tightly and bind with stout cord. Put bones and trimmings of veal in kettle, add vegetables, sliced, herbs, salt and pepper. Cover tightly and simmer two hours. Baste the roll frequently with the stock in the kettle and add water as necessary. Remove meat from kettle and strain stock. There should be three cups. Roll rice in salted water for 15 minutes. Drain and pour over boiling water. Drain. Return stock to kettle and bring to the boiling point. When bubbling rapidly add rice and meat and simmer, tightly covered until stock is absorbed. Remove meat and cut the cord in several places. Unbind without disturbing the shape. Arrange rice in a border on a platter, sprinkle with cheese and place roll of meat in the border. Garnish with parsley and serve.

Luncheon Rolls

One-half pound sausage meat, 1-2 pound finely chopped uncooked veal, 3-4 cup stale bread crumbs from soft part of loaf, 1 cup milk, 1 egg, 1 dessertspoon minced pickles, 1 teaspoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 teaspoon scraped onion, 1-4 teaspoon paprika. Mix meat and bread crumbs. If the sausage meat is not highly seasoned add salt with the other seasonings. Add seasonings to first mixture and blend thoroughly. Add milk and egg slightly.
