IS THIS A FACT?

St. Andrew's Beacon—A young man from one of the islands passed through here on Friday on his way home from St. John. He said he had gone to St. John in answer to an ad. for "Five Hundred Men Wanted." He had joined three labor unions in the city, paying $5 to each, and still had been unable to land a job.

FIRE THIS MORNING

The firemen were given another run this morning in answer to an alarm for a blaze in the building occupied by G. S. Connors & Co., Paradise row. The damage was confined mostly to the roof. The alarm was sounded about eight o'clock and it was about three-quarters of an hour before the all-out was rung in. The insurance of $1,500 carried, it is said, will cover the loss.

ALLAN IS FREED ON SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Craig Sent to Jail For Two Months—Today's Police Court

Several cases of importance were disposed of in the police court this morning. On the regular police sheet two prisoners charged with drunkenness were each fined $8 or twenty days in jail. Several prisoners who had been in jail on remand were dealt with. George Allan, arrested several days ago on the charge of stealing an overcoat, the property of Lemuel Cowell, from a street car, was allowed to go on suspended sentence. His honor told him that he was liable to six years in Dorchester, and that if he did not behave properly in the future and abstain from liquor, a commitment would be sent out against him and he would be sent to the penitentiary. He promised to do better.

Samuel Craig, arrested last week on the charge of stealing a case of Scotch whisky from the Donaldson line shed at Sand Point, was sentenced to two months in jail with hard labor.

Alfred E. Gibbs, a young Englishman, was arrested on Christmas Eve on charge of shooting Leo Oulfin in the Pacific House, West St. John, was committed to stand trial at the next sitting of the county court. He gave his name as being purely accidental and that he was sorry it had occurred.

Edward Belanger, a Frenchman, arrested several weeks ago on the charge of lying and lurking near Hon. J. D. Hazen's home in Hantz street, and who had been confined to jail, was brought in this morning and further remanded. An effort is being made to have him deported. He told the court that his home was in Quebec.

TUG TO MUSQUASH IN HOPE TO SAVE ESKIMO

Schooner One of Those Driven Ashore Last Week—May Bid For the Wm. T. Donnell

The tug Wason left this morning for Musquash harbor, where she will endeavor to haul the schooner Eskimo off a reef. The Eskimo went ashore during the heavy gale on last Friday. The work of unloading the cargo of lumber is now going on. Captain Pike and the members of the crew are still at Musquash. It is expected that the Wason will be successful in saving the schooner, and if so, she will probably be towed to this port for repairs.

The schooner William T. Donnell, wrecked at Mace's Bay in the same storm, is practically a total loss. Part of her cargo of lumber has drifted ashore and has been saved, but there is still a large quantity yet on board. Part of her cargo of lumber is now being unloaded at St. John lumberman is at the scene today and will probably make the owners an offer for the complete outfit, schooner, cargo and all. Captain Stout, the owner of the schooner, is now at Mace's Bay looking after the arrangements for the sale of the schooner. Captain Hardy and the members of the crew have left for their homes.

HONOR PAID LATE REV. DR. T. W. STREET

Many at His Funeral—Tribute by Canon Neales and on Behalf of Bishop Richardson

The body of Rev. Dr. T. W. Street was laid at rest this afternoon in Cedar Hill, after having lain in state throughout the day in the chancel of St. Jude's church, in West St. John, where watch was kept from twelve o'clock to eight o'clock by his brother clergymen, by whom he was held in so great respect and esteem. At eight o'clock this morning the body was removed to the church from his late residence at 231 St. George street. There followed the celebration of holy communion, with the rector, Rev. G. F. Scoville, being the celebrant, assisted by Rev. W. L. Dunham, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Fairville.

After this service the body was conveyed to the chancel of the church, where numerous floral tributes were arranged about the casket, and three clergymen kept watch throughout the day until 2:30 o'clock, when the funeral services were begun by many members of the Anglican ministry from different parts of the diocese were in attendance. Owing to his having been ill His Lordship's Bishop Richardson was unable to attend, much to his regret, but he was represented by Venerable Archdeacon Baymston.

Rev. Mr. Scoville conducted the services in the church and at the grave. Canon Neales of Sussex pronounced an eulogy on the worth of the late clergyman, speaking of his associations with him for many long years, and dwelling at length upon his admirable character, his worth as a man and as a minister, and also touching upon his services to the church and the esteem with which he was held by the clergymen and parishioners in general. At the close Rev. Dr. Raymond in a brief address, spoke on behalf of the bishop, making glowing and thoughtful references to Mr. Street.

The body was then taken to Cedar Hill where interment took place, six of the clergymen acting as pall-bearers. In the cortege were a great number of friends showing their esteem for him. All walks of life were represented. His two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Hovey and Mrs. Carrie Hovey, of Buxton, Mass., were in the city today for the funeral services.

Rev. Thomas Wye Street was the elder son of the late Rev. S. D. Los Street and was born in Woodstock, N. B., where his father was rector for many years. He graduated at the provincial university (then called Kings College) in 1881, took his M. A. degree some what later and the ecclesia in May last was awarded the degree of LL. D. honoris causa. Dr. Street was ordained deacon by the late Bishop Medley in 1885 and priest the next year, and was in the 28th year of his ministry. He was for some years engaged in educational work, first as principal of the St. Stephen's, he removed to Ontario, where he was for six years engaged in educational work, first as principal of the Niagara Falls Grammar school. He then went to the United States and served as military chaplain during a part of the civil war, returning to New Brunswick, he for some years taught the Grammar school at Richford. He again took up active work in the ministry in 1898 as rector of Bathurst. He became sub-dean of the Cathedral at Fredericton in 1902, and after ten years' service was compelled by advancing years to retire. He had lately lived at West St. John, his wife's former home. Dr. Street was a man of scholarly attainments and fine penmanship. He was an eloquent preacher and diligent in his pastoral work. His nature was so kindly that his many friends would be provided for. A brother, Warwick W. Street, of San Francisco, is the only member of his family left here who now survives. The funeral of Mrs. Jane Brannan took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. George McDermott, in Sydney street. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. A. Armstrong and interment was in the Church of England cemetery.

CHANGES IN UNION DEPOT TALKED OF

News Stand Nearer Train Shed And Ticket Office to Take Its Place

It is believed that the department is planning a change in the arrangement of the interior of the Union Depot whereby greater accommodation would be provided in the public waiting room, this being brought about by the removal of the passenger ticket office from its central position. It would be changed to where the Canadian News depot is now located, and this would be removed farther towards the train shed, being placed probably in the hallway opposite the coachman's stand. Just when these changes will take place is not definitely known, but it is believed that they will materialize.

The location of the ticket office in the centre of the inner depot, it is believed, could be improved upon, as there is sometimes a blockade when there is a heavy rush of travel. It is also regarded as being too small for present conditions and for this reason the larger quarters where the news depot now stands, are sought.

Considerable improvement would be made where it is proposed to remove the news company's stand in the way of heating, lighting, etc., and it is believed the arrangement would work satisfactorily. There has been considerable work of adding touches of improvement about the interior of the depot during the last week.
