

In conclusion, let us quote the emphatic words of our esteemed friends of the Society for Promoting the Due Observance of the Lord's Day in England, and appropriate them:—

"Let us press forward. It does not become us to be weary of well-doing. Even though we be weary, we must press forward, 'faint but pursuing.' Yet a little while and the Son of Man, who is 'Lord even of the Sabbath Day,' shall come in His glory and inaugurate for the eternal consolation of His people the true Sunday—even the Sabbath, keeping which remains to the people of God."
