

IN PULPIT AND PEW

METHODIST

Rev. J. J. Cotter of Fredericton, has collected large sums for the Belgian Relief Fund. His youthful spirit still sustains him in his efforts to do good. The Official Board of the Woodstock Church has expressed its high appreciation of the valuable services of its pastor, Rev. S. Howard, B. D., and asked him to remain with them another year.

Rev. Lieut. H. Tomkinson, who recently joined the 145th Battalion, at Moncton, has been taken ill with muscular rheumatism and will be unable to resume his military duties. The Canon, N. E. Quarterly Board on hearing of his possible discharge, sent him an unanimous invitation to resume his pastorate and complete his fourth year there.

Since leaving college Rev. W. S. Godfrey has accepted the position of Y. M. C. A. military secretary with the 145th Battalion. In this capacity his duties are to look after the social, physical and spiritual development of the soldiers. He recently received an unanimous invitation to Tabernacle Mission.

Dr. Braine of Chester, N. S., son of Mr. A. T. Braine, of Hantsport, has volunteered for medical service in the Imperial Army and is now on his way to report at headquarters, London, England.

Rev. Dr. Gowen, preaching in Winnipeg, said he recruiting: "Before the war Canada was fast becoming a nation of mammon worshippers. The multitudes were losing their perception of God. We were losing faith in all things which pertain to national greatness. To be carnally minded, is death. Weighed in the balance and found wanting was true of us a few months ago, but we now are enabled to say: 'Thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress.' Pain and sorrow deepen and strengthen man's moral nature. Men need a disciplinary process to break up the crust of materialism and bring forth the latent nobility and nobility of character. Canada, with all the added calls upon it, including a drain upon her very heart's blood, has much cause for rejoicing that she has been given the largeness to stand forth and shoulder her burdens when so much depended on her."

The H. E. S., meaning Home Economic Society or Woman's Institute, is doing an important work in making a better Manitoba. Dr. Creighton of Toronto says: "The real tragedy of the war is teaching us great lessons in the value of things. A spectator at a military parade the other day was grieving over the sight of hundreds of young men in the very prime and hey-day of life being gathered together, to make mere food for war, but he was soon corrected by companions and given another point of view which emphasizes and directs us to what should be the lesson of an unforgettable one. The sight of men giving themselves up at a time like this to save and safeguard all that we hold dear in the life of nations and peoples is not the tragic sight; to see men to whom these things are mere names, for which they will do and give nothing, that is the real tragedy among us. The saddest sight that can be seen in this Canada of ours today is that of hundreds of young men going about their sports and pleasures just as usual, as if all those best and highest things for which their fathers have struggled throughout many centuries were not in the direct peril and jeopardy."

Mr. A. T. Braine, of Hantsport, has volunteered for medical service in the Imperial Army and is now on his way to report at headquarters, London, England.

Rev. Dr. Gowen, preaching in Winnipeg, said he recruiting: "Before the war Canada was fast becoming a nation of mammon worshippers. The multitudes were losing their perception of God. We were losing faith in all things which pertain to national greatness. To be carnally minded, is death. Weighed in the balance and found wanting was true of us a few months ago, but we now are enabled to say: 'Thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress.' Pain and sorrow deepen and strengthen man's moral nature. Men need a disciplinary process to break up the crust of materialism and bring forth the latent nobility and nobility of character. Canada, with all the added calls upon it, including a drain upon her very heart's blood, has much cause for rejoicing that she has been given the largeness to stand forth and shoulder her burdens when so much depended on her."

The H. E. S., meaning Home Economic Society or Woman's Institute, is doing an important work in making a better Manitoba. Dr. Creighton of Toronto says: "The real tragedy of the war is teaching us great lessons in the value of things. A spectator at a military parade the other day was grieving over the sight of hundreds of young men in the very prime and hey-day of life being gathered together, to make mere food for war, but he was soon corrected by companions and given another point of view which emphasizes and directs us to what should be the lesson of an unforgettable one. The sight of men giving themselves up at a time like this to save and safeguard all that we hold dear in the life of nations and peoples is not the tragic sight; to see men to whom these things are mere names, for which they will do and give nothing, that is the real tragedy among us. The saddest sight that can be seen in this Canada of ours today is that of hundreds of young men going about their sports and pleasures just as usual, as if all those best and highest things for which their fathers have struggled throughout many centuries were not in the direct peril and jeopardy."

Mr. A. T. Braine, of Hantsport, has volunteered for medical service in the Imperial Army and is now on his way to report at headquarters, London, England.

Rev. Dr. Gowen, preaching in Winnipeg, said he recruiting: "Before the war Canada was fast becoming a nation of mammon worshippers. The multitudes were losing their perception of God. We were losing faith in all things which pertain to national greatness. To be carnally minded, is death. Weighed in the balance and found wanting was true of us a few months ago, but we now are enabled to say: 'Thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress.' Pain and sorrow deepen and strengthen man's moral nature. Men need a disciplinary process to break up the crust of materialism and bring forth the latent nobility and nobility of character. Canada, with all the added calls upon it, including a drain upon her very heart's blood, has much cause for rejoicing that she has been given the largeness to stand forth and shoulder her burdens when so much depended on her."

The H. E. S., meaning Home Economic Society or Woman's Institute, is doing an important work in making a better Manitoba. Dr. Creighton of Toronto says: "The real tragedy of the war is teaching us great lessons in the value of things. A spectator at a military parade the other day was grieving over the sight of hundreds of young men in the very prime and hey-day of life being gathered together, to make mere food for war, but he was soon corrected by companions and given another point of view which emphasizes and directs us to what should be the lesson of an unforgettable one. The sight of men giving themselves up at a time like this to save and safeguard all that we hold dear in the life of nations and peoples is not the tragic sight; to see men to whom these things are mere names, for which they will do and give nothing, that is the real tragedy among us. The saddest sight that can be seen in this Canada of ours today is that of hundreds of young men going about their sports and pleasures just as usual, as if all those best and highest things for which their fathers have struggled throughout many centuries were not in the direct peril and jeopardy."

Mr. A. T. Braine, of Hantsport, has volunteered for medical service in the Imperial Army and is now on his way to report at headquarters, London, England.

Rev. Dr. Gowen, preaching in Winnipeg, said he recruiting: "Before the war Canada was fast becoming a nation of mammon worshippers. The multitudes were losing their perception of God. We were losing faith in all things which pertain to national greatness. To be carnally minded, is death. Weighed in the balance and found wanting was true of us a few months ago, but we now are enabled to say: 'Thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress.' Pain and sorrow deepen and strengthen man's moral nature. Men need a disciplinary process to break up the crust of materialism and bring forth the latent nobility and nobility of character. Canada, with all the added calls upon it, including a drain upon her very heart's blood, has much cause for rejoicing that she has been given the largeness to stand forth and shoulder her burdens when so much depended on her."

The H. E. S., meaning Home Economic Society or Woman's Institute, is doing an important work in making a better Manitoba. Dr. Creighton of Toronto says: "The real tragedy of the war is teaching us great lessons in the value of things. A spectator at a military parade the other day was grieving over the sight of hundreds of young men in the very prime and hey-day of life being gathered together, to make mere food for war, but he was soon corrected by companions and given another point of view which emphasizes and directs us to what should be the lesson of an unforgettable one. The sight of men giving themselves up at a time like this to save and safeguard all that we hold dear in the life of nations and peoples is not the tragic sight; to see men to whom these things are mere names, for which they will do and give nothing, that is the real tragedy among us. The saddest sight that can be seen in this Canada of ours today is that of hundreds of young men going about their sports and pleasures just as usual, as if all those best and highest things for which their fathers have struggled throughout many centuries were not in the direct peril and jeopardy."

Mr. A. T. Braine, of Hantsport, has volunteered for medical service in the Imperial Army and is now on his way to report at headquarters, London, England.

Rev. Dr. Gowen, preaching in Winnipeg, said he recruiting: "Before the war Canada was fast becoming a nation of mammon worshippers. The multitudes were losing their perception of God. We were losing faith in all things which pertain to national greatness. To be carnally minded, is death. Weighed in the balance and found wanting was true of us a few months ago, but we now are enabled to say: 'Thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress.' Pain and sorrow deepen and strengthen man's moral nature. Men need a disciplinary process to break up the crust of materialism and bring forth the latent nobility and nobility of character. Canada, with all the added calls upon it, including a drain upon her very heart's blood, has much cause for rejoicing that she has been given the largeness to stand forth and shoulder her burdens when so much depended on her."

The H. E. S., meaning Home Economic Society or Woman's Institute, is doing an important work in making a better Manitoba. Dr. Creighton of Toronto says: "The real tragedy of the war is teaching us great lessons in the value of things. A spectator at a military parade the other day was grieving over the sight of hundreds of young men in the very prime and hey-day of life being gathered together, to make mere food for war, but he was soon corrected by companions and given another point of view which emphasizes and directs us to what should be the lesson of an unforgettable one. The sight of men giving themselves up at a time like this to save and safeguard all that we hold dear in the life of nations and peoples is not the tragic sight; to see men to whom these things are mere names, for which they will do and give nothing, that is the real tragedy among us. The saddest sight that can be seen in this Canada of ours today is that of hundreds of young men going about their sports and pleasures just as usual, as if all those best and highest things for which their fathers have struggled throughout many centuries were not in the direct peril and jeopardy."

Mr. A. T. Braine, of Hantsport, has volunteered for medical service in the Imperial Army and is now on his way to report at headquarters, London, England.

Rev. Dr. Gowen, preaching in Winnipeg, said he recruiting: "Before the war Canada was fast becoming a nation of mammon worshippers. The multitudes were losing their perception of God. We were losing faith in all things which pertain to national greatness. To be carnally minded, is death. Weighed in the balance and found wanting was true of us a few months ago, but we now are enabled to say: 'Thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress.' Pain and sorrow deepen and strengthen man's moral nature. Men need a disciplinary process to break up the crust of materialism and bring forth the latent nobility and nobility of character. Canada, with all the added calls upon it, including a drain upon her very heart's blood, has much cause for rejoicing that she has been given the largeness to stand forth and shoulder her burdens when so much depended on her."

The H. E. S., meaning Home Economic Society or Woman's Institute, is doing an important work in making a better Manitoba. Dr. Creighton of Toronto says: "The real tragedy of the war is teaching us great lessons in the value of things. A spectator at a military parade the other day was grieving over the sight of hundreds of young men in the very prime and hey-day of life being gathered together, to make mere food for war, but he was soon corrected by companions and given another point of view which emphasizes and directs us to what should be the lesson of an unforgettable one. The sight of men giving themselves up at a time like this to save and safeguard all that we hold dear in the life of nations and peoples is not the tragic sight; to see men to whom these things are mere names, for which they will do and give nothing, that is the real tragedy among us. The saddest sight that can be seen in this Canada of ours today is that of hundreds of young men going about their sports and pleasures just as usual, as if all those best and highest things for which their fathers have struggled throughout many centuries were not in the direct peril and jeopardy."

Mr. A. T. Braine, of Hantsport, has volunteered for medical service in the Imperial Army and is now on his way to report at headquarters, London, England.

Rev. Dr. Gowen, preaching in Winnipeg, said he recruiting: "Before the war Canada was fast becoming a nation of mammon worshippers. The multitudes were losing their perception of God. We were losing faith in all things which pertain to national greatness. To be carnally minded, is death. Weighed in the balance and found wanting was true of us a few months ago, but we now are enabled to say: 'Thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress.' Pain and sorrow deepen and strengthen man's moral nature. Men need a disciplinary process to break up the crust of materialism and bring forth the latent nobility and nobility of character. Canada, with all the added calls upon it, including a drain upon her very heart's blood, has much cause for rejoicing that she has been given the largeness to stand forth and shoulder her burdens when so much depended on her."

The H. E. S., meaning Home Economic Society or Woman's Institute, is doing an important work in making a better Manitoba. Dr. Creighton of Toronto says: "The real tragedy of the war is teaching us great lessons in the value of things. A spectator at a military parade the other day was grieving over the sight of hundreds of young men in the very prime and hey-day of life being gathered together, to make mere food for war, but he was soon corrected by companions and given another point of view which emphasizes and directs us to what should be the lesson of an unforgettable one. The sight of men giving themselves up at a time like this to save and safeguard all that we hold dear in the life of nations and peoples is not the tragic sight; to see men to whom these things are mere names, for which they will do and give nothing, that is the real tragedy among us. The saddest sight that can be seen in this Canada of ours today is that of hundreds of young men going about their sports and pleasures just as usual, as if all those best and highest things for which their fathers have struggled throughout many centuries were not in the direct peril and jeopardy."

BAPTIST

Rev. G. A. Lamson, of Moncton, is gradually improving. When President Cutten, of Acadia faces German "kultur" at the front, he will have back of him a company of cultured Acadia men. Eleven more students enlisted at a recent Wolfville meeting.

During the past year a new diocese of Christ was won in Utah by every ten members of Baptist churches, whereas in the country at large it was only one by every eighteen members.

On the Haka Baptist Mission field, Burma, there are no Christian girls, so the young fellows become engaged to heathen maidens with the understanding that there shall be no wedding until the girl becomes a Christian. One of the school teachers had to wait over two years but in the end was able to have a Christian wedding.

In this way a Christian community is slowly being built. Rev. Gordon Poter, son of President Poter of Purman University, on the eve of going to China as a missionary of the Southern Baptist Board, explains his purpose in the following language: "The Standard Oil Company has adopted the slogan, 'Standard Oil in every village in the Orient'; the American Tobacco Company is using the motto, 'A cigarette in the mouth of every person in China,' so I, as a unit of the church of Jesus Christ, have taken the watchword, 'Christianity and its teachings in every hamlet within the boundaries of the Chinese Republic.'"

The Board of Managers of the American Baptist Home Mission Society announce their decision to establish a Department of Evangelism in order to place the organized evangelistic activities of the denomination on a definite, substantial and effective basis. Repeatedly has the denomination laid upon this Society the respon-gibility of leadership in evangelistic endeavor, as again this year through the Northern Baptist Convention. This action is in harmony with the genius and purpose of the Society whose object, as stated in its original constitution, is, "To promote the preaching of the Gospel in North America."

Scottish Baptist Year Book. From the pages of this handbook, we learn that there are 138 churches in the Union, having a total membership of 20,537. The baptisms last year numbered 727. Since the outbreak of the war 2,288 men are reported as having entered the National service, the church at Peterborough being credited with sending 160. The Annual Report of the Council says in conclusion: "Notwithstanding this weakening of its strength, the work of the churches has been well maintained. On the whole the returns, considering the abnormal conditions, are not discouraging. They show that the work of the churches is being maintained, and this is no doubt largely due to the increasing service of the women of the churches, as they are already engaged in so many forms of public service in the time of the Church and Nation's need."

Among all the ministers in the State there is none so universally respected and beloved as Dr. T. E. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

Dr. Vassar, who is now living in Elizabeth. Although a nonconformist, he still gladly responds to calls for service when he is able. A rather unusual experience is soon to be his. The First church, Lynn, Massachusetts, celebrates during its 100th anniversary, and has asked Dr. Vassar to deliver the centennial sermon. The remarkable thing about this is that just fifty years ago he delivered the jubilee sermon in the same church as its pastor. Of the present membership of 600 there are but four living who heard the sermon half a century ago, two of whom are non-residents.

garded as the general sentiment of your municipality. I will also be pleased to have you bring with you any persons who take an interest in the subject and whose counsel and advice will be of benefit.

Sir Herbert Ames is expected to be present at this meeting.

Yours truly,
JOSIAH WOOD,
Lieutenant-Governor.

Sir H. B. Ames, M. P., Montreal, honorary secretary of the Patriotic Fund organization for the Dominion, will attend this meeting at Fredericton, and will fully explain the present conditions of affairs and the need of more money. Sir Herbert will arrive at Fredericton on next Thursday, and is expected to address the Legislature in the evening. The other meeting will be held on Friday afternoon.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Ellen Coughlan.

The death of Mrs. Ellen Coughlan took place Thursday evening at 288 Germain street. She was the wife of Michael Coughlan and leaves two daughters, Mrs. J. Porter and Mrs. Bridget Sprague. Mrs. Hannah Curran and Mrs. Honora Kirkpatrick of Boston are sisters.

Miss Winnifred Montgomery.

The death took place yesterday morning after a long illness, of Miss Winnifred Montgomery, DeMonts St., Lancaster. Miss Montgomery, who was only 30 years of age, had a large circle of friends, and will regret to hear of her death. Besides her parents, she is survived by three brothers and a sister. One brother, Lewis, is overseas with the 26th Battalion. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon.

Sisters Die Together.

Inseparable in death as they had been through their long lives, two sisters—Mrs. Margaret Wasson and Miss Elizabeth McAnulty—passed away Thursday, following a short illness from pneumonia, at the home of Mrs. Wasson's daughter, Mrs. B. R. Palmer, Tennant's Cove, Kings county. Mrs. Wasson was seventy-nine years of age and Miss McAnulty was seventy-seven. Both were life-long residents of Hampstead, Queens county, where they enjoyed the highest respect and esteem of the entire community.

Mrs. Wasson is survived by two daughters, Mrs. B. R. Wallace of Fredericton and Mrs. B. R. Palmer of Tennant's Cove, and two sons, Charles of St. John and Edward, residing in the United States.

The bodies were taken to their old home and the funeral will be held from the church in Central Hampstead on Sunday.

AMHERST DEPRIVED OF ITS MILK SUPPLY BY SNOW STORM

Amherst, N. S., March 23.—The worst snow storm for many years has been raging in Amherst since early last night, accompanied by heavy winds. All traffic to the town has been suspended and milk men have found it impossible to reach the town. Schools were closed for the day and a number of the 85th men who have been doing recruiting duty in the outstations near Amherst found it impossible to get in. The only trains reached here today was the local No. 18 from St. John which stays here until the line is clear and the Maritime express No. 4 from the north which was 9 hours late. No west bound train has reached Amherst, the Ocean Limited and C. P. R. combined, No. 199, westbound, is stuck in the snow near Londonderry and is now over 12 hours late. The line will not be clear until midnight.

FUNERALS.

Many citizens paid a last tribute yesterday morning to Joseph Harold McGoldrick, whose funeral took place at 8.30 from his late residence, 178 Rookland Road to Holy Trinity church where high mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. J. Walsh. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery. The funeral cortege was very long, and the pall-bearers were Dr. David Mullin, W. J. Cotter, David Colgan, Maurice Lundy, Arthur Murphy and Vincent Shea. Among the floral tributes were a wreath from A. R. Clarke & Son, wreath from Mrs. J. Walsh, sheaf, Miss J. Cotter; sheaf, J. J. McGoldrick; wreath, George Waring; crescent, Patrick Joyce; wreath, Dr. and Mrs. Mullin; sheaf, Mr. and

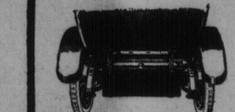

MORE POWER—a big 3 1/4 inch bore x 5-inch stroke motor that develops FORTY Horse Power—the most POWERFUL 4-cylinder car at the price.

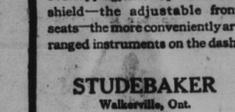

MORE ROOM—plenty for SEVEN full-grown people to ride in comfort—more room for driver and more in tonneau—DIVIDED and adjustable front seats.

MORE CARE—luxurious in its finish and graceful in its long, smooth, flowing lines—finest straight-grain, semi-glazed leather upholstery.

Many NEW Conveniences—such as the gas tank removed from the cowl to the rear of the chassis—Stewart Vacuum Feed System—the new design, overlapping, storm-proof windshield—the adjustable front seats—the more conveniently arranged instruments on the dash.

STUDEBAKER
Walkerville, Ont.

Studebaker

SERIES 17 FOUR

Forty horse power $1225
Seven Passenger

—the biggest VALUE on the 1916 market

Without a single exception, this new SERIES 17 Studebaker 4-cylinder car at $1225 is the biggest value on the 1916 market at this price. Dollar for dollar it gives more actual value than any other 4-cylinder model we know.

No other Four at its price has so much power. No other Four at its price has so much room. No other Four at its price offers such conveniences and comforts. And no car at any price offers more basic quality of materials, more soundness of design or more perfection of finish. It's a "Made in Canada" car that you can depend on from the start anywhere at any time. Come in and see this new Studebaker before you decide on any car.

Four Cylinder Models	Six Cylinder Models
Touring Car, 7-passenger - - $1225	Touring Car, 7-passenger - - $1450
Roadster, 3-passenger - - - 1200	Roadster, 3-passenger - - - 1425
Landau-Roadster, 3-pass. - - 1500	Landau-Roadster, 3-pass. - - 1700

F. O. B. Walkerville

J. Clark & Son, Ltd., and The Lounsbury Co., Ltd.,
Distributors for New Brunswick.
J. CLARK & SON, Ltd. E. P. DYKEMAN,
St. John Dealers. Local Manager.

Mrs. John Elmore; sheaf, Mrs. and McArthur; sheaf, Mrs. Richard Sullivan; sheaf, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. van; wreath, Messrs. Sinclair & MacPetersen.

Painted with MARTIN-SENOUR "100% Pure" Paint

LIFE INSURANCE FOR YOUR HOUSE

Unpainted wood means decay. Not to paint your house, means a constant expense for repairs. Paint protects against wear and weather. When you take out our "100% Pure Polylex", your house is insured against decay. Both paint protection resists the destructive effects of climate and temperature, besides adding beauty and distinction to the home and value to your whole property.

MARTIN-SENOUR "100% PURE" PAINT means life insurance for your home. The genuine White Lead, Oxide of Zinc, Pure Colors and Linseed Oil—ground to extreme fineness by powerful machinery—form a combination that protects against decay. "100% Pure" Paint makes protection sure. It spreads easily, covers completely and is the cheapest in the end because it covers more square feet per gallon. In all colors for spring painting.

Write for a copy of our amazing book, "The House That Jack Built". It's full of pictures, rhymes and riddles, that you will enjoy as well as the children. We'll also give you the name of our nearest dealer-agent.

ADDRESS ALL ENQUIRIES TO The MARTIN-SENOUR Co.
LIMITED
655 DROLET STREET, MONTREAL.

HOTELS.

"THE PRINCE WILLIAM"
One of St. John's first class hotels transient and permanent guests since William Street.

ROYAL HOTEL
King Street,
St. John's Leading Hotel.
AYMOND & DOHERTY CO., LTD.
T. E. Reynolds, Manager.

VICTORIA HOTEL
Better Now Than Ever.
47 KING ST., ST. JOHN, N. B.
ST. JOHN HOTEL CO., LTD.
Proprietors.
A. M. PHILLIPS, Manager.

HOTEL DUFFERIN
FOSTER & COMPANY, Proprietors,
King Square, St. John, N. B.
J. T. DUNLOP, Manager.

WINES AND LIQUORS.

RICHARD SULLIVAN & CO.
Established 1878.
Wholesale Wine and Spirit Merchants, Agents for
"CAKIE'S" WHITE HORSE BLEND
SCOTCH WHISKY,
LAWSON'S LIQUEUR, SCOTCH
WHISKY,
SIMPSON'S HOUSE OF LORDS
SCOTCH WHISKY,
KING GEORGE IV. SCOTCH
WHISKY.
ATK'S HEAD BASS ALE.
PARIST MILWAUKEE LAGER BEER,
GEORGE SAYER COGNAC
BRANDIES.
Bonded Store, 44-46 Dock Street,
Phone 533.

WHOLESALE LIQUORS.

WILLIAM L. WILLIAMS successors to M. A. Finn, Wholesale and Retail Wine and Spirit Merchants, 110 and 112 Prince William St. Established
1870. Write for family price list.

M. & T. MCGUIRE.
Direct Importers and Dealers in all the leading brands of Wines and Liquors; we also carry in stock from the best houses in Canada, very Old Rye, Wines, Ales and Stout, Imported and Domestic Cigars.
11 and 15 WATER STREET.
Telephone 578.

ELEVATORS

We manufacture Electric Freight, Passenger, Hand Power, Dumb Waiters, etc.