COOLIE LABOR QUESTION CAUSES SHARP DEBATE IN DOMINION LABOR CONGRESS

J. C. Watters and P. M. Draper Figure in Discussion Which Almost Precipitated Disturbance At Yesterday's Meeting in Quebec—Importation of Coolie Labor Roundly Condemned

Quebec, Sept. 17.—Hostilities which have been threatening the peace of the convention of the Trades and Labor Congress, since its opening broke out at this afternoon's session in Columbus Hall, when the critics of the officers came out into the open with a formal complaint which precipitated a disturbance. The congress was discussing a motion, condemning the introduction of Asiatic labor into mines in Canada, and a amendment by the resolution committee changing a recommendation "that a general strike be called throughout the Dominion if more of such labor were brought in," to one authorizing the executive council "to take all means in its power to resist further coolie immigration." A faction in the congress wanted the amendment defeated because of the recent success of sympathetic strikes. The amended resolution was forced through after thirty minutes of uproar.

A speech by Secretary Draper, who ruled that the congress had not the power to call a general strike, which was a matter that could be dealt with only by the international unions, drew from H. Cassidy, Montreal, a reference to President Watters' stand in connection with the western letter carriers' trouble recently. He said that as President Watters had deemed he had the power to disapprove of a general strike in this connection, perhaps he could find that he had the power to approve of a general strike over coolie labor.

Mr. Cassidy also remarked that officers of labor organizations had forbidden strikes and contended that "some of them were too keenly tender over the treasury, which was the guarantee of their future salaries."

He also referred to labor officials as "per capita tax spenders."

An Attempt At Closure.

President Watters immediately vacated the chair and asked for permission to defend his attitude in reference to the letter carriers, and when given permission pointed out that he had only concurred in the stand taken by the Ottawa delegates of the letter carriers themselves.

Mr. Draper then rose to make a statement of his part in the letter carriers' trouble, and Delegate Midgeley, of Vancouver, moved the previous question.

Mr. Draper said he intended to make his statement, and one delegate pointed out that he had not secured the necessary permission from congress.

Acting Chairman Martel, of Montreal, said he had allowed Mr. Draper to speak and his ruling was challenged, and sustained amidst much cheering. Somebody in the convention called out: "Let's walk out," but the advice was disregarded.

Mr. Draper then said that the actions of both Mr. Watters and himself were being misconstrued. He protested against the action of some delegates in electing them as officers for the purpose of abusing them and skinning them to the bone.

Mr. Draper was loudly applauded as he sat down, and immediately there were conflicting cries of "letter carriers' delegates" and "previous questions." It was explained by Mr. Watters that the letter carriers would have a specific opportunity to state their case later.

When order was restored, Mr. Martel called for a vote on the committee's recommendation. He was reminded that an amendment which asked for an assessment on all unions to raise funds to support any local striking on account of the importation of coolie labor, had not been disposed of. A delegate shouted: "Shake yourself!" to the acting chairman.

Mr. Draper, as secretary of the meeting, rose to explain that "the amendment had not been pressed, and was at once greeted with cries of "sit down" and "shut up."

Mr. Draper said he had a plain right to clear up the confusion, and Mr. Cassidy said: "You're a pope." To which Mr. Draper said: "I am not, but I'd make a better pope than you would."

Mr. Draper having made his explanation in English, was proceeding to translate what he had said into French when Mr. Cassidy rose to speak. Mr. Draper retorted: "I have the floor and I have this advantage over Mr. Cassidy. I can speak French and he cannot."

The congress refused to listen to Mr. Cassidy and insistently yelled, "sit down" until he obeyed. When the explanation in French had been made Mr. Cassidy bobbed up again and said: "I wanted to move that Mr. Watters should take the chair." Mr. Martel promptly seconded the motion and vacated the chair. The motion as amended by the resolution committee was then formally voted on and accepted.

A Nova Scotia Matter.

The motion, which came up to the congress from the Glace Bay local of the Amalgamated Mine Workers of Nova Scotia and as accepted, recorded that he representatives of the federal government are always broaching the question of the introduction of coolie labor into coal mines, and stated that the men working in the coal mines cannot be employed and are not fully employed and for the past two years have never got out a normal day's work because of the lack of equipment. It adds that the local is absolutely opposed to the introduction of coolie labor because of its cheapness and the pernicious competition that such labor would let loose among the workers in the country. It urged the congress to place itself on record on the question and use all means in its power to resist further introduction of Asiatic labor.

Prior to the disturbances there had been a number of speeches against the importation of coolie labor. David Rees, Vancouver, after contending that Hon. F. B. Carvell, Min-

EXPERT ON MURDER MYSTERIES KILLED WIFE, THEN CONFESSED

City Editor of New York Evening World, Famed
For Skill in Solving Abstruse Criminal Cases, Becomes Principal in Shocking Tragedy.

New York, Sept. 17.—Charles E. Chapin, city editor of the New York Evening World, famous for the skill with which he directed his reporters in the solution of murder mysteries, today in a police station told the story of how he killed his own wife. Chapin yesterday shot and killed her in their apartment in the Hotel Cumberland and today surrendered himself to the police after failing to carry out plans to end his own life. Smoking a cigar and continually pressing his hands to his head, he said he had been driven to the deed through desperation caused by the demands of his creditors.

Approach of a policeman, the editor declared, prevented his suicide in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, where he went after shooting his wife.

Chapin asserted that he committed the murder immediately upon arising yesterday morning. While his wife slept, he said he tried first to shoot her with a magazine revolver, but it failed to discharge. He then brought out a police pistol that had been presented him by former police commissioner Waldo, and fired the fatal shot. After breakfast and a shave, the editor continued, he went to the park, where he had planned to carry out the second phase of his tragedy. He wandered about throughout the day and night, he declared, and this morning reading newspaper accounts of his wife's death and his disappearance, gave himself up.

Chapin, who is 53 years of age, asserted that he intended to commit suicide four years ago, but put it off with the hope that he would be able to meet his obligations. Having lost in speculation, he said, he had borrowed money from friends who were constantly pressing him for payment. District Attorney Swann, who later talked with Chapin, said he believed the editor was mentally deranged.

Chapin, arraigned on a police affidavit, charging suspicion of homicide, pleaded not guilty and waived exemption.

for a few handfuls of rice a day they were being sent against the Russian workmen.

H. G. Foster, Hamilton, said the purpose in importing Asiatics was to have a large supply of cheap labor at the command of the capitalists during the chaotic period following the end of the war when ordinary immigration would be stagnant.

Robert Baxter, Louisburg, N. S., said there was no necessity for coolie labor in Nova Scotia because there was at Glace Bay a coal bank of 170,000 tons, and it was a question whether it could be moved before navigation closed.

Mr. Cassidy, in the course of a speech he made to the original motion, suggested amidst signs of disapproval that some of the Celestials could be organized. He reminded the congress that the Chinese were our allies and were building ships for the United States. He also stated that

WEDDINGS.

Bettie Reid.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 11th, at 4 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Colpitts W. Kaye, Sussex, when Miss Dorothy G. Reid was united in marriage to Mr. Adolphus B. Bettie, of Passakeag. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. V. Morash of halmers Presbyterian church, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The house was tastefully decorated with flags, bunting and cut flowers. The bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. Alexander Reid, to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Mary Stackhouse, of St. John, cousin of the bride.

The bride was dressed in white silk crepe de chene with bridal veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and maiden hair fern. After congratulations the guests repaired to the dining room, where a wartime tea was served.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold pendant set with pearls. Many useful presents were received including cut glass, silver, china, linen, furniture, cheques and cash, testifying to the high esteem in which the young couple are held by their friends. The groom is one of the gallant soldiers of the "Fighting 26th," having been wounded in the battle of Ypres and later discharged.

Mr. and Mrs. Bettie left by auto for their future home in Passakeag. The bride's travelling suit was of blue serge, with grey velvet hat and coon furs.

OBITUARY.

Dr. E. D. Berton.

George K. Berton has received news of the death of his youngest brother, Dr. Edwin Denny Berton, a well known London physician. A son of the late William Berton, the deceased was born in St. John 68 years ago, received his early education at Thomas Lee's private school and then went to King's College, Windsor, afterwards taking a medical course in Edinburgh. After graduating he settled in London and has ever since resided there, building up a large practice. About a year ago Dr. Berton gave up practice on account of ill health and established himself at a large estate at Brighton, where he has since resided. He is survived by his wife, formerly an Irish lady, one son, Cecil, and a daughter, who is the wife of Hildebrand Hemsworth, youngest brother of Lord Northcliffe. A sister is Mrs. J. Lewis, also resident in London, the wife of a former Bank of B. N. A. manager in this city.

Olive Mullaly.

Relatives in St. John have learned with regret of the death of Olive Mullaly, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Mullaly, of Attleboro, Mass. She was about ten years of age, and death came after only a few days' illness of pneumonia. Mr. Mullaly was a former resident of West St. John, and is now proprietor of a drug business in Attleboro.

Mrs. Ella Coyle.

The death of Mrs. Ella Coyle occurred at the St. John County Hospital yesterday morning after a lingering illness. Recently her husband, the Honorable Coyle, was reported missing in the war. Mrs. Coyle leaves one son and one daughter. The funeral will take place on Wednesday from the Marsh Road Mission.

Sarah H. Knight.

News has been received of the death of Sarah H. Knight, on September 5 of Mrs. Sarah H. Knight, widow of Richard N. Knight, formerly a well known druggist and prominent Carleton resident. After the death of her husband Mrs. Knight went west to be with her children and has made her home on the Pacific coast for some years. She is survived by one son Frank H. Knight, of San Diego and two daughters, Mary E. also resident in San Diego, and Mrs. W. E. Atwell, at Calico, California. Mrs. Knight was a Miss Harrison, of Sunbury county, a sister of the late Chancellor Harrison of the University of New Brunswick, and an aunt of His Honor Chief Justice McKeown.
