ey to second it; after which the motion was supported by riev. Aaron Cogswell. The speeches were earnest and appropriate. True introduced for a former and a most sparting of A.

The motion being put to the meeting passed unanimously. Collections were then taken, and subscriptions paid and pledged towards the funds of the Society.

Meeting was closed by singing and prayer.

Perhaps we ought to remark that the evening was very stormy, preventing many from attending wee were interest, ed in the Society; yet all things considered the a tendance was good, and the meeting a success. Although, no doubt, the subscriptions and collection were far less than would have been if the evening had been fine, some and safe some north
