

A GLIMPSE OF THE TORONTO FAIR BY A TELEGRAPH REPRESENTATIVE

New Brunswickers Have Something to Learn About Agricultural Methods--British Tars Not Up to Canadian Standard Physically--Ours the Hardy Race--A Well-Organized Exhibition.

(By Charles H. McIntyre.) Toronto, Aug. 31--Sited upon the shore of Lake Ontario and comprising some 200 acres of land, the general location of the National Exhibition could hardly be improved. For twenty-seven years this exhibition has been held annually with success. Today its equipment, land and buildings are probably worth $1,500,000, and yet further plans have already been measured.

The property of this institution is owned by the city of Toronto, but it is managed by a board of twenty-five directors who are chosen from the city council, board of trade, Press Association and kindred bodies. The only paid official among them is Dr. Dry, the secretary and manager. All the others are public spirited citizens who have cheerfully given of their time and ability for the benefit of their city and province. Some of them have been on the board nearly twenty years, and during several months of the year they have been willing to spend a portion of each day in devising ways and means for the promotion of the great annual fair. The term "National" is applied to the fair may perhaps be a trifle ambitious, but after examining the varied products shown on its grounds, I am satisfied that it measures up to that quality more fully than any other annual exhibition in Canada. Nearly all the exhibitors come from the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, because these contain the most highly organized branches of industry and agriculture.

George, aged four months, son of Joseph Hobert, died Thursday after a short illness. The funeral was held Friday, Sept. 5, at St. Michael's cemetery.

Cal Burbridge met with a very painful accident Saturday afternoon. As he was getting out of a wagon his foot slipped and the horse started, and both the front and back wheel of the vehicle passed over his left arm, dislocating it at the elbow.

The visit of the British squadron to Canada proved to be a very happy coincidence with the opening date. Prince Louis of Battenberg came down from Quebec and pressed the button which set the machinery in motion. He and his detachment of 300 blue jackets were royally received and there is no doubt that their presence added very much to the initial success of the fair.

Prince Louis is a man of medium size with a heavy black beard and moustache. In general appearance he is of course not so handsome as the Emperor, but he is a kindly officer and takes a kindly interest in the Exhibition. He is but one of many foreigners who have in years gone by taken service in the British army. In fact the lives of these petty foreign princes must often be filled with ennui, and it is no wonder that they sigh for adventure and excitement with the world. He evidently possesses considerable tact and his visit to central Canada will make the people much better acquainted with John Bull and his navy.

Below Our Standard. During the evolutions and performances of the blue jackets with their guns, I observed carefully their physique. Most of them are young fellows about twenty-one or two. Their training and life no doubt causes them to look like the men, but as a whole I do not believe that they are up to the average body of young Canadians large or big-boned and probably not as strong and sinewy. Perhaps one is expecting too much in this regard. For while the class of men now joining the navy is much more intelligent and superior to those of former days, a great many are still recruited from the poorer and under-privileged classes of Great Britain. Comparative speaking, no such classes exist in Canada. Plenty of food and a cool climate must of necessity produce a hardy race.

And from my observations of the Americans and Britons I am inclined to think that Canada is raising up a people with a stronger and tougher fibre than either kindred. The Canadian has an individuality of his own. It is clearly distinguishable and will probably persist, no better set-up type of man can be found anywhere.

Through the courtesy of John A. Cooper, editor of the Canadian Magazine, I was invited to the directors' luncheon on children's day. Each day is set apart for a particular subject such as education, manufactures, the press, etc. Specialists in those lines are invited to be present and discuss different phases of the subject for that day. The children of the school are present in large numbers. Teachers, inspectors and members of the city school board all contributed their quota of suggestions, criticism and comment. The children of the city were admitted to the general grounds at five cents per head--a merely nominal charge--thus showing how widely the privileges of this great fair are extended. The impression left with a visitor is that the directors of the Toronto exhibition are a body of far-seeing men, keenly alive to the wants of their city and deeply imbued with the spirit of progress.

The Fair. It takes time for one to be impressed with the magnitude of the fair. On the grounds may be seen agricultural hall, transportation, machinery, stock, and demography buildings, beside ample accommodation for cattle, horses, sheep, pigs and poultry. An enormous grandstand faces out toward the lake, and Vanity Fair has a wealth and variety of performances that must make the farmer's head dizzy. At the head is an administration building, where the directors administer the great enterprise. A new art building has also been constructed this year. Here is housed the magnificent painting of King Edward's coronation, by Edwin Abbey. It cost the directors $5,000 to bring this painting over from England. In addition they have secured the loan of the Windsor and Corporation of Plate. All these things tend to cultivate an artistic taste among the people of a young country. All sorts of objects such as telegraph, telephone, press, railway and banking facilities have been included.

Points for New Brunswickers. The future, however, that most directly affect us is agriculture and manufactures. The progress of central Canada along these lines is truly wonderful. Our farmers in New Brunswick have something to learn from their brethren in Ontario. Agricultural pursuits are no doubt conducted under more favorable circumstances here, but their success is due mainly to more intelligent methods. The local government in Ontario is more keenly alive to the progress of farmers. It possesses more initiative and makes a more systematic study of local conditions than do our provincial governments by the sea. The people in turn have more confidence in their country and its future.

In manufactures this exhibition furnishes striking evidence that Canada will soon make about everything that a temperate climate can produce. From automobiles to shoes, from farm machinery to textile, she will soon reach the gamut of mechanical and industrial achievement. With her enormous water powers, her climate, energetic and sober workers, who shall place a limit to the growth of her buoyant and vigorous life?

Obituary. Chatham, Sept. 3--Thomas W. Flett, John A. Flett, Margaret J. Flett, Nelson, William J. Flett, Boston, and Charles F. Flett, Melrose (Mass.), are applying for incorporation as The Thomas W. Flett Lumber Co., Ltd., to take over and carry on the milling and lumbering business of Thomas W. Flett, Nelson, with a proposed stock capital of $35,000.

Miss Lottie Kane sold a dwelling house on Queen street a few days ago to John Connell, of Baribogue.

George, aged four months, son of Joseph Hobert, died Thursday after a short illness. The funeral was held Friday, Sept. 5, at St. Michael's cemetery.

Cal Burbridge met with a very painful accident Saturday afternoon. As he was getting out of a wagon his foot slipped and the horse started, and both the front and back wheel of the vehicle passed over his left arm, dislocating it at the elbow.

The visit of the British squadron to Canada proved to be a very happy coincidence with the opening date. Prince Louis of Battenberg came down from Quebec and pressed the button which set the machinery in motion. He and his detachment of 300 blue jackets were royally received and there is no doubt that their presence added very much to the initial success of the fair.

Below Our Standard. During the evolutions and performances of the blue jackets with their guns, I observed carefully their physique. Most of them are young fellows about twenty-one or two. Their training and life no doubt causes them to look like the men, but as a whole I do not believe that they are up to the average body of young Canadians large or big-boned and probably not as strong and sinewy. Perhaps one is expecting too much in this regard. For while the class of men now joining the navy is much more intelligent and superior to those of former days, a great many are still recruited from the poorer and under-privileged classes of Great Britain.

And from my observations of the Americans and Britons I am inclined to think that Canada is raising up a people with a stronger and tougher fibre than either kindred. The Canadian has an individuality of his own. It is clearly distinguishable and will probably persist, no better set-up type of man can be found anywhere.

Through the courtesy of John A. Cooper, editor of the Canadian Magazine, I was invited to the directors' luncheon on children's day. Each day is set apart for a particular subject such as education, manufactures, the press, etc. Specialists in those lines are invited to be present and discuss different phases of the subject for that day. The children of the school are present in large numbers. Teachers, inspectors and members of the city school board all contributed their quota of suggestions, criticism and comment. The children of the city were admitted to the general grounds at five cents per head--a merely nominal charge--thus showing how widely the privileges of this great fair are extended. The impression left with a visitor is that the directors of the Toronto exhibition are a body of far-seeing men, keenly alive to the wants of their city and deeply imbued with the spirit of progress.

The Fair. It takes time for one to be impressed with the magnitude of the fair. On the grounds may be seen agricultural hall, transportation, machinery, stock, and demography buildings, beside ample accommodation for cattle, horses, sheep, pigs and poultry. An enormous grandstand faces out toward the lake, and Vanity Fair has a wealth and variety of performances that must make the farmer's head dizzy. At the head is an administration building, where the directors administer the great enterprise. A new art building has also been constructed this year. Here is housed the magnificent painting of King Edward's coronation, by Edwin Abbey. It cost the directors $5,000 to bring this painting over from England. In addition they have secured the loan of the Windsor and Corporation of Plate. All these things tend to cultivate an artistic taste among the people of a young country. All sorts of objects such as telegraph, telephone, press, railway and banking facilities have been included.

Points for New Brunswickers. The future, however, that most directly affect us is agriculture and manufactures. The progress of central Canada along these lines is truly wonderful. Our farmers in New Brunswick have something to learn from their brethren in Ontario. Agricultural pursuits are no doubt conducted under more favorable circumstances here, but their success is due mainly to more intelligent methods. The local government in Ontario is more keenly alive to the progress of farmers. It possesses more initiative and makes a more systematic study of local conditions than do our provincial governments by the sea. The people in turn have more confidence in their country and its future.

In manufactures this exhibition furnishes striking evidence that Canada will soon make about everything that a temperate climate can produce. From automobiles to shoes, from farm machinery to textile, she will soon reach the gamut of mechanical and industrial achievement. With her enormous water powers, her climate, energetic and sober workers, who shall place a limit to the growth of her buoyant and vigorous life?

Obituary. Chatham, Sept. 3--Thomas W. Flett, John A. Flett, Margaret J. Flett, Nelson, William J. Flett, Boston, and Charles F. Flett, Melrose (Mass.), are applying for incorporation as The Thomas W. Flett Lumber Co., Ltd., to take over and carry on the milling and lumbering business of Thomas W. Flett, Nelson, with a proposed stock capital of $35,000.

ARM SHATTERED BY A GUNSHOT

Fredericton Lad While Taking Weapon from Canoe Was Badly Wounded. Prompt Action of Companion Likely Saved Young Coburn's Life--Rev. A. R. Robinson of Gibson Resigns Charge--Other News of the Capital.

Fredericton, Sept. 3--(Special)--The St. John yacht Zuleika arrived in port last night, with lumber, arrived at this port this noon, and Capt. John Kerrigan, in company with the consignee, went to the custom house at Plymouth to enter the vessel.

Here Capt. Kerrigan found himself in trouble, as the collector refused to enter his crew having been advised through the Boston custom house that the Comrade had sailed from St. John without the necessary health clearance certificate from the customs authorities.

Capt. Kerrigan thus finds himself up against a snag, for in addition to having violated a maritime law, he has himself liable to a heavy fine, as he cannot enter his vessel within the required time limit he will involuntarily again violate the law. His wife has been home since yesterday and is anxiously awaiting a reply.

At the custom house in Plymouth the officers were at a loss how best to proceed, as it was the first case of the kind in their jurisdiction.

The captain says it was from thoughtlessness on his part that in the hurry of sailing he forgot to take out the necessary health certificate, and that he did not think of it until he reached the custom house this afternoon and attempted to enter the vessel.

In the meantime the vessel is tied up at the wharf here with the skipper awaiting developments.

Hartland Happenings. Hartland, Aug. 31--Fire was discovered on Wednesday afternoon in the G. C. Watson building, Main street. Little damage was done, but C. W. Hurst, who occupies a part of the building, was in the excitement, and came by an attack of heart trouble, from which he has not yet recovered. For some time he has been suffering from a very serious condition.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Townsend and Harry Faulkner were guests of Mrs. J. W. Montgomery Sunday.

A. L. Baird has gone on a trip to Bangor, where his wife has been visiting for a couple of weeks past.

Harry McLaughlin, formerly teller in the Bank of Montreal here, was called on by some associates Monday. He has for some time been at Quebec, but is now to go to the Lehigh Valley, Pa.

Sayre's saw mill is shut down for a time on account of the strike being instituted by the mill hands through the water works. The strike is being very serious.

Mr. J. W. Montgomery will leave Monday, two weeks' visit at St. Andrews.

R. J. Potts, of Fredericton, was in the Woodstock, N. S., on Wednesday.

Warren Lindon and Miss Estey, of the village of Woodstock, has been in the city for the past few days.

The Hartland Drug Company is a new firm doing business at the corner of Main and Water streets. There was a picnic at Victoria Corner Wednesday afternoon, and were for the first time the first firm are still doing well.

W. D. Matheson, Woodstock, was here Wednesday.

J. L. Fewer, of Woodstock, has been in the city for the past few days.

SCHOONER FROM HERE GETS INTO TROUBLE

Comrade Neglected to Get Health Certificate Before Sailing. Captain Kerrigan is Held Up at Soltuete Customs, and One Trouble Leads to Another--Has Wired Here for Advice.

Fredericton, Sept. 3--(Special)--The St. John yacht Zuleika arrived in port last night, with lumber, arrived at this port this noon, and Capt. John Kerrigan, in company with the consignee, went to the custom house at Plymouth to enter the vessel.

Here Capt. Kerrigan found himself in trouble, as the collector refused to enter his crew having been advised through the Boston custom house that the Comrade had sailed from St. John without the necessary health clearance certificate from the customs authorities.

Capt. Kerrigan thus finds himself up against a snag, for in addition to having violated a maritime law, he has himself liable to a heavy fine, as he cannot enter his vessel within the required time limit he will involuntarily again violate the law. His wife has been home since yesterday and is anxiously awaiting a reply.

At the custom house in Plymouth the officers were at a loss how best to proceed, as it was the first case of the kind in their jurisdiction.

The captain says it was from thoughtlessness on his part that in the hurry of sailing he forgot to take out the necessary health certificate, and that he did not think of it until he reached the custom house this afternoon and attempted to enter the vessel.

In the meantime the vessel is tied up at the wharf here with the skipper awaiting developments.

Hartland Happenings. Hartland, Aug. 31--Fire was discovered on Wednesday afternoon in the G. C. Watson building, Main street. Little damage was done, but C. W. Hurst, who occupies a part of the building, was in the excitement, and came by an attack of heart trouble, from which he has not yet recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Townsend and Harry Faulkner were guests of Mrs. J. W. Montgomery Sunday.

A. L. Baird has gone on a trip to Bangor, where his wife has been visiting for a couple of weeks past.

Harry McLaughlin, formerly teller in the Bank of Montreal here, was called on by some associates Monday. He has for some time been at Quebec, but is now to go to the Lehigh Valley, Pa.

Sayre's saw mill is shut down for a time on account of the strike being instituted by the mill hands through the water works. The strike is being very serious.

Mr. J. W. Montgomery will leave Monday, two weeks' visit at St. Andrews.

R. J. Potts, of Fredericton, was in the Woodstock, N. S., on Wednesday.

Warren Lindon and Miss Estey, of the village of Woodstock, has been in the city for the past few days.

The Hartland Drug Company is a new firm doing business at the corner of Main and Water streets. There was a picnic at Victoria Corner Wednesday afternoon, and were for the first time the first firm are still doing well.

W. D. Matheson, Woodstock, was here Wednesday.

J. L. Fewer, of Woodstock, has been in the city for the past few days.

"M. R. A.'S. Unrivalled $10 Suit for Men." The BEST VALUE IN ALL CANADA Its Not a Poor Man's Suit, Either.

"UNRIVALLED" indeed, for as yet no make of clothing has approached in general excellence the TEN DOLLAR SUIT which we have been selling for years to delighted customers. As we have said before, the reputation of our establishment is wrapped up in every one of these suits. They are made expressly for us, and for no other house in this country. We dictate how they shall be made INSIDE, which is a fact worth remembering. Do not judge clothing by the fine pressing it has received. You are not confined to a limited range of cloths, colors or cuts in this suit, we can give you the best materials, every new shade, each up-to-date pattern. Single and double-breasted styles. Honest tailoring and shape-keeping guaranteed. Blues, Blacks, Greys, Browns and Mixtures. All one price. Sent to any address upon receipt of measurements. Physical deformities overcome, if necessary. Our $10 Suit is everybody's suit. Hundreds of St. John business men wear no other.

MANCHESTER ROBERTSON ALLISON, LIMITED ST. JOHN, N. B.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Higginbottom. Mrs. Higginbottom, wife of the traveling auditor of the Grand Trunk, died yesterday at the residence of her mother, Upper Sheffield, Sunbury county. She was well known in this city. Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons and one daughter, who reside in London (Ont.) Death came suddenly as a result of an attack of spinal-meningitis. Mr. Higginbottom is on a business trip to P. E. Island.

Mrs. David F. Morrill. Woodstock, N. B., Sept. 2--After a comparatively brief illness, Mrs. David F. Morrill died early this morning at the Turner House, where she made her home of late. She was the widow of the late D. F. Morrill, for many years and until his death collector of customs at this place. Deceased was the only daughter of the late James McCloy, who for a long time was head master of the Carleton county grammar school. Two children survive (Charles and Mrs. Marianne Brayley, of Montreal. Mrs. Brayley was with her mother the past few days, having been summoned from Montreal.

B. C. Wilson. Halifax, N. S., Sept. 2--(Special)--The body of B. C. Wilson, one of the oldest and most prominent residents of Halifax county, aged 73.

Sister of Mrs. P. Cassely. Yesterday morning, Mrs. Patrick Casseley, 83 Duke street, received a telegram announcing the death of her sister, Mrs. Wellington Kierstead, Eastport, (Me.), about 9 a. m. Deceased was seventy-eight years of age and had been ill two or three months.

In addition to her husband, three sons and several grandchildren, she is survived by another sister, Mrs. Thomas Kascadin, of Milltown, (Me.), and one brother, Joseph, in Red Beach, (Me.) There are no other relations in St. John.

James T. Wheeler. A well known lumber surveyor, of Fredericton, James T. Wheeler, died there last Friday aged 67 years. Deceased, for his age, was a very active man and an ardent sportsman. He was a member of the St. John's Golf and Country Club, and was a member of the St. John's Golf and Country Club, and was a member of the St. John's Golf and Country Club.

Mrs. J. A. McArthur. Sussex, N. B., Sept. 3--(Special)--Ann, wife of Alderman J. A. McArthur, passed peacefully to rest at 12.30 o'clock this morning after a lingering illness of heart trouble, aged 64 years. She was a daughter of the late Captain Ross of a husband and three children survive, two sons, W. T. and Herbert at home, and a daughter, Jessie, at home. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. James McLeod, of Sussex, and two brothers, Richard and John, in St. John, and James, of Studholm.

Miss Mary A. Macdonough. The death of Miss Mary A. Macdonough, aged 72 years, a native of St. John, took place at 153 Elliott Row Monday. She has no relatives in St. John, but Mrs. Hawkins of St. Martins, is a niece. The body will be taken to St. Martins today for burial.

Mrs. J. G. Somers daughter of William Harley, a prominent man on the North Shore, died in Toronto August 31. She was born in this province in 1828 and was a grand daughter of Capt. Archibald McLean, a loyalist, who for upwards of twenty years was a representative for York county in the local legislature.

Mrs. John Etobiching, Chapel Grove. The death of Maggie, the young wife of John Etobiching, Chapel Grove, occurred at noon Monday. Deceased was a daughter of William Timmons, of Peterborough, Ontario, and had been ill for a couple of months.

Funerals. W. B. McKenzie, of the I. C. R., passed through this city Monday morning accompanying to Nova Scotia for burial the body of his mother, whose death occurred recently in the State.

Blueberry Canning Factory Burned. Bangor, Me., Sept. 1--Fire Thursday night destroyed the blueberry canning factory of J. A. Coffin at Columbia Falls, and a tenement owned by J. A. Cradon, lost estimated at $12,000.

The Daily Telegraph GREAT PROVERB CONTEST $750 FREE TO READERS $750 50 PICTURES, representing 50 well-known Proverbs, will be published, one each day. Can you tell what familiar proverb each picture represents? 20 Grand Prizes Offered For the First Largest Number of Correct Answers A $350 BELL PIANO 2nd Prize, : : $100 GOLD WATCH 3rd Prize, $54 GLENWOOD RANGE ...No Money is Required... Contest is Free to all. Full particulars in every issue of The Daily Telegraph. Secure it from the newsdealer, or send postal for Free Sample Copy and try for a prize. Don't wait--act now. Address THE TELEGRAPH PUBLISHING CO. SAINT JOHN, N. B.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's CHLORODYNE THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE Colds Coughs Asthma Bronchitis CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered. CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Colds, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma. CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhoea, and is the only specific in Cholera, and Dysentery. CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms. CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c. Always ask for "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" and beware of spurious compounds or imitations. The genuine bears the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp of each bottle. Sold in bottles at 1/1 1/2, 2/9, and 4/6 each. Overwhelming Medical Testimony accompanies each bottle. Sole Manufacturers - J. T. DAVENPORT, LIMITED, LONDON Wholesale Agents - LYMAN BROS. & Co., Ltd. - Toronto. Canada's Population Now More Than 6,000,000. Immigration in twelve months... 128,391 Population July 1, 1903... 5,748,342 Natural increase in twelve months... 73,004 Immigration in twelve months... 130,321 Population July 1, 1904... 5,878,667 Natural increase in twelve months... 75,881 Immigration in twelve months... 146,292 Population July 1, 1905... 6,173,959 Increase in population since the census of 1901... 802,212 The foundation of the addition to the I. C. R. train shed is already laid. The men are now at work placing the blocks which are to support the pillars for the roof in place. There were eleven deaths in the city last week, from the following causes: Meningitis, pancer, pyaemia, pneumonia, cholera infantum, senile dementia, cerebral hemorrhage and gastro enteric infection, one each.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You've Always Bought Bears the Signature of