From Yesterday's Second Edition.

Special Telegram to the Tribune.

Mon. Mr. White's Successor in the Executive Council.

Philadelphia, Dec. 17.

James T. White, member for Victoria, was sworn in as a member of the Executive Council at eleven o'clock to-day.

Let's Opera House.

Mr. Lee will re-open his Opera House on Monday next. He has secured for the Christmas season an entirely new Company. Amongst the attractions a fine Christmas pantomime is promised.

Refusing to Admit the Police.

Policeman McLaren, the terror of violators of the liquor law, was passing along the north of King's Square Monday night, when he saw a light in a house at the corner of King's Square. He went and knocked on the shutter and door, and, in the name of the law, demanded admittance. He was refused and has entered a complaint.

City Police Court.

The eight occupants of the dock looked this morning when the Magistrate told them that if they did not pay their fines, they must take a ride across the facts. They were lastly a sober looking crowd, and answered to their names in a melancholy tone.

Jeremiah Spillane, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct in the County Market, was fined $5, or two months.

James Barry and James Orr, old offenders, had the same fine imposed on them for a like offence.

Michael Lynn and James Connors, the former drunk in North street, and the latter on King's Square, not being such hard cases, were made exceptions of and sent to goal for ten days in default of a $5 fine.

John Anshorough tried to save exposure by giving his name as McInnis, when arrested drunk in Drury Lane. The Magistrate saw through his game and told him not to come round there playing "bo-peep," but to go for two months to the penitentiary to ruminate on the falsehood he had told.

John McIlroy was released from goal by order of the Sessions, about a fortnight ago, where he was confined for a month. Last night, when arrested drunk in Carmichael street, he violently resisted the police, but to go for two months to the penitentiary to ruminate on the falsehood he had told.
