When the readers of THE CANADIAN are in possession of this number, many of them will be brightening up their uniform and buckling on their constitutional armor to do effective work in the interests of the C. M. B. A. The information arready given them may be of some service. Nothing imparted through these columns are one bit exaggerated. Many are in doubt at present, but they will be more than agree. ably surprised when they learn in time that only a fraction of this information has been given them. A few more pointers to our prospective visitors : It is not necessary to carry a French and English dictionary in your pocket. The only trouble you may have is to tell a French from an English speaking brother, and even when you hear his name mentioned you may still entertain a doubt as to his nationality. Don't tween the 19th and 25th of August will please address him to the Chateau Frontenac.

be afraid to speak English plainly; we can all understand it. Don't be in a hurry; there is only twenty-four hours in every day here. Don't be impatient; every electric car is run on time. Trains are scheduled to arrive and leave at certain hours. The city is very old, but you will find the people very much up to date. Even the habitants will get ahead of you if not careful. You have no excuse to stay away from Church. Everywhere you turn you will find one. No trouble to get in eitherlots of walks, lots of seats. Take a turn up and down Dufferin Terrace when you get angry; you will soon cool off. Don't be afraid of the police; they are quite harmless. If any readers should come here and is extremely anxious to test his vocal powers in the French tongues, let him go down one of the hills to St. Rochs; he will be accommodated. If you wish to get in condition for an Alphne outing or a climb up Skagaway paes take a few trips up our hills. There is more in store for you than you are aware of, and when you get back to your homes it will be with joyful remembrances of the many surprises you received in the Old Rock City; and in the years to come your mind, will revert to the good and hospitable people you have left behind. So, when you come, make yourself at home, for its only what the people of Quebec would wish you to do.

In closing, the brothers of this city wish to extend their hearty welcome to all, and will endeavor to make your stay as pleasant and agreeable as pos eible. Branch 10-
