

the articles.

That officer now states that the Tool Chest was burnt in a Government building at the Height of Land, where it was left by the Indians for safe keeping; and that as regards the axes he does not think the Band had been furnished with a sufficient number, and so supplied the deficiency this year.

I have to request that you will be good enough to report whether, in your opinion, a Tool Chest to replace the one burnt should be furnished by the Department.

I am, Sir,

Your Obedt Servant.
