

Monies from the Secretary, after the Evening's expense has been defrayed, a regular account of which he shall exhibit at the Annual Meeting in February, under a penalty of Fifteen Shillings; he shall preside in the absence of either the President or Vice-President.

Treasurer to account annually.
To preside in absence of the President or Vice-President

RULE IV.

THE President and Vice-President shall keep the strictest order in the Company during the time of Meeting: for which reason they shall not, on any occasion take a part, or give an opinion, on any question before them, unless specially requested. The Secretary to keep a Book, which shall be furnished at the expence of the Company, wherein he shall register all Proceedings, Resolutions, &c. &c. and shall also receive all Monies, and collect all Fines, and after paying the expense of the evening, shall pay the balance (if there should be any) into the hands of the Treasurer; he shall warn each Member of the time of Meeting, by leaving a printed Summons at his place of abode at least two days previous to the time of such Meeting, under a penalty of not less than Five Shillings, nor exceeding Twenty Shillings for neglect of such duty. He shall, with two Members, taken in rotation from the list, once in every quarter (and often-er if the President think fit) proceed to the house of each individual of this Company, and examine into the state of their Buckets, Bags, &c. &c. and shall report each defaulter at the next Meeting, under the penalty aforesaid: Any Member neglecting to give notice to the Secretary of his changing his residence, at least seven days before the next Quarterly Meeting, shall pay a fine of Two Shillings and Six pence.

Order.

Office of Secretary.

Time of summoning.

Inspection of Bags, Buckets &c.

Notice changing of residence.

RULE V.

EACH person on becoming a Member of this Society, shall pay into the hands of the Secretary, by the Member proposing him, the sum of Five Shillings: he shall provide himself, before the next quarterly meeting,

On a Member joining.
Articles each Member must provide.