BY MRS. HOWITT. I love the fields, the woods, the streams, The wild flowers fresh and sweet, And vet I love not less than these The crowded city-street For haunts of man, where'er they be, Awake my deepest sympathy.

I see within the city-street, Life's most extreme estates. The gorgeous domes of palaces; The prison's doleful gates: The hearths by household virtues blest, The dens that are the serpent's nest.

I see the rich man proudly fed, And richly clothed, pass by; I see the shivering, homeless wretch, With hunger in his eye; For life's severest contrasts meet For ever in the city-street!

And lofty, princely palaces. What dreary deeds of woe, What untold, mortal agonies Their arras chambers know! Yet is without all smooth and fair. As heaven's blue dome of summer air !

And even the portliest citizen Within his doors doth hide Some household grief, some secret care From all the world beside: It ever was, it must be so, For human heritage is woe!

Hence is it that a city-street Can deepest thought impart, For all its people, high and low, Are kindred to my heart; And with a yearning love I share

Copy of a Letter addressed to J. K. Heydon, Esq., Sydney New South Wales, dated February 25th, 1851. Six.—A Mr. Thomas Clark, a Seitler at Lake George, was for a considerable time seriously afflicted with a complaint of the Liver, together with the Gravel. His medical attendents, siter trying all their skill, candidly told him that his case was hopeless, and any further efforts useless. In this situation, and when expecting every day would terminate his existence, a friend recommended him to try Holioway's Pill's and as a torlorn hope he did so, the first dose gave him considerable relief, he therefore persevered in taking them according to the directions, and is now restored to perfect health. He will feel great pleasure in confirming this statemagn, or even make an affidavit to the same effect, should it be required (Signed). Wm.
