HAS REVOLT BLOWN OVER? By Courier Leased Wire
London, Nov. 20.—Latest diplomatic reports from Holland seem to indicate that the threatened revolution there has blown over. Crowds paraded the streets of The Hague yesterday wearing orange ribbons. Reports, which are unconfirmed, state that The Hague garrison supported Pieter J. Troelstra's demand hat the queen abdicate. Queen Wilhelmina decided to comply, but the garrison afterwards laid down its arms in the presence of loyal troops from the provinces.
