WEDDING BELLS

MacInnis-Wood

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Wood Lakeville was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday afternoon June 12th, when their eldest daughter Lucy Frances was united in marriage to Archibald L. MacInnis, Rev. O. E. Steeves, pastor of the Billtown Baptist Church officiated. The bride was given away by her father and was prettily attired in a gown of white embroidered voile with satin trimming, the travelling suit was of blue broadcloth with hat to match. Following the wedding ceremony a luncheon was served. Amid showers of confetti the happy couple left by motor for Windsor. On their return they will reside in Kentville. They were the recipient of many useful and valuable wedding gifts.

BOMBARDIER PERCY LANDRY

Many will hear with genuine regret of the death of Percy Landry, son of Dominic Landry, who was killed in action May 28th.

Mr. Landry left Nova Scotia eleven years ago and for a time was in business with his brother, Victor, in Seattle but later took up farming in Manitoba in which he was very successful. In 1915 he enlisted with the 37th Battery in Winnipeg, sailing from Saint John the following February. He was later transferred to the 38th Battery, since which time he has seen much hard fighting, being in the recent Vimy Ridge Battle.

Previous to going West, Mr. Landry resided in New Minas, where he was highly esteemed because of his sterling qualities. He was a member of the New Minas Baptist Church. Besides his father he leaves two brothers and five sisters to mourn their loss. The brothers are Victor and Harry, both in Seattle. The sisters are Mrs. C. P. Harris and Gladys, New Minas; Mrs. A. C. Sheridan and Lella, Kentville; Aida at Brooklyn, Mass; and a half-sister, Ethel at home. The following letter from O. C. speaks for itself:

France, May 28, '17
Dominic Landry, Esq.,
Kentville, N.S.

I have a very painful duty to perform in writing you of the death of your son, Bdr. Landry, of this Battery. I cannot tell how much we regret his loss; and yet I know that no matter how keenly we feel the loss of a good soldier and a good comrade, it is nothing to you, who lose your son.

Your son was writing a letter at the time he was hit, sitting down with his back to a wall. We were protected from shrapnel, in fact from nearly everything else, in our position. Unfortunately, however, a shell exploded on a pile of brick in front of him, and the back lash (pieces of the base of the shell blown backwards) struck him in the head. He never regained consciousness and although he was at once carried to the dressing station, he died in about three quarters of an hour.

The afternoon had been unusually quiet, and it was the first shell in a sudden bombardment that got him. We buried him two days later at the village of Ecoles, where there is a Canadian Cemetery. His grave is well marked and registered. The village is a small one not far from Arras, and the cemetery is well kept and beautifully situated. Should you ever visit France after the war, you will have no trouble whatever in finding the place.

And now sir, I know there is nothing we can say that will make your loss lighter. But I am sure that you will be proud to know that we counted your son one of the best men in our Battery. He could be depended upon under all circumstances to carry out his duties and I do not think that he ever suffered from a moment's fear.

In closing I would ask you to accept my heartfelt sympathy and to convey same to all his relatives and friends.

Yours very sincerely,
M. F. SPROULE, Lieut.,
O.C. 38 Battery, C.E.F.
