TO DRAIN YELLOW GRASS MARSH

higher today than it has ever been before, the roads across it being absolutely impassable except by light wagons.

The delegation which was in the city yesterday was the Public Works department to lower the level of the water in the marsh by at least two feet, which it is claimed can be done by the digging of a ditch draining the marsh into the Souris river.

The facts of the situation having been fully placed before Mr. Scott and the deputy commissioner of Public Works, Mr. Scott informed the delegation that although the work involved might be considered as hardly coming within the province of the department, still having regard to the number of roads affected by the drainage of the marsh the government would be prepared to consider it as coming under public works and that provided that the farmers of the district who might be affected in any way by the drainage scheme asked for could be got to guarantee damages arising from the construction of the ditch, work should be started on the same at an early date.

Seen in the afternoon, a member of the delegation stated that they had every reason to be satisfied with the result of their interview with the Premier, which he believes would result in an early resumption of the work commenced three years ago.

Mr. Scott, he said, had shown the greatest interest in all that they had to say in the matter and given evidence of his desire to render the people of the Yellow Grass district the relief asked for and he had no doubt would do all in his power to carry out the work.

REGINA'S NEW $187,000 HOTEL TO OPEN IN A FEW DAYS

LICENSE GRANTED TO THE NEW WASCANA HOTEL OF ARNOLD BROS. AND ACASTER—ONE OF THE MOST SUMPTUOUSLY FURNISHED HOUSES IN THE WHOLE OF WESTERN CANADA—SPECIAL PROVISIONS AGAINST FIRE—BEAUTIFUL SCHEME OF DECORATION.

From Thursday Morning's Leader. The license commissioners for this district met in the city yesterday morning to consider the application for a license for the new Wascana Hotel on Hamilton street. A careful inspection of the house had shown that the stringent new regulations regarding the safeguards to be provided against fire had been complied with and the license was accordingly granted.

The question of the license having thus been satisfactorily settled, it is expected that the new house will be opened to the public on Monday next, a few finishing touches being required to put everything in readiness for that event.

A Credit to Regina. Rightly or wrongly, Regina has in the past won for itself a bad name in regard to the hotel accommodation that the city afforded to the travelling public but the opening of such a house as the Wascana should go far towards removing all ground for any such reproach in the future.

Build and furnished at a total expenditure of $187,000, the palatial hotel of Messrs. Arnold Bros. and Acaster which will be known open to the public in the course of a day or two, is beyond all question one of the best appointed and arranged hotels in Western Canada and with its fifty odd bedrooms will materially assist in lessening the scarcity of hotel accommodation which has been so serious a handicap to the city for a considerable time past.

No Expense Spared. The building itself is a fine four-story, solid brick structure and since the disastrous fire which almost totally destroyed it on the eve of completion early last winter, it has been remodelled in such way as to furnish a risk from fire to a minimum. In addition to the several fire escapes provided, two solid brick party walls divide the structure into three distinct sections with fireproof doors cutting off the corridors running down the centre of the building. These doors can be closed by hand, but to ensure their being closed in the event of fire, the fastenings holding back the doors melt at a temperature of 115 degrees, thus causing the doors to close automatically.

The furnishing of the hotel has been carried out by the Ideal Furniture Co. of Winnipeg, and is in the best possible taste throughout, everything being of the very highest quality. Some idea of the business way in which the house has been fitted up may be gathered from the fact that the cost of furnishing ran into between $30,000 and $35,000. The house from basement to top is up-to-date, and is equipped with heating appliances, an electric passenger lift working to all floors, telephones in all bedrooms and independent every convenience known to the modern hotel.

The Basement. Situated in the front part of the basement is the largest room to be found in the hotel, and is fitted up as a high class baker's shop, connected with which are two bath rooms and a large shower bath. The shop is approached by a separate entrance from the street by a flight of stairs to the left of the main entrance of the hotel.

To the right of the barber's shop and running the full length under the bar, is the wine cellar, fitted up with every arrangement for storing wines and draught liquors. For the latter a special contrivance has been constructed which permits of the barrels on tap standing in a stream of running ice water.

West of the wine room are public lavatories and next to these is a spacious room which is intended to be used as a private dining room for stag dinner parties and similar functions. At the extreme west end of the building are located the heating apparatus, refrigerator room and vegetable cellar. In addition to the equipment of the hotel, the boiler room is fitted with separate heating apparatus for providing hot water for the numerous bathrooms. The refrigerator room is capable of holding several tons of ice and of storing enough meat and other provisions at a time to victual a small army. The vegetable cellar adjoining is provided with great bins, with a capacity for several tons of potatoes, onions, beets and other varieties of vegetable.

First Floor. A small flight of steps from Hamilton street lead up to the main entrance of the hotel on the first floor opening into the large rotunda, in which is located the clerk's office and the privacies of the hotel management. The rotunda, which will doubtless be one of the most popular rendezvous of the city, is provided with numerous luxurious leather arm chairs, chairs so inviting to the passer-by that they are likely to give the hotel proprietors some trouble to ensure their not being monopolised by professional hotel hangers-on. The floor of the rotunda among which will be named the high diving dock, who dives into a net from the top of a ladder 60 feet high.

Madame Wanda with her troupe of educated dogs, are known from the Pacific to the Atlantic as features of the great amusement resorts. The circus always pleases the children and every man, woman and child would give their little ones to see it.

There are clown, trained animals, of all kinds, and wonderful equestrian acts, all of which will be well worth seeing. Wanda and her wonderful troupe of carriage dogs show in this ring, and Madame Wanda claims that she has the only troupe of trained dogs of this kind in the world.

"Dixieland" is a good imitation on an old Mississippi river boat, and inside in the cabin carries sing the plantation songs of the south.

Second Floor. The chief feature of the second floor is the large ladies' parlor, the furnishing of which has been carried out most artistically. The color scheme of the room is a dark green, with a patterned carpet and walls of similar color giving an effect at once restful and pleasing. On the north side of the room is a large alcove in which is placed the costly baby grand piano which has been received for the parlor.

The remainder of this floor is devoted to bedrooms, every one of which is provided with a separate bathroom, affording guests every possible convenience. No expense has been spared in the furnishing of the bedrooms, carpets and furniture all being of the very highest class. Bird's-eye maple is used for the most part of the furniture, though in some of the rooms oak and other choice hardwoods are to be found.

The third and fourth floors are also devoted to bedrooms, the only difference being that the bathrooms are not connected individually with the rooms, but are grouped together at either end of the floor, one group being for the use of the ladies and the other for the gentlemen's parlor on the floor beneath, furnished in keeping with the rest of the building.

12 Sample Rooms. In planning the Wascana Hotel, special attention has been paid to the requirements of commercial travellers and it is safe to say that the house will within a very short time become the favorite stopping place between Winnipeg and the coast of the travelling fraternity. The greater part of the large annex which is built out from the west end of the building is devoted to sample rooms, no less than twelve in number, being fitted up for this purpose. These are served by a special baggage lift so that commercial travellers will be able to unload and stow their trunks with a minimum amount of worry.

Rooms for Hotel Staff. A portion of the annex, entirely separated from the rest of the building and with a private entrance, is given over to rooms for the female help which will be employed in the hotel. Fourteen rooms in all being provided with a number of bath rooms, ensuring for the staff an amount of comfort and convenience equal to that of the city hotels.

The management of the Wascana Hotel will be in the hands of H. Acaster and L. A. Arnold, who have gathered together a highly competent staff of services of a high class chef, have been secured as well as those of a competent second chef, so that a table in every way in keeping with the general all round character of the house may be looked for. Altogether the Wascana Hotel bids fair to be an invaluable addition to the hotel accommodation of the city, while as an investment it should prove an extremely profitable investment for its proprietors.

WOULD PROSECUTE THE STATION AGENT

H. F. Mytton Urges Drastic Steps to Stop Inaccurate Train Posting

From Friday Morning's Leader. After some considerable waiting, a quorum of members of the Board of Trade was obtained last evening in the civic chamber, and the usual monthly meeting, adjourned for last week, was able to proceed.

The correspondence included a letter from the Manitoba Free Press asking for information with regard to the postal facilities at this point and suggesting that possibly the board might be able to pass a resolution in the matter.

Another matter on which Mr. Mytton spoke at some length was the misleading reports often posted at the C. P. R. station with regard to the arrival of trains. He understood, he stated, that the law made provision to compel the publication of reasonable notice of train arrivals, and that it would be distasteful to an ordinary citizen to proceed against the agent, he moved that the city police be requested to watch the posting of trains on the blackboard at the station and when any glaring inaccuracies occurred to lay information against the agent with a view to subjecting that official to the course of the law. So far as was concerned it was not a personal matter against the agent, but the present slipshod way in which trains were posted carried the gravest menace of which the public generally might well complain.

The motion carried. The president referred to the omission of Regina from the government meteorological reports and on the motion of Mr. Mytton it was decided that the secretary should draw the attention of the Dominion agriculture department to the failure to include Regina in its reports in accordance with a promise made some year or two ago.

E. McCarthy gave notice that at the next meeting of the board he would move that the City Council be requested to consider the advisability of having a census of the city taken. A letter from Deputy Postmaster General in reply to the request of the board that a house delivery of mail should be furnished in Regina, stated that the postal revenue in Regina was over $27,000 and that the big excess over the minimum revenue required might well be weighed against any deficiency of population.

At the next regular meeting of the Board the secretary will present a detailed report dealing with the work done by the board during the last six months.

Case of Withey vs. Francomb Results in Verdict for Plaintiff. Thomas Withey, contractor of Regina, sued P. Francomb, clerk, also of Regina, to recover $84 as balance alleged to be due for the building of a house in this city. The contract price for building the house was $90, Francomb to supply all materials. On 8th October, 1906, Withey registered a mortgage held by her on the land upon which the house was built. The mortgage was dated 14th July, 1906.

As a mortgagee by reason of the house built on the land, the mortgage was dated 14th July, 1906. The house had been built on the wrong lot.

Mr. C. E. D. Wood appeared for Withey; and Mr. T. A. Allan for Francomb.

In giving judgment yesterday, Judge Newlands said he thought Withey had completed his work properly taking into consideration the kind of a house to be built and the price to be paid for it. There was no evidence to satisfy him that Withey improperly used materials, nor that the house was built on the wrong lot. As to the extra, the only one proved was a claim for making a stove pipe hole and fitting thimble, which would be allowed.

His lordship did not think the Saskatchewan Act continued in force any laws excepting those that were in force at the time that the Act came into force. The provision of The Mechanical Lien Act giving liens a preference over a mortgage to the amount of the increased value of the property was, in his opinion, ultra vires as it conflicts with The Land Titles Act 1894.

Withey would have judgment for $41 balance due, $2.00 for extras, and $1.00 for drawing and registering lien, a total of $44.50, with costs with an order for the sale of the property subject to the mortgage, if not paid within thirty days. The action was dismissed against defendant Waddell with costs.

CONCERT BY 15TH LIGHT HORSE BAND

Calgary's Crack Band More Than Justify Their High Reputation

(From Thursday's Morning Leader.) Calgary may well be proud of the 15th Light Horse Band. It is a great musical aggregation and will be a credit to Western Canada when it takes its place alongside the crack bands of Great Britain at the Dublin exhibition. The programme given by the band last night at the Auditorium Rink was of a character to test the capabilities of the organization presided over by Bandmaster Fred A. Hagley to full, containing such pieces as the Introduction to Act 3 and the Overture to William Tell, in which they invited comparison with such famous bands as the Irish Guards and Dan Godfrey's without any cause for shame.

The comment of one of last night's audience that the band of the 15th was just "a machine," while untrue inasmuch as it showed an individuality in its treatment of the various pieces played, was justified in so far as it may have referred to the perfect control exercised over the players by their gifted conductor, the various instruments blending with a precision almost magical and almost giving at times the impression that the music was all produced from one instrument.

It might perhaps be regretted that a programme which included the masterpieces of Wagner, Rossini and Gounod, also found room for "The Rocket" at Gilligan's and the bizarre number described as a "descriptive piece"—"The Indian Campaign. It is general to say that whether the latter piece which purports to give a portrayal of military life in the "wild west"—will afford the Irish as vivid a picture of the West as the composer of the piece probably intended that it should, its war whoops being less terrifying than one might even expect to hear at an Indian industrial school while even the keenest of Irish imaginations will find it difficult to detect "the busy hum of farm and ranch life." As a matter of fact the 15th Light Horse Band is of too high a musical calibre to waste itself upon such a grotesque composition as "The Indian Campaign," which is descriptive of nothing so much as the composer's inaptitude.
