A Novel Cure.
The Vicar of Woodburn, near Morpeth, writing on drunks in his parish magazine, says:
"We have no teetotal society in connection with this parish church. Nor is there any attempt to coax or cajole people into sobriety by concerts, speeches, or hymns. A better plan than all these weak devices is for a man who has a drunken neighbor to thrash him as being a scandal to the neighborhood, and to thrash anyone in the house who drinks immoderately."
The Proper Treatment for a Sprained Ankle
As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. An Inquiry.
Tell me, ye children blithe,
Who round the schoolhouse play,
How would you have me vote
Upon election day,
Do you desire a place
Where want and we are found,
Where fathers lose their love,
And grannies stand in awe?
The happy children standing in a row
With one accord shout forth the answer—
"No!"
Tell me, oh, womanhood!
Do you yet remain here
Where sons and husbands strong
May purchase liquid fire?
Have you, yourself such thirst
From toil and care and pain,
That you would have saloons
Brought to our streets again?
The women fully recognized their foe
As with emphatic voice they answer,
"No!"
Tell me my inmost soul,
Oh, tell me conscience, pray,
The stand that I shall take
Upon the voting day,
For self and appetite,
For policy and greed
Shall I lift up my voice
And not for human need?
With accents firm and beating strong
But slow,
My inmost heart gives forth the answer
"No!"
Tell me, O God I most high,
What thou wouldst have me do,
Shall I from right depart,
Nor bear my colors true,
Shall I lose sight of thee,
Of home and native land,
And on the other side
With license votaries stand?
To all that's squalid, selfish, vile and low,
His sacred word distinctly answers,
"No!"
—Rev. Charles Olmstead, in The Temperance Cause.
Dowry of a Bride
A marriage recently celebrated at Parick, Glasgow, has a curious story attached to it. The bride's father and mother, who have been abstainers for over twenty years, gave as a marriage dowry to their daughter the sum of £120. Every week since they became total abstainers the amount formerly spent in alcoholic liquor was banked for the little one who caused her parents to take the pledge. The little girl had seen her father slightly inebriated, and re- garded him for it the next day. The parents have eschewed drink ever since, with the above result.—Temperance Leader.
Testotators the Best Workers.
Dr. J. B. Nevins (eminent as a statistician), at a meeting in Liverpool recently, having prefaced his remarks by saying he was not a testotator, gave some convincing statistics. He said he was preparing a lecture for medical students, and in order that he might have some reliable evidence he visited a number of places where men were engaged in laborious work, as he wanted to know if men who took beer could do harder work than those who abstained. First he went to Vauxhall Foundry, and asked a foreman and also some of the men, "Does the man do his work better or as well if he had a glass of beer for dinner?" and the answer was, "If we have a very heavy job to do, during the first hour after dinner, the men who can do it best are those who have not tasted intoxicants." He then went to the Manchester Ship Canal and saw the navvies at work. What is your experience," he said to the overlooker "about the men who take even a single glass of beer or the men who take none?" and received the reply, "I would rather a great deal have a gang of testotators working for me than a gang of men who take even a little beer." He then turned his attention to men who did not only hard, but most disagreeable work that must be done against time. He went to the docks to see the men who load the mud-hoppers. They were working in an almost naked condition. He asked the head man, "Do these men drink?" the reply being, "They don't take one drop of drink when at work, for if they did they could not do it in the given time; and a more reliable set of men could not be found.—Northern Messenger.
Cold Water Will Soothe Him
Discussing the treatment of the intoxicated, The Vegetarian says, "If a drunken man is plunged into cold water, he will come out perfectly sober; and he will know some that have recovered by simply washing their heads in cold water."
The National Advocate quotes the words of a physician who has had large experience in hospital practice, which are as follows:
"In our missionary dispensary

Eczema on Leg
Dreadful Itching
Now Patch of Skin for twelve hours—Cures came with the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment
The healing power of Dr. Chase's Ointment is truly marvellous and many of the cures brought about by its use seem almost like miracles.
Raw, itching, scaling sores which stubbornly refuse to yield to any other treatment are soon healed and cured by this great ointment and the skin is left smooth, soft and natural without use of salve.
Mr. ALEX. MACDONALD, postmaster, Broad Cove, N.S., writes:—"I have tried every remedy I was a great sufferer from eczema on the inside of my leg. There was a raw patch of skin about three inches square, and the itching was something fearful. Dr. Chase's Ointment completely cured me, took away the itching and healed up the sore. I have no hesitation in recommending it as a wonderful cure for itching skin disease."
Dr. Chase's Ointment, 50 cents a box. The ointment is signed by Dr. A. W. Chase, the discoverer of this great ointment, and is sold by all druggists and chemists.
work here in this city we have had the most wonderful results from the use of the cold spray in such cases. Men who have been so intoxicated that they could not stand upon their feet, by being placed under a cold shower for a few moments, have sprung out of it perfectly sober, exclaiming, "You have wrought a miracle." Sometimes such men have gone out and gathered in other poor drunks that the same might be done for them.
"Applications of cold water act as a sort of fire alarm to every part of the system and enable the nerve centres to rise above the depressing influences of the alcohol. Immediately following the application of cold, whether it be a cold sheet pack, cold full bath, or a cold shower bath, hot applications should be placed to the spine and the patient should be vigorously rubbed with a dry towel so as to promote vigorous reaction.—In The Temperance Cause.
Meekly—Yes, we're going to move to Swamphurst.
Doctor—But the climate there may disagree with your wife.
Meekly—It wouldn't dare.
"What a cute little baby!" exclaimed the good-hearted old lady on the street. "Boy or girl?"
"We ain't decided yet," replied the little nurse. "Pop and man's still scrapplin' over a game for it!"
In Modern Days.
THE WAYS OF DOING THINGS HAVE GREATLY CHANGED
NO BRANCH OF SCIENCE HAS MADE GREATER ADVANCEMENTS THAN THAT OF MEDICINE—THOUSANDS OF LIVES PROLONGED BY MODERN DISCOVERIES.
"The man who developed as a child a vision of the quarter of a century ago as the science of medicine," said a well known practitioner recently, "and undoubtedly the most striking phase in its progress is in the treatment of the blood. In the old days it was thought that opening a vein and letting the blood out was a cure for most diseases. The utter fallacy of that theory was discovered after a while. Then the symptoms of the disease were treated and the blood discharged. That also has been shown to be a wrong practice, for, though driven away for a time, the symptoms always return if the cause is not removed, and the disease is worse than before. It is the root of the disease that must be attacked, and the most important development of modern medical science has been in discovering that, in most cases this lies in the condition of the blood. If the blood is thin and poor, the nerves and vital organs cannot receive their proper nourishment, the system becomes run down and in a condition to invite disease. Build up the blood, store the worn out nerves and you remove the cause. When the cause is removed the disease is gone the disease will vanish."
An instance of the truth of this is given by Miss M. T. Tuckey, Oxford, Ont., who says:—"I do not know what would have become of me had it not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My blood seemed to have turned to water, and I was troubled with dizziness, headaches and general prostration. I tried several medicines but instead of getting better I was gradually but surely growing worse. I became so weak I could no longer work, and it was while in this condition, I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After using the Pills for a few weeks I began to gain strength; my appetite returned, the headaches and dizziness vanished, and before long I was enjoying as good health as ever I had done in my life. I cannot thank you enough for the good the pills have done and I hope they will long continue to help other sufferers."
Indigestion, neuralgia, heart trouble, anemia, kidney and liver complaints, rheumatism, the functional ailments of women, and a host of other troubles are all a direct result of the blood. It is the man who is already cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which actually make new, rich, red blood, thus reaching the root of the disease and driving it from the system. The great success of this medicine has induced some unscrupulous dealers to offer pink colored imitations. You can protect yourself against these by seeing that the full name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People" is printed on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicinal dealers or may be had direct from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Middlebury, Vt., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

I consider neuralgia a most magical remedy for attacks, writes Mrs. E. G. Harris, of Baltimore, but never worry if Nerviline is in the house. The prompt relief that Nerviline brings makes it price a life to me. A few applications never yet failed to kill the pain. I can also recommend Nerviline for stiffness in the joints and rheumatism.
