Christmas Suggestions

"Taking time by the forelock" is never a more sensible proceeding than at this season of the year with Christmas and all its attendant responsibilities looming up in the near future. Gifts caught up at the last moment, in all the hurry and confusion of a fortnight or so before the holidays, are generally chosen with little regard for appropriateness, and it is far wiser, as well as less tiring, to decide upon such matters early.

There is a way whereby one can do Christmas shopping "satisfactorily" without worry or inconvenience. And that way is through our mail order department.

FOOTBALL.

The drafting of players from one team to another is getting very prevalent in New Brunswick.

The Junior City team is trying to arrange a game with the U. N. B. Freshmen for Saturday.

Football managers, captains and coaches should remember that a good loser never squeals.

The winners of the Q. R. F. U., the O. R. F. U., and the Intercollegiate Union will play off for the championship of Upper Canada.

Investigation into the influence of the new American rules does not prove much to date, writes an expert. The smaller teams have scored less points than a year ago, and the larger eleven have scored more. There has been probably no diminution of injuries, and it is a question if there has been more kicking. The one real benefit has been the openness of the midfield game, which has given the spectators a better chance to know what was going on.

Arrangements are being made for a game of pushball, to be played in Toronto, between the officers of the 13th regiment and the Queen's Own. The gate receipts will be in aid of the Broadway Boys' brigade, and the date will be fixed as soon as the Hamilton regiment can arrange to get down.

Out west the inducements said to be offered one star player were entrance to college without having to pass examination, board and tuition free, and a job as assistant bookkeeper at $40 a month for 15 hours work a day.

The game on Thursday afternoon at 3:30 should prove fast and furious. Both U. N. B. and St. Joseph's are confident of winning so something is bound to happen.

THE TURF.

A report has reached the city to the effect that J. M. Johnston, of Calais, will sell out his stable and retire from racing to attend to his business in Boston.

City horsemen are already talking of the "brushes" for Christmas Day and New Year's. They will endeavor to arrange classes, as is done on the New York and winter speedways throughout the country. This will help the sport along considerably.

GOLF.

In the second round of the Shute cup series R. F. Randolph lost to J. S. Campbell, cup and 4 to play.

Miss Rhoda Adams, the British golf champion known as the Queen of Golfers, and her sister, will take part in the invitation tournament which starts on the links of the Lambton Golf and Country Club this afternoon and continues until Saturday. Lady golfers from the various clubs throughout Canada will assemble to play along, side of the champion.

THE HUNTERS.

Wm. Burt is down river on a hunting trip.

Will Chestnut returned yesterday from a successful trip after big game. C. H. Stearns and Samuel Wilder of Rochester, whose successful trip with guides Harry Allen and John Gilmore was spoken of in yesterday's issue, went to St. John last evening. Leaving there they go to Boston this evening and there separate. Mr. Wilder will go direct to Rochester, while Mr. Stearns goes to New York and Philadelphia to attend to some mining business. During their short stay here they made many friends, who hope that they will carry out their promise and return next season, as they are two of the best good fellows who have visited Fredericton.

J. A. Sterling and W. M. Pryor returned from the hunting grounds yesterday afternoon and are registered at the Barker House. Each of these sportsmen secured a moose, one of them having a spread of 51 inches, and express themselves as well satisfied with their trip and the excellent work of their guide, Thomas Pringle. They leave for their homes in England on Wednesday, via Boston. This has been their first trip over here, but they don't see why more English sportsmen don't come over here. They promised to send some of their friends over to enjoy the sport.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robinson of New York and Miss Bradford of Sherbrooke are among the big game hunters at the Barker House. They leave for the woods this afternoon, with Henry Braithwaite as guide. G. L. Robbins, O. C. Ward and W. H. Mason of Worcester will go into the woods near Upper Blackville this afternoon. During their stay in the city they are registered at the Barker House.

AT THE TARGETS.

Interest on the Increase at the Shooting Gallery.

Last week was an exciting one at the shooting gallery and this week promises to be even more interesting, as a new competition, rapid firing, is on. In the contest that closed Saturday night Sandy Staples captured the cream pitcher in class A, making a score of 95, after he and Fred McKinnon had tied at 147. In class B, Don Neill did the finest shooting, putting on 145, winning the prize, and a place in class A in future contests. James Pringle and Jack Dever, each made 144 in this competition and Mr. Pringle won the consolation with a score of 141. Mr. Walter McFarlane pushed the winner closely but lost one pipe.

For this week's shooting $20 in prizes are hung out, that for the rapid firing competition being a pair of opera glasses. All the prizes are on exhibition in J. D. Fowler's store window.

New Minister Inducted at Millerton.

Last Tuesday evening the Rev. J. G. A. Colquhoun, B. A., formerly of Nashua and Stanley Presbytery of St. John, was formally inducted into the charge of Grace Church, Millerton, by the Presbytery of Miramichi. Rev. J. D. Murray, Moderator, in the presence of a very large congregation. The first part of the service was conducted by the Rev. Henry Arnott, of St. James' Church, Newcastle, who preached a thoughtful and impressive sermon on Abram as a Man of Prayer.

The singing in the Millerton church is of a high order of excellence. The Millerton people have fine voices, which combined with the tasteful playing of the Grace church organist and Mrs. Miller's efficient aid, presents a blending of harmony rarely to be met with in North Shore churches.

After service Rev. Mr. Colquhoun was called forward and the questions of the formula addressed to him by the moderator of the Presbytery. They having been satisfactorily answered, he was, after solemn prayer, conducted into Grace Church by Rev. Mr. Murray and right hand of fellowship extended to him by the other ministers present.

The Rev. D. Henderson of St. Andrew's church, Chatham, then delivered the solemn charge of the Presbytery to the newly inducted minister and heartily welcomed him to the Miramichi. The congregation was appropriately addressed by Rev. Mr. Murray of Redbank. A solo, beautifully rendered by Mrs. J. Miller added very materially to the enjoyment of the service, which was, throughout, intensely interesting. Mr. Colquhoun, it may be stated, enters upon his duties at Millerton under the most favorable auspices, and with every prospect of a happy and useful ministry. He was led to the door of the church on Tuesday evening by the moderator, and was cordially welcomed by the congregation as they retired.

Among those present at the service was James Robinson, M. P., who has just arrived home from his parliamentary duties at Ottawa.

SERVIAN ELECTIONS.

SOFIA, Nov. 3.—The triumph of the government in the election is not complete. M. Sankhoff has failed to secure re-election and his party has been utterly routed. This indicates that the country does not desire Russian influence and condemns the anti-dynastic tactics of the oppositor.

Spent Over $2,000 Doctoring.

SEVERE FORM of Asthma

Mrs. A. A. Vanbuskirk, Robinson street, Moncton, N.B., states:

"For years I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for my children whenever they take cold. I used it first with a severe form of Asthma. We have never tried anything in the way of a cough medicine that worked so satisfactorily. It seemed to go right to the diseased parts and brought speedy relief."

GREAT HARVEST SALE!

In our stay of six years in this city, which was up a few days ago, we have been authority for some great sales, the greatest ever held in this city. All who participated in them were highly pleased, and we are not through yet. We propose to celebrate this anniversary and begin our seventh year with a gigantic up-to-date Harvest Sale.

In the past we have always held our cheap sales during the dull months. This time we have selected the busiest month of the year to launch our new venture, when the farmers of our country have stored a bountiful crop and the artisan, business man and laborer have enjoyed a most prosperous summer. On our part we have made extensive preparations in view of making this sale our greatest success.

It is impossible in this space to give anything near a correct idea of the immense quantities we have provided for our fall and winter business, along with our regular fall orders.

Mr. Fickler spent ten days in the leading Canadian markets securing everything that he thought would be suitable for our trade.

Future issues will contain quotations.

BIG STORES, DOWN TOWN.

WILLIAMSBURG.

WILLIAMSBURG, Nov. 2.—The very sudden death of Mrs. Daniel Gullison, of Williamsburg, which took place on Thanksgiving Day, has cast a gloom over our community. The Dread Reaper came whilst she was milking her cows in a field near the house. About half an hour after she left her daughter, Mrs. Smith, home on a visit, and her young sister Hazel, became very anxious and went to look for their mother. After going a short distance from the house Mrs. Smith noticed her mother lying in a recumbent position and, fearing she knew not what, went nearer. Hazel's piteous calls soon brought some sympathizing neighbors who tenderly bore the loved form back to the house she had so lately left in her usual health.

The deceased lady was fifty five years of age and was the mother of fifteen children, two of whom had gone before her. She left eight sons, Henry, William and Burpee, residing in Williamsburg in homes of their own; James, Ben, Samuel and Emory, who live at home though the three former were away on the Napiodogan at the time of their mother's death, and John who lives in Berlin, N. H., and who was on his way home after an absence of sixteen years.

The five daughters who survive her are: Mrs. Chadwick, of Calais, Maine; Mrs. Eldon Smith, of Gardiner, Maine; Mrs. Clifton Hill, of Orono, Maine; and Misses Maude and Hazel at home.

She also leaves a number of brothers and sisters to whom the news of her death came with startling suddenness and sorrow.

The bereaved husband who is a well-known and very highly respected farmer of Williamsburg with the sorrowing family have the deep sympathy of a large circle of friends.

The late Mrs. Gullison was a lady of whom it may truly be said, "She looketh well to the ways of her household." Her loved presence will be sorely missed in the home which death has rendered desolate. But they do not sorrow as those without hope. The writer has several remembrances of quiet talks on the "all-important subject" and recalls now an evening in the late lady's home, when she gave undoubted proof of her strong trust in the loving Father's will. On the Sunday following her death her remains were laid to rest in the little churchyard near her home.
