

THE RELATIVE VALUES OF CASEIN AND FAT

Bulletin No. 156, from the Wisconsin experiment station, describes "A Simple Test for Casein in Milk, and its Relation to the Dairy Industry..."

"This clearly shows that for cheese production the value of casein and fat should be known to both producer and consumer..."

"On the basis of cost of production, it is a fair assumption that it has caused the feeder as much to produce a pound of casein as a pound of fat..."

"With all of which we heartily agree, yet we find persons talking and writing as if the value of milk for all purposes depends upon the fat contained..."

"The writer goes on to say: 'One animal may yield a milk containing 2.7 per cent. casein and 6 per cent. fat, while another produces a milk of 2.7 per cent. casein and 4 per cent. fat...'"

"One more quotation: 'Another matter of considerable importance in the discussion of the relative values of casein and fat is the relative commercial values of these two constituents...'"

"We should like to emphasize the latter part of the preceding sentence. In our humble opinion the method of valuing goods according to the heat produced is not satisfactory..."

"A Young Life Saved." "About two years ago I caught a severe cold, and started myself did not do much for it..."

"Mrs. De Shaw—Why didn't you contribute to the charity? Mr. De Shaw—Didn't have my chequebook with me..."
