SCHOOL BOOKS

THE Subscriber has since his entering into the stationery and book business commenced by his father, endeavoured to furnish and keep up a supply of suitable School Books; and while he has kept in view the difficulty experienced by Teachers, in changing from one book to another, ocasioned by a want of uniformity in the series of works in use, he has studied to improve those formerly used; and in adopting new ones, has been guided by the leading members of the Board of Education, and some of the best teachers who have given their spacetime, their spacetime their spacetimes and their spacetimes are spacetimes. new ones, has been guided by the leading members of the Board of Education, and some of the best teachers who have given their sanction to his publications. Many of the books imported from the Mother? Country, being found to be too expensive, and the reprints from the neighbouring provinces, not only incorrect, but badly printed, it was thought than attempt to print some of them at home, might meet with success. In order to be able to sell the books at a price within the reach of the bulk of the people, a large number of each work has been printed of those books in general use. The Irish national series, imported by the Board of Education as one of the cheapent ests of books that could be precured, has been taken as the basis of the series of books now reprinting. They have been made applicable to the circumstances of the country by alterations only in such passages as have appeared to require them. In order to auit them to the locality of the Island a fuller and more correct abstract of the Geography of North America, has been substituted, and several alight errors in Spelling and Grammar amended.

The books already published are—
Murray's Second do, with an appendix from Poissor Sullivan's Spelling book, Irish National Second, Third, and Fourth books, Irish National Second, Third, and Fourth books, Irish National Second, Third, and Fourth books,
