d I think the sweetest joy of heaven, the rarest blies of eternal life, d the fairest crown of all, will be given but the wayworn farmer's wife. A Good Father. A father called his son into the library the "Harry, you are now seventeen years old." "Yes, father." "Yes, father." "I have given you money from time to time, but you have had no stipulated allow-ance. Beginning with next week I shall allow you $6 per week." "That will be splendid ! You are one of the best fathers in the country !" "Yes, $6 per week, and as you are now old enough to pay board, I shall charge you $5 per week. You can always depend upon the dollar coming to you each Saturday. Willing to Farnish the Corpse. "Sir," began a stranger, as he walked up to a business man on Walnut street yester-day. "I am strictly business."

"Good! I believe every man should fur-nish money for his own tombstone." "So do I." "So do L." "Good again. I want to raise $50 to pay for a stone to stand at my grave. What assistance will you render the enterprise? I want a business answer." "You shall have t sir. "I will aid the enterprise by furnishing the assner !"

He Didn't Mind Giving His Honest Opinion There was a farmer-looking man with a whip in his hand on the Sixth avenue elevated road the other day, and as he crowded into a seat beside a broker, he asked : "Say, the stock market is kinder wobbly, isn't it ?" "Well, rather." "Frost and sich things kinder upset cal-kerlations, eh?" "Yes." "Is it your opinion that things are going down ?" "" "Well, it looks that way." "Have you bin in business long?" "About thirty years." "Do you mind giving me an opinion ?" "I'll answer any questions." "Very well. They've started a new grave-town and are asking seven yard up in our town, and are asking seven dollars a lot. I've got to have one, but if things is a-tumbling hadn't I better hold on things is a tumbing hadn't I better hold on for a spell ?" "'I'll tell you what to do," whispered the broker, as he rose up for his station—" don't buy at all. Bury your whole family in the back yard! A stranger who was hauging around the fair grounds yesterday morning acted in a manner to attract the attention of a police-man, who proceeded to make some inquiries touching his business. "It's all right, officer-allright," replied the man, as he rested his back against the fence, "My name's White-Jim White, of Isabella "That's satisfactory." "And I reached here only two hours ago, after walking most of the way. I'm here to take this thing all in." "Yes."
"Last time I was here to the fair I only had $12, but a pickpocket got $7 of that. This time I we got $22, and nobody gets a cent. There's $4 in each boot, $6 in my undershirt pocket and the rest is sort o' scattered around promiscuously in my various pockets."
"I guess you are safe."
"You bet! Last time I was here it cost all my cash to buy fodder. See that bag? Well, I've got four loaves of bread, ten pounds of meat and thirty-two boiled eggs in there for fodder, saying nothing of pickles and crackers. I don't reckon any restaurant will get ahead of me."
"You are well fixed, indeed."
"There's a man from our county got a big caff here. The three of us are going to aleep together in the stall, and that will save lodgings. I've got my watch tied to my pocket, meither dust nor wet can hurt my clothes, and if anyone goes for me I've got a lot of """ Total bu.49,871,171 46.868,490 26.854,560 27,419,806 The following are the Liverpool quotations for each day of the past week, the prices of wheat and flour being top figures :being top ligures :-being top ligures :-bing to Flour.....
