The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

In the "upper" classes of society there are many people who think that in order to prove their superiority they must look down scornfully upon the "lower classes" and speak antagonistically of them.

Among my friends, I number a beautiful and talented woman, who, to me, is marred by this one fault—that she often speaks disparagingly and disdainfully of the "lower" class. "They get all they deserve," she says. "Why should they demand higher wages when they are too ignorant to earn any more?" "These people whom you pity are usually ignorant and disagreeable and do not appreciate decent treatment," etc., etc.

Now I am not a socialist. I am not sure of any panacea for present conditions. I do not claim to have any idea as to just what is wrong, but this is the way I feel about it; something must be wrong, or else it would not be possible for some men to have hundreds of millions of dollars, and for other men to work all the days of their lives from morn till night, and still not earn enough to support themselves, their wives and even two or three children. I know that Elbert Hubbard and some other brilliant writers would have us pity the poor employer who is everywhere hampered by the ignorance, stupidity, disobedience, and viciousness of his employees, but I can't see it in that day. Suppose he is hampered; he manages to make a good deal more than a decent living for himself and his own, doesn't he? And that is enough, I think. My sympathy is with the under dog every time, and if that the under dog must stay down seems to me that anyone who can say because he is down, and that there is no sense in giving him a chance to live like a decent creature because he has never had that chance, and can thus dispose of the matter, is morally lacking.

Sometimes, like everyone else, I wish that I were rich, and then again, I'm thoroughly glad that I haven't that responsibility. I was looking at a magnificently appointed limousine the other day, and I thought how beautiful it would be to have that to take me to the theatre or to my work on a stormy day, and then again I was glad that I would probably never have it. For it did not seem to me as if I could be content having such a luxury and knowing of the people who lack necessities. And yet, if I had it, I probably would lack the strength of mind to give it up.

One of the most tragic characters in the Bible to me is the rich young man of whom it is written that "Jesus, beholding him, loved him"—something which is said of no other man or woman. And yet "he went away grieved: for he had great possessions." If this man had been just a poor fisherman like Peter, untrammeled by the chains of wealth and luxury, probably he, too, would have followed Christ and become one of the personal friends of the world's Greatst Man.

To the happiest and busiest of us there come moments of very serious thought—when we wake up in the night and feel quite detached from the daylight world of happiness and business, when we are ill, when we are in church, when trouble or sorrow breaks our routine. I wonder if there are not many rich folks who, in such moments, have solemn doubts about their own right to their luxuries. It seems to me there must be.

I have wandered far afield. I started to simply rebuke those who think that they demonstrate their superiority by being antagonistic to the cause of the under dog, and I have said much more. Perhaps too much. But if I have started someone, hitherto in different, to thinking on this subject I am not sorry.

FOR THE WOMAN WHO THINKS AND FEELS.

Some women complain that they periodically suffer from dull and heavy feelings, or dizziness in the head, nervousness, pain and bearing-down feelings which should not occur to the normal healthy woman. But most every woman is subject to these pains at some time in her life due to abnormal conditions in life, such as corsets, over-taxed strength, bad air, poor or improper food wet feet, sluggish liver, etc. A regulator and female tonic made from native medicinal roots with pure glycerin, and without the use of alcohol, called has proven its value in thousands of cases, like the following:

MRS. MARTIN.

MRS. DONA M. MARTIN, of Auburn, Nebr., Route 1, Box 84, says: "I thought I would write you in regard to what your medicines have done for me. I have used them for thirty years for female trouble and general weakness, with the very best result, and they have saved me hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills. I buy the 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' and take them together. I never was disappointed in your remedies and take pleasure in recommending them to any sufferine lady. I am now almost fifty years old; at forty-five I took your medicines, both kinds, and I passed that period very easily and left me fat and healthy. I feel like a young girl.

If any lady cares to write me, I will gladly tell her more about the good work of your medicines."

The Stricken Husband.

By WALT MASON.

I've been sewing divers patches on my Sunday pantaloons; I've been holding burning matches trying to locate the prunes; I am weary now of eating cold potatoes and such grub, while my wife is at a meeting of the steenth ward tariff club. I am sitting in the cellar where I fell an hour ago, and I have a broken smeller and my heart is full of woe. Oh, my soul is sore with friction as I sit upon a tub, and I call down malediction on the steenth ward tariff club. To old days, surcharged with beauty, my sad recollections roam, when a woman thought her duty was to navigate a home; when she used to cook the mutton for her tired and toilworn hub; and she didn't care a button for the steenth ward tariff club. Now her sitting room's forsaken, from her bower she's gone away; she has quit the eggs and bacon and she talks of Schedule K. And the clothestin' now is sagging where the rugs she used to drub, and her tireless tongue is wagging at the steenth ward tariff club. Often I have sadly pondered on the future, for, alack! all my shirts are now unlaundered and my coat's split up the back; there is none to do my sewing, there is none to cook or scrub, for the women are all going to the steenth ward tariff club.

Lives of Forty Passengers In Danger.

New Brunswick Bridge Collapsed and Four Cars Plunged Into River.

St. John, April 10.—Four freight cars were demolished and forty lives were in danger in a railway accident at Cody's Station, N. B., at ten o'clock this morning. The cause of the accident was the giving way of several abutments of the Washademoak Bridge which spans the Washademoak River at Cody's. The Central railway train from Minto to Norton was crossing the bridge when the abuttments gave way. The engine had crossed and several cars were on the Norton side. The couplings broke and they remained, while four freight cars plunged into the river with one span of the bridge. A passenger car containing about forty passengers was on the rear of the train.

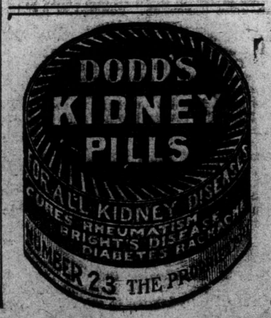
The Hoopshirt Renaissance

BY H. L. RANN.

We are informed by the biters of fashion that the lowly hoopskirt, which has not made any noise at the dressmakers' conventions for fifty years, is about to emerge from the attic and mingle in the glad throng. This is undoubtedly an insidious scheme of the barbed wire trust to boost the price of its product. The hoopskirt is a half sister to the cotton umbrella and gives a woman the willowy outlines of a walking parachute. It is a pleasant article of dress to meet in a crowded street car, as it has an extended reach and is not subject to puncture. As generally made, it is draped gracefully over a wire frame and spreads out like a fat lady on a hair sofa. The hoopskirt is no relation whatever to the hobble skirt, the harem skirt or the sheath skirt, and is a great boon to lean women who are not so anxious to call attention to their curves. One yard of taffeta silk makes a very voluminous hobble skirt, but you can throw a whole bolt of blue serge into a hookskirt and then not get half way around. This is the reason why the hoopskirt is backed by such a determined lobby on the part of the textile goods manufacturers. Men who have to pay for their wives' clothes ought to descend upon congress and demand the enactment of a law confining the use of the hoopskirt to the Fiji Islands. If the hoopskirt comes into general use in this country, the sidewalks will have to be enlarged and the bankruptcy courts will be obliged to put on a night shift. We might get along with the hoopskirt if somebody will put out a style which folds up like a Japanese parasol, but the rigid and unbending hoopskirt, which can be stood up in one corner without sagging at the knees and weighs eighteen pounds without any of the attachments, cannot be crammed down the throat of civilization without bloodshed. Let the dressmakers beware!



SECURED PROMPT RELIEF

From Severe Neuralgia of Eight Years' Standing.

Mr. James Tait, of Westmeath, Ont., writes:

"I have been a dreadful sufferer for the past eight years. The doctors said I had neuralgia of the muscles of my back; the pain was so great it would draw me all up. I tried different doctors, but could find no cure until I used Egyptian Liniment, which was highly recommended by Mr. Fraser, of this place.

It had the desired effect, and I secured prompt relief and have had no relapse in over 15 months. I only used one bottle, and can now load my own produce, pressed hay, etc., myself. Egyptian Liniment has made my old days brighter, and I trust others may be benefited through the publication of this letter."

You will find it splendid for rheumatism, sciatica, and all bruises, sprains, burns and frost-bites. 63

The Nickel.

"How did the Nickel do last night?" is the question asked in the morning of the thousands of people who flock nightly to the show that really satisfies the public of this city; and invariably the answer is, "You should really see that feature film; it's fine." This, then, is the class of entertainment, which is being encouraged by our theatre goers, for the manager is a man who knows his business, and he is making a genuine effort to present only programmes possessing meritorious qualities. For instance, Mr. John Kelly, the tenor vocalist, has a novelty song, entitled "The Burglar's Serenade," in which a full stage is used, together with a great deal of pantomine and clever acting. It was an immense success last night and shows versatility on the part of this performer. Mr. LeRoy in a very dainty ballad, entitled "When the sands of the desert grow cold," again demonstrated his ability, and his rendition of this vocal number once more met with a generous share of applause. Considerable interest, however, is being manifested in the trap drummer and master of effects, Mr. S. A. Dupuez, who is introducing several novel features in connection with the orchestrations supplied the various pictures. Last night, with Mr. P. J. McCarthy, he rendered a very pretty obligato on the musical bells during the exhibition of the biograph film "Her Awakening," and the audience showed their appreciation with hearty applause. More than one person has remarked the superior excellence of the Nickel programmes, and unquestionably it has never reached the standard that is now being preserved by Manager Kiely. On Monday there will be an entire change of programme in which the following top-notch films will be shown: "A Fight for Justice," "For Her Brother's Sake," and "The Latent Spark."

WHY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED MME. DUFAULT'S ILLS.

She Had Diabetes, Sciatica, Backache and Headache but Found Speedy Relief in the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy.

St. Boniface, Man., April 10. (Special).—After suffering for three years from a complication of diseases, Madame Dufault, of 84 Victoria-street, this city, is once more in perfect health and Dodd's Kidney Pills are credited with another splendid cure. Speaking of her cure, Madame Dufault says:

'Yes, I am again a well woman, and I thank Dodd's Kidney Pills for it. I suffered for three years and I may say I had pains all over my body. I had sciatica, neuralgia and diabetes. My back ached, and I had pains in my head. I was nervous and tired all the time; there were dark circles around my eyes which were also puffed and swollen, and heart fluttering added to my troubles.

'But when I started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills I soon began to get better. I took thirteen boxes in all, and I think they are a grand medicine.'

Every one of Madame Dufault's ailments is a direct result of diseased kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills so quickly cured them all.

Folks Past Fifty Must Use Cascarets.

What glasses are to weak eyes, Cascarets are to weak bowels—a 10-cent box will truly amaze you.

Most old people must give to the bowels some regular help, else they suffer from constipation. The condition is perfectly natural. It is just as natural as it is for old people to walk slowly. For age is never so active as youth. The muscles are less elastic. And the bowels are muscles.

So all old people need Cascarets. One might as well refuse to aid weak eyes with glasses as to neglect this gentle aid to weak bowels. The bowels must be kept active. This is important at all ages, but never so much as at fifty.

Age is not a time for harsh physics. Youth may occassionally whip the bowels into activity. But a lash can't be used every day. What the bowels of the old need is a gentle and natural tonic. One that can be constantly used without harm. The only such tonic is Cascarets and they cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store. They work while you sleep.

Arrested.

It will be remembered that about two weeks ago all the clothes which a man named Mahoney possessed were stolen from a hotel and it was thought the thief had gone away in the Bruce. The city detectives have been quietly working on the matter and traced a person suspected, who left the hotel on the day the clothes were stolen, for Bell Island where Sergt. Cox arrested him yesterday. Some of the clothes were found in his possession.

A couple of days ago a valise containing a lot of clothes, the property of a boarder in an uptown hotel were taken from his room. The matter was reported to the police and the detectives were put on the case. Suspicion strongly pointed to a certain person. Early yesterday morning the valise with the contents all intact was found in the hotel corridor.
