

Shipload of Millionaires Here From United States.

Kaiser I. Hind, With 400 Wealthy Americans, on Way to Iceland and Norway on Pleasure Jaunt—Many Distinguished People Aboard—Ambassador to Japan Interviewed by Telegram.

Specialy Written for the Telegram, By J. R. SMALLWOOD.

Millionaires and millionairesses and millionairesses representing more wealth than mentioned by all the Budgets since responsible government in Newfoundland, came to St. John's yesterday afternoon, stayed overnight and this morning, and left again (with the bulk of their wealth) this afternoon for Iceland. Just like that.

The Kaiser I. Hind, a Peninsular and Oriental Steam Navigation company boat of 1,450 tons, and the "free for" liner for a pleasure jaunt around the world. Most of the people aboard are New Yorkers, and it is among them that the big city's high society folk. They are mostly of the type that considers anything less than a million more spending money. For the privilege of making this trip each one is paying the bagatelle of $20,000—and what that among friends?

The Kaiser I. Hind, which by the way is the first steamer chartered to private people in the history of the P. and O., is fitted up in true palatial style, as befits the blue bloods on her. Thick, rich carpets, to which you sink deliciously—if you can get the feeling—are strewn around the ship with abandon. The great saloon is lined with the finest of mahogany. Deep seated chairs and settees which invite you to sit down—they are around everywhere. Also there are innumerable Hindoo boys to attend to your every beck and call. As you sit in any part of the ship the soft strains of a band hidden behind tall palms reach you, and it doesn't take much imagination to feel yourself in one of those fairy palaces you used to read about in your kiddie days.

A FLOATING PALACE. These millionaires have the thing down to a system. Everything—including a bar, which is in full swing when the ship is outside the three-mile limit—is there to make the moments to be remembered for the rest of life. If you tire of the band music, or the music from the grand piano (probably being wrought out by some star pianist) or the gramophone music, or cards, reading in the ship's library, or tennis, or smoking in the smoking room, there is always the movies. Sure, movies! They've got a pretty good theatre aboard and enough films to make the trip interesting, of themselves. Also there are a couple of movie cameras with which moving pictures of scenes on board, or ashore during the voyage, may be taken and shown aboard. Oh, yes, these people know how to enjoy themselves.

And what's more, they've a movie star aboard. Fact! She takes part in plays gotten up by the blue-bloods, and it's an open secret that she bosses the rehearsals for all the work like she does in her own studio. Her name is—but we'll wait until we come to her further on in the story.

THE ITINERARY. The route planned by the tourists will enable them to see Iceland and all its beautiful scenery. However, they won't stay there too long, for there are better things ahead. From Iceland the boat will plow the seas to Scandinavia, where the fjords of Norway will be viewed in close range and the wonderful mountain scenery of the Newfoundland of the old-world examined. After taking in most of these, and after romping thru the grassy awards along the sides of the beautiful ravines there, and fishing up the stately rivers, and "doing" the towns, they will be thru even then. Scotland remains. Scotland is to be done. That sentence must stand for weeks of unmitigated joy. Then there's Holland, Amsterdam—where they cut diamonds and so cetera, you know—has long looked good in the eyes of these money lords. That's where their jewels came from, and they want to see how it's done. Also there's Antwerp with a history. Of course Antwerp must be taken in. Well, when they've seen their full of the continent, there still remains old England and her little village of London. London is to be the grand climax. One grand finale—and home. Doesn't it make you sick to think of your pecuniary deficiencies?

AN ARMY OF NOTABLES. Said before that many notables are aboard. Col. Charles B. Warren is one of them. That name may not convey to you just the right significance it holds. You'll understand where it is explained that he's the newly-appointed ambassador to Japan. Colonel Warren is one of the most picturesque figures in America of the present day. The fact that he has been picked for this post will vouch for his size and weight. Relations between America and Japan are at the moment of a most strained nature, and it is a tall order. Just think of the kind of a man England picked for the German ambassadorship previous to the war, and remember that American has picked the same kind of man, and Warren is. He is now taking this restful trip preparatory to assuming his duties in the land of the Mikado. His wife and three sons are accompanying him. The ambassador is a Detroit lawyer. He is no stranger to Newfoundland, as he was the man who argued the American case in the Hague in 1910, when the North-Atlantic fisheries dispute between America and Great Britain was on. "That dispute gave me an opportunity of seeing something of your country," he said. "A year previous I was in aux Basques and went to Portugal. From there I went by American ship to the Straits. The beauty of the Humboldt River, impressed on me then, has remained vivid to this day. I think it is one of the most beautiful spots in the world." "Seeing that you took part in the fisheries dispute, you should know the Newfoundland representatives." It was pointed out to him.

Well, St. John's has had many prominent people here in her day, and there's no denying it. Not often, on the other hand, did they come in such bulk. There are 400 of them, and if ever you were doubtful over the meaning of "the upper four hundred," realize now that the four hundred—and then some—were in this town yesterday. Certainly, there are some citizens who won't soon forget them. Cabies did a roaring trade yesterday afternoon and evening and this morning, while post-card and souvenir sellers were all but cleaned out. The Government, too, did its best. It is said that several thousand dollars' worth of postage stamps were sold—the millionaires procuring them for stamp collections. Whole sheets of stamps were purchased. Let us live in hopes that some other Ark of Millionaires will pop in to see us in the not distant future!

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

QUEBEC'S ULTIMATUM. QUEBEC, June 28. The Quebec City Council, to-night issued an ultimatum to striking policemen and firemen, giving them until to-morrow to report for duty, and insisting that the men accept a ruling of the Board of Arbitration, awarding one dollar a week to policemen and 75 cents to firemen.

NON-COMMITTAL. LONDON, June 28. The question of the advisability of the renewing of the Anglo-Japanese alliance came before Conference of the Empire Premiers to-day, but owing to the British Prime Minister having to attend a conference in connection with the settlement of the coal strike, discussion was limited to brief statements by Lord Curzon and Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, and the discussions were confidential, and at the close no communique was issued to the press, but it is understood they were of a very non-committal character.

REQUESTS A CONFERENCE. DUBLIN, June 28. Mr. De Valera has written to Sir James Craig, Ulster Premier, Earl Middlesbrough, who in 1920 advocated one Parliament for the South, with six Ulster counties under the Imperial Parliament, Sir Maurice Dockwell, M. P. for Galway Division of Dublin County, who was returned as a Unionist supporter of the Coalition Government, except to his Irish policy of Home Rule, Sir Robert Henry Woods, member of Parliament for Dublin University, and former President of the Royal College of Surgeons, in London, and Andrew Jameson, asking them to meet him at the Mansion House Dublin on Monday, for a conference. He wishes to discuss with them, in his hand, the views of certain sections of the people they represent.

NO HOPE FOR ESPERANTO. HALIFAX, N.S., June 28th. The International fishing schooner racer, Esperanto, which was reported Monday to have been raised forty feet off a sand bank at Sable Island, where she had foundered, has sunk again to bottom, according to a message received here. A Southern Mail is thought to have been responsible.

CRAIG DECLINED. BELFAST, June 28th. Sir James Craig, Ulster Premier, declined to-day an invitation extended him by Mr. DeValera, Irish Republican Leader, to meet DeValera in Dublin on Monday. The invitation was contained in letters to the Ulster Premier and four other eminent Irishmen outside of DeValera's party.

FAMOUS MOVIE STAR. However, to set your impatient curiosity at rest, we'll tell about the movie star. She's Madge Kennedy—and you all know her, folks. Really and truly, she's here in the flesh. If seeing her with your own eyes, and talking to her with your own tongue, constitute proof, that's all that's necessary. Madge Kennedy is all that one would imagine her to be—pretty, charming and altogether lovable. With her dainty manner, her sly-like walk, her glorious eyes, her beautiful American smile, her graceful, objectless nasal effect, and her girlish way, she's . . . DIVINE! (Eh? Oh, nonsense. Don't be silly. Of course we're not.)

Seriously, though Madge Kennedy is a nice girl. She's married, you know, and her name really isn't Madge Kennedy any longer. However, with the fatal effect of her beauty, etc., when we were presented to her, we entirely lost her new name. In Newfoundland, she was known as "Miss Kennedy." (Oh, you go meet her and see if you wouldn't be taken that way yourself.) Miss Kennedy was very interested to hear that her pictures were shown in St. John's, and seemed to be taken by the idea of their finding their way "all this distance." She was obviously pleased, however, at the intelligence. She said that she might possibly "take in" one of the city theatres last night, and made some queries as to the different ones. As to whether she did or not, however, cannot be stated.

My! what relief. Well, sir, once you slip into these embracing, cloudy garments you've put the half-Nelson on comfort as long as the sun shines. Silk for those who feel they must be clad well inside and out. Cotton for those who must economize.

Wedding Bells.

COOK—LONG. A very quiet wedding was solemnized at the Anglican Cathedral this afternoon, when Miss Annie Laura Allison, daughter of Mr. Walter Long, of the Telegram Office, Canon Bolt, tied the nuptial knot. The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. Walter Field, and the bridesmaid, Ethel and Florence Cook. The room was supported by Mr. Herbert Crocker. The honeymoon will be spent at Hearst's Cottage, the happy party leaving for Carbonear by this evening's train. Many presents testified to the popularity of the newly-wedded couple. Among them being a handsome Morris chair, the gift of the Evening Telegram staff. To Mr. and Mrs. Long we offer every warm felicitation and wish them bon voyage over the sea of life.

Legislative Council.

TUESDAY, June 28th. The session opened at 4 p.m. The following Bills were given a third reading: "An Act to amend Chapter 182 of the Consolidated Statutes (Third Series) entitled, of the Prosecution of the Seal Fishery." "An Act for the Prevention of Venereal Diseases." "The Maintenance of Certain Public Roads, and the Indemnity Bills were introduced and given a first reading. The House adjourned at 5 p.m. until Monday next.

Mr. M. E. Young of Spaniard's Bay was in town last week. His friends were pleased to see him.

Miss Stella Dwyer, daughter of Sergt. and Mrs. Dwyer, has taken a position as Stenographer with the Imperial Import and Export Co. of Burin and left town by this morning's train to start work there. While her friends regret her departure, she has the good wishes of all for every success.

In the absence of the pastor of the Methodist Church, Rev. W. H. Browning, who is attending Conference at St. John's, Rev. J. Joyce of Carbonear occupied the pulpit here during Sunday's services, and his sermons on both occasions were well worth hearing.

Mrs. John S. Taylor and daughter arrived from Pittsburgh, Pa., by Saturday afternoon train and will spend the Summer here with her mother, Mrs. L. Davis of Woodville Road and other friends, who are glad to have her with them again and trust her stay will be most enjoyable. Her husband will join her here later in the Summer.

Government Gets Busy. The deputation of some twenty men which arrived by train yesterday from Spaniard's Bay with the intention of demanding at the Bar of the House either work or supplies for the fishery, has made the Government get busy. Dr. Barnes has been put on the job of satisfying the men's demands and it is likely that a satisfactory settlement will be made to-day. It is said that a large body of men will arrive in town from around the Bay in the course of a few days. The Government will either have to evolve some plan for the future operation of the railway to-day or confess defeat. Which will it be?

Veterans Meet. The unemployed War Veterans held a meeting in the L.S.P.U. hall last night, when the matter of taking action with regard to their present condition was discussed. Prompt and vigorous action was moved, but from matter was deferred until a further meeting is held, some of the veterans preferring to move cautiously in the matter. Several of the men waited at the Prime Minister's office this morning and were promised that something would be done for them during the afternoon.

Harbor Grace Notes.

Miss E. E. Haynes, accountant at Messrs. Archibald Bros., who was on a holiday trip to Canada and the States arrived in the City by the last trip of the S.S. Digby and is now back to town again. Her friends are pleased to know her holiday was a most enjoyable one.

S.S. D. P. Ingraham, (Capt. M. Rose), which has been on Dock for the past week or more, undergoing extensive repairs, came off again this afternoon.

Several Labrador Schooners with their crews got to prosecute the fishery at the various places on the coast during the last few days and, no doubt, the remaining ones that are left to go will be off as well in the course of a day or two. We wish them all a successful voyage and a safe return.

Mr. M. E. Young of Spaniard's Bay was in town last week. His friends were pleased to see him.

WANTS BASEBALL FRIDAY. We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. G. W. B. Ayre in which he protests against the idea of no baseball on other games on Friday, July 1st, which is a whole holiday in commemoration of Beaumont Hamel.

TO-NIGHTS GAME.—The Fedilians and C.E.I. meet to-night in what promises to be the most interesting game in the League Football series played up to the present. There are some slight alterations in the Fedilian line-up, so it is understood. Tait going to his old position of full back and Eric Chafe will replace him at centre half. The C.E.I. have a very strong line up, and some good football should be seen.

As regards to the Naval Prize Money I do not agree with those gentlemen in saying we have received a very rotten deal indeed, at the hands of the government, if Mr. Lacey and Mr. O'Brien would just consider for one minute they would find out that we have received a rotten deal at the hands of ourselves, we must not forget that we signed away The Prize Money, not knowing at the time we were doing so. Now Mr. Editor I can no more in favour with this government than is any other returned man, and I am certainly not in favour with the government in holding back the prize money and I am fighting as hard as any body to get it and I think I can assure my comrades that we will get it, if the Prime Minister can do it. I had a promise on Monday from him that he would do his utmost for us and that we should be thankful. I also wish to inform my comrades that the Prime Minister is giving a written statement on Thursday of what he intend doing re the matter, this and were promised that something would be done for them during the afternoon.

I am Sir, yours truly J. Rodgers. June 28, 1921.
