Paris Green

We have received our Pure English Paris Green, same as we had such a big sale of last season. You know by experience no doubt what a difference there is in Paris Green. This is the kind that mixes easily with water. Don't fail to buy your supply of us this season. Price the lowest.

PURE HELLEBORE—For current worms. Nice fresh lot in last week.
FANS—Palm Leaf Fans for hot weather.
—Little Fellows, 2 for 5c; ordinaries, 2 for 5c, and extra fine ones for 5c. each.
HAMMOCKS—For hot days and shady trees, $1.00 up. We bought before the raise.
CROQUET SETS—4, 6 and 8 ball sets.
KHAKI STATIONERY—Most any style or color you can ask for.
SUMMER READING—Paper covered Novels, 10, 15 and 25c. Magazines, &c.

ERN A. GAUGHELL,

DRUGGIST AND STATIONER.

P. S.—New Writing Papers in last week.

Mr. J. M. Wrong is in Toronto this week on a business trip.

Our lace, silk and tapestry curtains, are best and cheapest. A. J. Anderson.

Aylmer lodge, No 94. I. O. O. F., observe the grave decoration service on Thursday evening, June 28th, at 6 o'clock, sharp.

Miss Ethel Hawke, of Moncton, N. B., is the guest of Mrs. W. E. Murray for a few weeks.

A party consisting of Messrs J. G. Heiter, W. W. White, R. G. Moore, and W. C. Bingham, left on Tuesday afternoon last for a few days bass fishing at Long Point.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Burdick, of Fenwick, and Mrs. W. Burdick, of Chesaning, Mich., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Burdick, this week.

There will be a special meeting of the Lady Macabees at their lodge room, at three o'clock this afternoon, to which all members are specially requested to be present.

We received a full account, of the Sunday school convention at Jaffa, which will appear next week. On account of the length of the article and the late hour we received it, we had neither time to set it nor room to run it.

Mr. J. A. Wing and his daughter, Mrs. Cannon, and her child, of Cleveland, are the guests of the former's daughter, Mrs. F. F. Young, for a short time. Accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Young. They spent Sunday last in London.

The social at Trinity church on Tuesday evening last, was a splendid success, the proceeds at the gate being over $60. The I. O. O. F. band, and a large number of Aylmer citizens were present, and had a good time. Mr. Kelley has an ideal spot for a garden party, and spared no pains or work to give all a pleasant evening.

We have received a number of copies of the Cape Town Argus, and Times from W. R. Hare, which are very interesting. The weekly edition is 36 pages, including cover. It is bound in magazine form, the pages being 13x19 inches. There are also from two to four pages of photo engraving in each issue.

The hotel-keeper at Springfield was found guilty on the charge of selling liquor to a minor, and was fined $10 and costs, the lowest possible fine. His defence was that the liquor was sold by his son, who is only 15 years old, and the boy did not know that the party to whom he sold the liquor was under age. Three other charges were dismissed.

All sister lodges in the town are cordially invited to join in this appropriate ceremony. Each lodge is requested to send their presiding officer and secretary to sit in a general committee, on Saturday evening of this week, to make necessary arrangements. Let there be a hearty response in this matter.

The W.C.T.U. and King's Daughters have accomplished a splendid work in collecting for the India Famine Fund, and yesterday the nice sum of $300, was cabled direct to the Central Committee in India, and there is still a small balance which will be sent later on with money still coming in. The ladies have made a very thorough canvass, but have not urged the matter on any one, simply giving each one, as far as possible, a chance to give, and they have met with a ready response from all classes, which made their work a pleasant one. The collectors names are as follows: Miss Hume, Miss Gregg, Miss Youell, Miss Nairn, Mrs. Wickett, Miss Murray, Mrs. Ambridge, Miss Simpson, Mrs. Ogilvie, Mrs. Conn, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Nesbitt, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Bingham, Mrs. Anger, Miss Matthews. $17 was received from Springfield, $6 from Dunboyne, $6.25 from York St. S., $16.22 from Aylmer public school. Contributions were given liberally by persons in the surrounding country.

On Saturday, the 6th day of June, A. D., 1900, at about half past twelve o'clock, drove out from Mr. Pierce's stable a gaily decked span of greys, and the unpopular but much patronized van, Mr. Curtis handling the ribbons in his own masterly manner was in the rig, and drove up in front of Mrs. Stewart's residence. Simultaneously with the van appeared Dr. Backus and Miss Phelps, who cannot have lived in Aylmer long enough to learn that when a picnic party is announced to leave at half past twelve, it means half past one. They waited. Mr. Curtis on the drivers' seat helped with his whip the horses to fight the flies. Then came Mr. Stripp—another wait. Mrs. Brown and Mr. Brown next hove in sight—another wait. A few bare legged youngsters with baskets came and deposited their burdens and remained dawdling about to see the party off. For all this means that the "Aylmer Reading Club" was holding its fourth annual picnic, Lake Whittaker being its destination. Now a number came together, loaded with parcels and baskets—another wait. Then a staggling member—or two—wait. Three or four more from different directions. Mr. Curtis looks brisk. It seems if they might be away. But Ho! Presto! Where are they gone? Only a few remain in sight. At last from Dr. Kingston's came a bevy of picnickers. Then Dr. Backus (the president of the club) gets together all the members within call, and takes a snap shot with her camera—another wait. Another trap is ordered. The numbers are too numerous for the van even—again a rush. This time from Dr. McLay's, and the missing members re-appear. At last they are off. It is a beautiful drive, and in less than two hours they are at Lake Whittaker. Sweet, quiet little lake nestling amongst the trees, nursing your water lilies, white and yellow, and cherishing in your depths (tradition says) such lovely fish—but we didn't get any—and alas, while seeking these we lost—it is the picnic party speaking now, no disinterested newspaper correspondent. Our baskets carefully in "the soft lap of earth" are placed while we hunt the "finny tribe," or gather water lilies, never dreaming of hidden foes—but the fierce entamed boars rushed from the thicket, and when we returned some of the baskets were left, but their contents—let us draw a veil over this dreadful scene—only before drawing it we would just mention that the gastric juices of these dreadful swine are yet acting upon Miss Blossom Murray's silver spoons—the discernment of these creatures! Our pewter affairs were left unnoticed. But notwithstanding accidents, we enjoyed the picnic, and the moral we would draw from this occurrence is never leave the lunch baskets in charge of a man who suffers from indigestion. He has not enough real interest in them. Yes, it was a gloomy day, and our only regret is there were not more with us to share our sorrows and our joys. Miss Kingston and Mr. Willie Kingston, with their friends from Toronto, were a happy addition to the party. Mr. Kilmer had an opportunity of gathering Botanical specimens, and taking some good snap shots. Although we did not get home until eleven o'clock, and were tired, no one seemed to regret having gone, and now we are rested again, everybody is glad he was there.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles and feel the results in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, run-down feeling, but, "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man" writes J. W. Gardner, of Idaville, Ind., "when he is all run-down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50c. Every bottle guaranteed by J. E. Richards druggist.
