MANILA HAS FALLEN!

Paris, July 29.—A dispatch from Madrid to the Paris edition of the New York Herald says the Spanish Government has received a cable message announcing the surrender of Manila to Admiral Dewey.

THE TERMS OF PEACE.

Washington, July 28.—The terms which the United States Government will find acceptable as a basis of peace are being reduced to form by Secretary Day, the president having reached a conclusion on their outlines. The terms were the formal subject of interest and discussion today in official circles. There is the best reason to believe, after the full conference the president has had in dividing with the members of his cabinet, that he has already made up his own mind, and that Secretary Day has even now practically reduced to form the reply the United States Government will make to the Spanish Government's overture through Ambassador Cambon. About the only point that seems to be open to an amendment of extensive character is the disposition of the Philippines. While the administration has not failed to take the question into consideration, it has been reached to abide by the first decision on this point, namely, to relinquish the islands, retaining a coaling station there, surrounded by a sufficient zone of land to make it self-supporting. This decision, it is possible, though not probable, may be again changed before the cabinet disposes of the matter tomorrow, as strong influences are at work to induce the president to insist upon the substitution of at least an independent government over the Philippines for Spanish rule. If this point should be difficult of settlement, the answer to Spain may not be rendered, but may have to await upon another cabinet meeting next Tuesday. The report from Madrid towards the close of the day that the newspapers there had given their approval to the terms of peace described by the president, and that the Spanish government was prepared to accept the terms of peace attributed to President McKinley as being acceptable. The press, however, protest against a continuance of hostilities by the United States after Spain has sued for peace.

THE FEELING IN EUROPE.

London, July 28.—The Madrid correspondent of the Daily Mail, remarking "the feeling of satisfaction and relief of the peace overtures have produced," says: "There is little probability of popular discontent and none at all if Spain is allowed to retain the Philippines and is not compelled to pay indemnity. The attitude of the people makes the chances of Don Carlos small. Moreover, the Carlists are said to disagree about the advisability of raising the Marquis de Cerralbo and other leaders opposing the step. Nevertheless, it is feared that Don Carlos will insist upon it."

The Berlin correspondent of the Times says the terms of peace which America imposes occasion surprise there, as much too harsh. The National Gazette remarks that the United States have not won a victory signal enough to warrant such harsh terms, and expresses the opinion that the prospects of peace, in consequence, are gloomy. The Times, commenting editorially upon the suggestion of the National Gazette, says: "The suggestion from would-be friends of Spain merely shows that these critics entirely fail to grasp the military significance of America's sea power. Only by prompt and straightforward dealings with President McKinley can Spain hope to prevent the fruition of the American policy, the advantages of which even peace-loving, moderate Americans cannot ignore."

The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "The project of a European conference regarding the Philippines was brought forward long ago, and there is every prospect that the conference will meet in Paris."

A special dispatch from Madrid says the government does not conceal that it hesitated for some days to go beyond an official exploration at Washington, because the diplomatic agents, to make the soundings, gave conflicting accounts of President McKinley's disposition. One represented him as eager to terminate the war on moderate conditions; the other that onerous conditions would be imposed, so much that the Madrid government thought it useless to sue officially. When, however, it was seen that the American war preparations continued, Duke Almodovar de Rio, minister of foreign affairs, was instructed to send the note. The cabinet met Wednesday evening to deliberate as to the best means and channel of negotiations. Paris and London were both discussed. No decision was arrived at, but a majority feeling in favor of direct negotiations without interference from outsiders, even with regard to the Philippines. President McKinley's reply to the Spanish ultimatum, the premier said, is acceptable basis, the negotiations will make progress. A speedy settlement and not least so because at the present moment public opinion is in favor of peace. The cabinet council, Senor Sagasta, the premier, said he had grounds for hoping that an understanding might be arrived at, but he could say nothing definite. Duke Almodovar de Rio said the European cabinets had been informed of the step Spain had taken, but not as to the content of the note sent to President McKinley. The cabinet council will not meet again until Friday evening, by which time the president's reply is expected. The Ministerial el Correo says the government communicated to the queen regent-in-council a dispatch intimating that President McKinley in principle assented to the opening of negotiations. El Imparcial says that the Carlist agitation, which at first appeared to have been trampled out, has recommenced in the province of Canaria and in parts of Navarre.

PANDO ESCAPED TO HAVANA.

Santiago, July 28.—There is every reason to believe that Gen. Pando, with the troops which were under his command in the Province of Santiago de Cuba, has been successful in escaping and reaching Havana with the whole of his troops.

Along the northern coast of Cuba, stretching from Nuevitas, in the district of Puerto Principe, to Cardenas in that of Matanzas, is a long system of keys, or reefs. These are four miles from the shore, and the water within them is so shallow that only boats of light draught can use it. These keys, therefore, present a bulwark against the vessels of the squadron which seized the harbor of Nipe and destroyed the cruiser Jorge Juan.

The Spaniards, however, have a large number of shallow draught vessels within the keys, which carry on a lively trade along the coast, and take care of the provisions to Havana. When Gen. Pando first came to the Province of Santiago, he used a number of these boats as transports, and it is stated that he has been successful in again reaching them and re-embarking his men for Cardenas, whence he will go to Havana by rail.

It was in anticipation of some such move, and to cut off his retreat by this route, that the American vessels occupied Nipe, but their work was useless, seeing that Pando had already sailed from Nuevitas farther to the west. He is now safely within the keys on his way to Cardenas, and there is no way of intercepting him, as the Americans have no light boats suitable for the purpose.

Admiral Sampson has called the attention of the war department to the urgent need for river boats to be sent him, so that the keys may be entered and commerce with Havana stopped.

A TERRIBLE SICK LIST.

Washington, July 28.—The war department tonight posted the following: "Adjutant of the army—Condition for the 27th: Total sick, 4,122; cases fever, 3,163; new cases fever, 822; cases fever returned to duty, 542; deaths, 3. (Signed) Shafter, major-general."

CAMARA'S FLEET HOME.

Madrid, July 28.—Capt. Anson, minister of marine, has received a dispatch from Admiral Camara, announcing that his fleet has cast anchor at Cadiz.

THE CUBAN DEBT.

London, July 28.—The Daily Graphic this morning points out that there is a probability of an international question arising over the difficulty of dealing with the Cuban debt, since a majority of the Spanish bond holders are Frenchmen.

MILES ON THE MARCH.

Washington, July 28.—No word came from Gen. Miles today and the war department assumes that he is pursuing his advance across the island of Porto Rico toward San Juan. They attach little credence to the Spanish account of a battle at Yauca, resting confident in the belief that when the facts are known it will be found that this was a victory of the usual Spanish type, resulting in the complete achievement of the object of the American commanders. Considerable reinforcements are now arriving to support Miles, and before the week is over the campaign there will be in full swing.

SICK COMING HOME.

Washington, July 28.—The Leona, which arrived at Newport News yesterday from Santiago, is now on her way to New York. She has on board sick and wounded soldiers, including Gen. Corbin's son. The health authorities at Newport News did not want any more sick landed at that point, and the Washington authorities consented to send the vessel north.

PEACE AT ALMOST ANY PRICE.

New York, July 28.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says: President McKinley can get peace within 24 hours—including the surrender of Manila and Porto Rico—if he will waive indemnity in money. He will not have to believe in the political parties, in their statements and in their generals. Even the press has sadly lost prestige because it has systematically led the people to believe in castles in the air both before and during the war. So now all parties care for their material interests and are anxious to escape from a griping of the country's finances by a heavy war indemnity. It is remarkable that the majority of the nation seems to regard it as a foregone conclusion that the queen and the cabinet will accept almost any conditions in order to secure peace. The ministers and the generals have come to the conclusion that they have little to fear now in the way of military resistance and discontent, which would have been formidable if led only by Weyler or assuming the form of a revolution.

SPAIN'S SICK KING

His Illness a Sore Trial for the Queen Regent.

Her Own Health Much Shaken—The King Is Cheerful.

New York July 28.—A dispatch to the World from Madrid says: Queen Christina is deeply distressed by her son's illness, coming in the midst of national reverses. Her own health is much shaken by cares and sleepless nights. The first attendant to notice that the youthful king was ailing was Col. Lorica, one of Alfonso's professors. Gen. Sanchez, the chief of the military household, immediately informed the queen, who sent for Drs. Candela, Bastos and Ledesma. They put the king to bed, but for 24 hours could only say the fever was rising rapidly, his temperature was 39 centigrade (102.2 Fahrenheit), he had a headache, his face was flushed, and his eyes were abnormally brilliant.

The queen watched her son for two nights. When told that the measles had developed, but presented only an ordinary character, she went to her private oratory and knelt on the floor, sobbing and crying bitterly. Then she recovered her composure, called the Infanta Isabella (her sister-in-law) and asked her to take care of her (the queen's daughter, the Princess Asturia, and the Princess Teresa, whose quarters are at the other end of the palace, in order that they might escape the contagion. For fifteen days the queen will not see them, having resolved to remain by her son.

His faithful old valet, Antonio, and his English nurse, take turns with the officers in the sick room. The king is a very cheerful invalid, especially when his mother is with him. She reads aloud to him, despite the advice of the doctors, and takes little food or rest. Very cordially the told her ministers who had children that he would dispense with their attendance.
