Active Co-operation of British Naval and Land Forces—An Object Lesson for Russia.

London, Nov. 22.—A Cape Town dispatch of the 21st says: The British troops reoccupied Naauw Port on Sunday. It is announced from Naauw Port that the Boers are repairing the bridges previously destroyed by them.

According to the Cape Times, it is because the Boer invasion of Cape Colony was against orders. The same authority says that no defense of Bloemfontein is intended. U. S. Consul-General Stowe, who has just visited the Boer prisoners on board the Penelope, at Simon's Town, is interesting himself to secure good treatment for the British prisoners at Pretoria, and has authorized Mr. Macrum, the United States consul there, to honor the checks of the British officers to the extent of £1,500, and generally to do his best in their behalf.

Naauw Port is south of Colesburg, held by the Boers, and on the railway line of the Orange Free State. It was abandoned by a small British garrison some time ago.

The reoccupation of Naauw Port is good news for the British. It is not known from what source the troops came, but it is claimed they were from De Aar, in which event it will not be long before Stormberg is also re-occupied. Naauw Port commands the gap in the Kikkorsburg, the last strong fighting position south of the Orange River, and was admirably suited to Boer tactics.

FIGHTING AT MOOI RIVER. London, Nov. 22.—Late last evening, the war office made public two dispatches from Gen. Buller at Cape Town. The first had been received from Gen. Clery, dated Monday, Nov. 20, and announced that three privates were wounded the previous day at Mooi River.

AT MAFEKING. The second was from Col. Baden-Powell, dated at Mafeking, Nov. 9, saying: "All well here. We have had a few successful sorties. Our loss is 2 officers and 17 men killed, and 4 officers and 23 wounded. The enemy's loss is heavy. His numbers are decreasing, but his guns remain and shell us, keeping out of reach of our small guns. Have had no news from the outside since Oct. 20."

LADYSMITH ALL RIGHT. The London Daily Mail publishes the following dispatch from Pietermaritzburg: "An official communication from Ladysmith, dated Nov. 18, says the garrison is maintaining its position. A Boer force is reported to the rear of Boston, a day's ride from here."

JOUBERT'S MOVEMENTS. The war correspondent of the Standard at Estcourt telegraphs as follows, under Monday's date: "No actual confirmation can be obtained of the report that Gen. Joubert has moved from his position in front of Ladysmith. Our patrols and spies have ascertained beyond a doubt that several small commandos are working southward."

There is a growing belief that we will move toward Ladysmith at the end of this week. A Durban dispatch says: The government has received the following dispatches from Col. Roystone, commandant of the volunteers at Ladysmith, under date of Nov. 16: "All the volunteers and police are well and there are plentiful supplies for man and horse. All was quiet yesterday (Wednesday), and the same condition exists this morning. There has been no further bombardment and the effects hitherto have been trifling. We are anxious for news from the south. Col. Roystone's dispatch from Ladysmith finally disposes of all reports of another great British victory there last Wednesday."

WORK OF THE BOERS. London, Wednesday, Nov. 22. 5 a.m.—It is announced from Durban that communication with Estcourt is interrupted, which seems to confirm the belief that a Boer commando has established itself at Willow Grange or near the Mooi River, and have cut the telegraph wires. Nevertheless, whatever definite knowledge the British commanders may have obtained from the scouts of the disposition of the Boer commando in Natal and the conditions of the beleaguered garrison, particularly, nothing has been allowed to develop for the public information.

THE RELIEF MOVEMENT. It is certain that owing to the heavy work of debarkation and entraining at Durban the preparations for the relief force are in no wise so far advanced as was supposed. This may also be due to the necessity of forwarding stores to the front in needful quantities before the troops are sent. On the other hand the quickness with which troops are being rushed forward from Cape Town equally tends to show that all such preparations regarding forage and provisions were advanced before the troops arrived at Cape Town. Gen. Methuen's baggage has arrived at De Aar, addressed to "Lord Methuen, Pretoria, via Cape Town."
