"NO SEAT HALF FARE"

New York Women Fight Against the Crowded Cars—Not Crusade.

New York, Nov. 13. — Brooklyn women are joining a "no-seat-half-fare" crusade. They are arrayed against the street car companies as unanimously as are Manhattan organizations. In Brooklyn, the situation is quite as bitter as in Manhattan, and it is complained that the crowding and jostling are even more disagreeable in Brooklyn.

The unanimity of Brooklyn club women in support of the movement is marvelous. Mrs. C. W. Fiske, the president of the Brooklyn Women's Republican Union League, is an earnest advocate of the car crusade. She said: "There remains not an element of doubt that the State Federation of Women's Clubs will adopt a motion to appoint a committee to pursue street car reform, and that this significant task has devolved on women is a most fortunate circumstance. The federation will concentrate every energy toward the furtherance of legislation, and I believe a legislative fight in Albany will result in success for the women. All that is necessary is to invite the legislators to this city to see for themselves what misery their people endure in going to and from their homes."

CHICAGO SOCIALIST

Celebrated Anniversary of the Haymarket Riots Tuesday Night.

Chicago, Nov. 12. — The fifteenth anniversary of the execution on Nov. 11, 1887, of the four anarchists convicted in connection with the Haymarket riot of May 4, 1886, was observed by a meeting at North Side Turner Hall last night by representatives of 32 different organizations, mostly of an anarchistic tendency.

R. Grossman, a New York writer, under sentence of five years in Paterson, N. J., on a charge of inciting a riot, reviewed the events leading up to the Haymarket affair, criticized the trial, drew an inspiration from the execution and compared his own experience in Paterson with that of the Haymarket rioters.

George Brown, of Philadelphia, arraigned all forms of government as inimical to liberty, and declared that anarchism's mission is to destroy government. He declared that when the bomb exploded in Haymarket square it showed that the government in a republic is like the governments of all the world over.

"No matter what the form, government is organized injustice, maintained by violence," he declared. "The American people had blown for themselves a beautiful bubble. It was the belief that government and liberty were identical. That bomb exploded the bubble. Ciancabilla drew applause when he declared that labor had little to expect from the arbitration commission appointed by President Roosevelt in the miners' strike."

HYPNOTIZED MAN TOLD OF TRAGEDY

Startling Story of a Double Murder Down South.

SECRET SECURED BY HYPNOTIST

Result May Be the Arrest and Conviction of a Band of Southern Assassins.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 12.—A week ago Gugie Bourquin, the head of an old French Huguenot family, and owner of landed estates, including one of the finest game preserves in the South, was assassinated in his buggy on his lands, seven miles from this city. In the buggy with him was an aged negro retainer named Fred Taylor, who had been a body servant of Bourquin for more than 40 years. The bodies of both master and servant were found with heads and backs riddled with buckshot.

Tuesday an escaped convict named Miller was picked up by the officers. At the police station he made a most vehement declaration that he had shot and killed Bourquin and Taylor. He was put under hypnotic influence by a leading physician, and his trance he said that he had not fired the shot, but that he had heard them. Again he was hypnotized and he told through what he alleged to be his connection with the tragedy.

On being brought under hypnotic influence he was placed in a buggy with two officers and the retainer. He drove the horse skillfully through the most crowded streets of the city without the slightest hesitancy or error and took the road leading into the country. On the way he pointed out the objects and places that had attracted him while on the alleged murder errand. Seven miles in the country he stopped and indicated a fallen tree.

"Sapp came out from behind that," he said; "had a gun and game bag. He made me get in the buggy. Sapp showed me a white man and a negro in a buggy coming down the road. He said the white man had killed his dog and one of his friends and he was going to kill him. Sapp said, 'No, he can help us; let him go.' They promised me $25 if I would say I did it. I said I would say it was me, and Sapp said I must meet him at Bunker's store next day and get the money. I was at Bunker's two days, and the money and Sapp did not come. I was waiting for the money when the detectives caught me."

"Why, here is your money," said the physician who was conducting the experiment, placing his hand in that of Miller. The convict assumed an injured air at once. Why didn't you give it to me when you promised? he demanded, indignantly. Closing his hand quickly, he stuffed the imaginary bills into his pocket and chuckled at the thought that he had been rewarded.

Miller, in his own state, described the alleged Sapp and his three companions so minutely that four men with whom Bourquin is known to have had trouble are under surveillance, and will probably be arrested.

Cholera Among U. S. Soldiers.

Manila, Nov. 13. — Cholera made its appearance yesterday among the men of a detachment of the Fifth Infantry, which is stationed here. Seven of them have already died and a number of others are seriously ill.

The detachment of the Fifth Infantry in question had been placed on guard along the Marquina River, whence Manila receives its water supply. It was feared that the cholera would protect the stream from possible pollution. The cholera developed while the men were on this duty. It was believed that cholera had been entirely destroyed from Manila, and that the appearance has created a general feeling of apprehension.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS

Of a New Catarrh Cure.

A large and constantly increasing majority of the American people are catarrh sufferers. This is not entirely the result of our climate, but because modern investigation has clearly proven that many diseases, known by other names, are really catarrhs. Formerly, catarrhs were applied almost exclusively to the common nasal catarrh, but the throat, stomach, liver, bladder, kidneys and intestines are subject to catarrhal diseases as well as the nasal passages.

In fact, wherever there is mucous membrane there is a feeding ground for catarrh. The usual remedies, inhalers, sprays, douches or powders, have been practically failures, as far as anything more than temporary relief is concerned, because they simply dry up the mucous secretions, without having the real effect upon the blood and liver, which are the real sources of catarrhal diseases.

It has been known for some years that the radical cure of catarrh could never come from local applications, but from an internal remedy, acting on the blood and expelling the catarrhal poison from the system.

A new internal preparation which has been on the market only a short time, has met with remarkable success as a genuine radical cure for catarrh.

It may be found in any drug store, sold under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, large and pleasant-tasting lozenges, composed principally of anti-septic ingredients, Blood Root, Red Gum and similar catarrh specifics. Dr. Ainslie, the physician who has used the new catarrh cure, says: "I have tried the new catarrh remedy Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, upon 80 or 40 patients with remarkable success. It has the effect of clearing the head and throat more effectively and lastingly than any douche or inhaler that I have ever seen, and although the tablets are a pleasant and effective medicine and sold by druggists, I do not hesitate to recommend them, as I know them to be free from cocaine, and cathartics, and that every child may use them with entire safety."

Any sufferer from nasal catarrh, throat or bronchial trouble, catarrh of the stomach, liver or bladder will find Stuart's Catarrh Tablets remarkably effective, pleasant and convenient, and your druggist will tell you they are absolutely free from any injurious drug.

A RENOVATED HUSBAND

A Thankful Letter from a Wife Who Reformed a Dissipated Husband With Tasteless Samaria Prescription.

She Says: "To-day He is a Perfect Man."

"I do not know how to express my gratitude to the Samaria Prescription which you sent me some weeks ago. It has produced astonishing effects on my husband. My pen cannot express the feeling of gratitude I have. We owe to you my husband's life, who was a wreck in health and in business. To-day he is a perfect man, which he had not been for the last three years on account of the drink habit he had acquired. I find money order for another treatment for a friend's husband, whose case is quite similar to my own husband's case."—Madame A. Villeneuve.

HE RAN OFF WITH BRANTFORD GIRL

Asa Townsend Secures a Pretty Canadian Bride.

ELOPED WITH HIS OWN WIFE

The Unusual Procedure of a Young Michigan Man—Searching for the Fugitives.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 13. — The elopement and marriage of Asa J. Townsend, nationally famous as a sprinter and general athlete, has just come to light. Townsend's home is in this city, but he spends very little time here. Last summer he met Miss Maude Knight, a beautiful young woman of 18 years, at Mt. Clemens, where Townsend was recuperating.

Her home originally was in Brantford, Ont. Miss Knight went to the home of a friend in Jeffersonville, Ind., in September, and Townsend followed. Oct. 8 the marriage took place. The bride was a well known and of high social standing, and the only reason for the elopement was the tender years of the bride and the strict seclusion in which her parents kept her. Both families are entirely reconciled.

A CURIOUS CASE. Detroit, Nov. 13. — The News says: If Mr. and Mrs. Clay Kingsley, of Salem, Mich., are in Detroit, they will convey an everlasting favor and great relief on some 30 or 40 of their relatives, who arrived in the city today to look for them, by making their exact whereabouts known.

Clay, according to the story of one of his relatives who came to the News office in the progress of the search, is now 20 years old, but will be 21 tomorrow. For two years, in fact, ever since their wedding day, he and his wife have lived on the farm at Salem, which belongs to Mrs. Charles Kingsley, of Ann Arbor.

On Oct. 28 Clay hitched up the family nag and he and his wife in their best store clothes drove away, the wife calling back to the hired man, as they passed out of the barn yard, that they would be back for supper.

Since then Clay and his wife have not been back, and the relatives who are out to search for them, whereabouts, have only been able to learn that they drew $500, which they had in the bank at Salem, left the horse and buggy at Plymouth, and took a train.

Some of the neighbors who came to Detroit a few days later have an idea that they saw Clay and his wife on Woodward avenue, all togged out in new things, and, working on the theory that they are here now, the relatives have set out to find them and inquire if they are going back to the farm.

"We haven't any idea of foul play," said Clay's sister, "but we can't see what on earth they wanted to elope like that. If the boy had eloped with someone else, it would have been different, but with his own wife—ain't it funny?"

Burned Out. St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 13. — Fire early yesterday destroyed the Hudnut Hominy Mills, causing a loss of $100,000.

Welland, Ont., Nov. 12. — Garner's cooper shop was burned here last night. No insurance. Cause supposed to be incendiary.

PE-RU-NA IS THE SAILOR'S SAFEGUARD

"Give Me My Compass and Pe-ru-na and I Will Steer Clear of All Wrecks."

Pe-ru-na Known and Praised on Land and Sea.

The Sailor, as Well as the Landsman,

Has Tested the Virtue of This World-Famous Catarrh Remedy.

"A sick sailor is a pretty helpless man. I have found that Pe-ru-na will do more to restore me than any other medicine I know, and I have carried a couple of bottles on board for many seasons. Seven years ago Pe-ru-na cured me of bronchial trouble in a few weeks and gave me such new life and nerve force that I certainly believe in telling you of it."

"Give me my compass and Pe-ru-na and I will steer clear of wrecks of all kinds and land in port safe and well with vessel and men."—Capt. L. T. Carter, 123 10th Avenue, Pensacola, Florida.

Capt. E. A. Watson, M. E., 48 Elizabeth Street, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "Pe-ru-na has my heartiest endorsement. If there is any place that you are helpless when ill it is on board a steamer, at sea, miles away from any assistance. Sometimes two or three of my men would be sick at one time and seriously cripple the force, but since we have learned of the value of Pe-ru-na, by taking a few doses they recuperate very quickly. We use it for colds, lung trouble and kidney diseases, and have also found it very fine for la grippe."

Pe-ru-na is always one of the most important supplies of my steamer."—E. A. Watson.

Pe-ru-na is known and praised on land and sea. The sailor, as well as the landsman, has tested the virtue of this world's famous remedy. Captain Carter says: "I have carried Pe-ru-na on board with me for many seasons. Seven years ago, Pe-ru-na cured me of bronchial catarrh."

COMMANDER U. S. NAVY. Commander Somerville Nicholson, of the United States Navy, in a letter from 187 R. Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., says:

"Your Pe-ru-na has been and is now used by so many of my friends and acquaintances as a sure cure for catarrh that I am convinced of its curative qualities and I unhesitatingly recommend it to all persons suffering from that complaint."—S. Nicholson.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-ru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
