How Are You Getting Along With the New Building?

Inquiries of this nature are numerous these days, and we are glad to hear them, for it tells us that the citizens of London and vicinity feel an interest in their new shopping house, which we are pleased to say is now nearing completion. Plastering and decorating is almost completed. The new elevators are being placed, the flooring will soon be commenced, and by midsummer we expect the new fixtures, counters, glass cases, show windows, etc., (WHICH ARE NOW GIVING EMPLOYMENT TO DOZENS OF SKILLED WORKMEN RIGHT HERE IN LONDON) will be ready, and the new section opened to the public with all the equipments, conveniences and appointments of modern store architecture.

Inquiries come from some with a tone of impatience, BUT WHAT IS WORTH DOING IS WORTH DOING WELL, and the problem of building a house and living in it while you build is not an easy one, and we have learned it's best not to become over-anxious, but make the best of existing conditions, and remember the advice of the poet: "Learn to labor and to wait." At present we feel safe in predicting completion in about two months.
