Caused by steady application to school books causes the development of a great many defects of vision. Latent eye-trouble develops under a strain of this kind into something serious ere you are a ware. Have the eyes of your boys and girls examined at the beginning of every school term to make sure that they are right. Our charge for making the correct test is always moderate, and should there be any little defect that needs our attention, the sooner it is discovered and corrected, the better for the welfare of the child.

Sergt. Nanfan Enlists In 33rd Battalion, and Will Go To the Front.

ONCE MIDGET OF ARMY

Fought in Egyptian Campaign in at Finish at Khartoum.

At one time the youngest and smallest soldier in the British army, in which he enlisted when he was only years of age, and a midget of 3 feet 11 inches hight, and now a veteran of many campaigns, Sergt. A. W. Nanfan years ago he came to Canada and was has enlisted again with the 33rd Battalion, and expects and hopes to see fighting once more. Sergt. Nanfan will be sergeant-instructor of bugles and drums in the 33rd, a rank which he has held for many years. He enlisted in the Grenshort sword or dirk, which was part said, that had ever left the school of the uniform of the bandsmen of the Guards. In all the fighting which he has taken part, he has never once structed the band of the 21st Regiment sounded the "retreat." In Egyptian Campaign.

Nantan first saw fighting in the Egyptian campaign of 1882, when he was sent under the command of the Duke of Connaught, at present the Governor-General of Canada, to help quell the uprising of the Arabs against the Khedive, He arrived in Alexandria while it was still smoking and smouldering in ruins along the waterfront, from the bombardment of the British and French fleets. From Port Said, with Sir Garnet Wolseley, afterwards Lord Garnet Wolseley, he made the long desert march to Ishmali and to Tel-El-Mahuta, the scene of the first pitched battle. Soon after, the force defeated the natives at Tel-El-Kebir, and Sergt. Nanfan was ordered home.

ngly, if at all, if you want to keep our hair looking its best. Mos: soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This iries the scalp, makes the hair orittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless) it's cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will easily, removing every particle of oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.
