HORSE RACING IN THE OLD COUNTRY

Bayardo Meets His Fate Goodwood-Polo Cup Inte national-Sporting Notes Great Britain

Bayardo, the revered of the publicand the idol of his owner, met his fate at Goodwood, when starting with odds at 20 to 1 laid on him he was beaten by H. E. Beddington's Mag in the Gold Vase, It was probably the biggest sensation of the season. For this race they had the old-fashione flag start. Magic soon established long lead, and not till they had gor a mile and a half and were sweepin down the hill at the end of the straigh did Danny Maher start to make u ground. The majority waited to see the American jockey take the lead. Bay ardo drew almost level, but his jocke was riding him by this time and Rick aby was out to win his race. A few strides they were larged. was not to be done, for the chestnu was going as strong as a lion. Therwas a gasp, a shout and then a rush Magic had won by a neck and there was general grief that Bayardo had gone once too often to the well, and perhaps had £10,000 lopped off his value by that defeat. Mr. Fairie's colblew and sweated on returning to the paddock, but the symptoms were only such as might be expected of any horse after a hard race. He was giving Magic nearly double the weightfor-age allowance, and this, of course mitigates his defeat to some extent.

Interesting details of an eminently business like plan of campaign in regard to the recovery of the International Polo cup have been issued by the Hurlingham club. The fact that the Old Etonians were unable to go to the United States as arranged this summer has not disconcerted the polo authorities, who are determined to move steadily ahead in their effort to get back the trophy. Briefly it has been decided to send a team across the Atlantic next spring. Captain Hardress Lloyd, who was appointed captain as far back as last February, will lead the team, and will invite the following players to accompany him: Captain F. W. Barrett, W. S. Buckingham, Captain L. St. J. C. Cheape, A. N. Edwards, R. N. Grenfell, Captain Mathew Lannowe, and E. W. Palmes. Possibly several more will be asked to make the Interesting details of an emine Lannowe, and E. W. Palmes. Possibly several more will be asked to make the journey. Hurlingham hope it will be possible to play the international matches the end of May, so that the players will be able to return to England for the champion cup, the final of which will be played June 25. If the Americans agree to this suggestion it will be quite a concession on their part, for it will mean that the concession for it will mean that the concession will be decided several weeks before the American polo season reaches its height and players and ponies alike will now need to become ready for serious play earlier than usual.

Charlie Heffernon, champion of South Africa, who was placed second in the Olympic Marathon race, met G. W. Gardiner, the crack English runner, in a four mile race at Newbury, the Colonial winning by 2 1-2 yards. The event was described as an international championship and was described. championship and was for a purse of $125. The course was a small one, and to cover the four miles it had to be covered thirty-eight times. The men raced practically side by side until the bell on the last lap, when Heffernon darted away at a great page Cardinar beil on the last lap, when Heffernon darted away at a great pace, Gardiner followed in hot pursuit and a magnificent struggle ensued. Heffernon's effort was well timed and he won by the distance stated.

In a little over two weeks time—to be precise September 1—the football season will again be ushered in. Association league players have already started training for the campaign. There seems to be considerable doubt as to how the big professional clubs will fare, as there are not a dozen who made a profit last season. The threatened strike of players last season killed a great deal of interest in the game, though the low standard of play was responsible for the falling off in the attendance at the various grounds. There is no doubt that the game has been made too much of a business, and people are more concerned than they were with the sport of the thing. It is not nice to know that success comes to the club with most money; and the football association will have to make many alterations in their rules so as to prevent the rich clubs buying up talent.

The annual contest for the Wingfield sculls and amateur championship of the Thames took place recently over the Putney to Mortlake course and was won by W. D. Kinmear. The holder
A. A. Stuart, of the Kingston R. C., did not defend the title, but considerable interest was taken in the meeting of Mr. Kinnear and W. D. Bourne, New College, Oxford, owing to the fact that the latter had only met defeat by three-quarters of a length for the London-cup. In the sculls Kinnear finished winner by ten lengths in the good time of 23 mins. 12 secs.
Though, owing to rough weather, J.
Wolffe had to abandon his practice swim from Calais to Dunkirk in preparation for his cross-Channel attempt, he achieved a fine performance by swimming ten miles in a very heavy sea. Those on board the motor boat accompanying Wolffe had an exciting time when about a mile off Gravelines.

Glorious weather favored the second international match of the English F.

A. teams' tour played in Johannesburg against an eleven of South Africa and when the same was started there were when the game was started there were when the game was started there were 13,000 spectators on the ground. At half time the English team led by 3 to 1. The visitors continued to increase the lead and when time was up were winners, 6 to 2.

During the last few years there has been a rare shuffling of the fortunes of county cricket teams. The results of matches between Kent and Yorkshire.

afford evidence which is not at all exhas changed. A short time ago York-shire were pre-eminent. They treated Kent in much the same way as they dealt with other counties, and the treatment consisted for the greater part of meting out defeat with an air
