The bill in its entirety has never been equaled by this ever-progressive amusement resort. In the individual features offered some of the best talent and most striking novelties are promised. First on the list is the children's friend, Johnnie Purvis, the celebrated English clown and his two comical educated donkeys, Jack and John. Mrs. celebrated English clown and his two comical educated donkeys, Jack and John. Mrs. and Miss Sage, the musical wonders, are Canadians, and perform all the latest popular melodies of the day upon the magical musical glasses. The human pile driver and vise, Wm. Lee Roy, will drive big spikes into an oak board with his naked fists and will extract the same with his teeth and the Japanese workmen will be seen at their peculiar line of work. In the theatre the World's Fair Company will hold forth. This excellent company is headed by the European wonder, De Mora, the human serpent, the wonder of the 19th century, in the most astonishing, original and sensational contortion acts that this generation has ever produced. Miss Adelis Purvis, from the Paris Hippodrome, will appear in a beautiful program on the swinging wire, concluding with a wonderful juggling act on a revolving globe. Graham's latest New York success by the Sheppard Sisters, Mamie and Jennie, will also be given. Last but not least is Mile. Garetta, with absolutely the greatest novelty of the age, the world-renowned peer of all bird educators with her latest novelty, the unarvelous gymnastic and acrobatic cockatoos and 50 of the best trained pigeons in existence.

Of Special Interest to Ladies.

Messrs. Robert Walker & Sons have a splendid display of new fall goods. Such a varied, extensive and well-selected assortment of the latest novelties has rarely if ever been offered to the public. Mr. Herbert Walker has just returned from a trip to Walker has just returned from a trip to Europe, where he has made unusally large purchases for the coming season. His excellent judgment and thorough knowledge of the requirements and conditions of the market enable the firm to offer unusual advantages to customers. The display of mantles, comprising extensive lines of new and fashionable designs, presents a bewildering variety; every lady can be sure of having a large range of becoming styles to select from at the most reasonable prices. In novelty dress goods the selection is equally varied and attractive. No purchaser can be sure of having familiarized herself with the latest and most fashionable styles accessible without a visit to this establishment. A special feature which has been found of great convenience to many out-of-town customers is the mail order department, by means of which those living at a distance can have the same advantages of selection as are offered by inspection of the stock, samples being forwarded to those desiring their. The firm is showing commendable enterprise in introducing all modern improvements in business methods, resulting in saving time and trouble to the public, and is bound to maintain its old-time prestige. Their efforts have hitherto been rewarded by the appreciation of the best class of customers, and the success of the fall opening is auspicious of a vastly extended business in the future. Robert Walker & Son's great drygoods house is an institution of which Torontonians may be proud. Europe, where he has made unusally large

To Joseph Herris, Esq.:

The members of the grain section of the Board of Trade of the City of Toronto desire to extend to you an expression of their heartfelt good wishes for yourself and Mrs. Harris on your removal to Manitoba. Having been in daily communication with you for the past 20 years in the discharge of your onerous and responsible duties as inspector of grain for the Toronto district, we have all learned to appreciate the unswerving integrity, uniform kindness and consideration which have always marked your intercourse with the trade. In leaving us rest assured you carry with you our most sincere regards and b-st wishes for your future. (Signed) H. N. Baird, Norris & Carruthers, Stark Bros. & Co., J. N. Peer, J. C. McKeggie, F. F. Where Shall We Go For Furs? The question is easily answered. James Harris, the extensive dealer, whose wellequipped show-rooms are located at 88 Yonge street, is widely known as a practical and efficient furrier. What then more reasonable than that those desirous of purchasing goods in this line should be asked and expected to give him a call. Mr. Harris' thorough knowledge of the fur markets and his personal supervision in their manufacture have placed him in the van of the trade. He has now on exhibition at the above address a large assortment of Standard Novelties in ladies' and gentlemen's garments which are noteworthy for their perfect fit and unusually rich finish. Mr. Harris will also be glad of a chance of displaying to his many present and prospective patrons the large stock he has now on hand, including capes, collars, gloves, caps, boas, cuffs, muffs, mats, trimmings, rugs and robes. His furs embrace seal, sable, mink, marten, bear, otter, lynx, opossum, fox, beaver, monkey, raccoon, skunk, squirrel and Thibet. Correspondence and inspection are invited. A visit to James Harris, manufacturing furrier, and an inspection of his extensive warerooms, will well repay a person spending valuable time in so doing. Yonge street, is widely known as a practica
