THE BUSINESS MAN AND HIS STATIONERY

"Is the Cobbler's Son Well Shod?"

The merchant encourages us always to buy a good article in preference to that which may be cheapest—he is right, without doubt, but how often he fails to learn this lesson himself—especially in this noticeable in-stationery—some stationery and envelopes which reach us through the mail are a disgrace to the sender.

We wonder if the merchant always understands that his business is measured oftentimes by the class of stationery he sends out—yes, even by the quality of paper in the bills he renders—we venture to say there is nothing which points out business men's carelessness and general make-up more plainly than the quality and style of the stationery he uses. It advertises his standard—it announces clearly to the public what class of goods they may expect at his store.

If the merchant sends out a wishy-washy rag of a letterhead, envelope, invoice or statement, the public may reasonably expect the same quality and cheapness in the merchant's stock of goods.

Just think over the business firms you are acquainted with and notice the quality of their stationery.

And Mr. Business-man, think this over too and see that you do not suffer for proper attention to this sometimes neglected but very necessary detail.

Wonders of Radium.

The heat given out by radium is more than 3,000,000 times greater than the most powerful oxygen blowpipe. A ton of radium, if so large a quantity could ever be obtained, would have an energy equal to 1,500,000 tons of coal, which would carry an Atlantic liner for thirty years. It takes more than thirty centuries for a single grain of radium to exhaust itself, so that it practically is almost endless in its radiant energy.

Procrastination's Value.

Procrastination sometimes saves a man from making a fool of himself.

Sheep on the Farm.

The presence of sheep means a clean farm. They will eat a great many kinds of weeds that other animals will not touch. This makes them especially valuable as scavengers. I have in mind one farmer whose fields a few years ago were a wilderness of weeds, says J. H. McKerrow. He introduced a small flock with the single purpose of having them cut the weeds for him. They were a success at the job, and their owner now enjoys the reputation of having the cleanest farm in his neighborhood.

THESE PILLS CURE RHEUMATISM.—To the many who suffer from rheumatism a trial of Parnee's Vegetable Pills is recommended. They have pronounced action upon the liver and kidneys and by regulating the action of these organs act as an alternative in preventing the admixture of uric acid and blood that causes this painful disorder. They must be taken according to directions and used steadily and they will speedily give evidence of their beneficial effects.

Miller's Worm Powders act so thoroughly that stomachic and intestinal worms are literally ground up and pass from the child without being noticed and without inconvenience to the suffer. They are painless and perfect in action, and at all times will be found a healthy medicine, strengthening the infantile stomach and maintaining it in vigorous operation, so that, besides being an effective vermifuge, they are tonic and health giving in their effects.

The man who tried to kick his way to popularity learned better after awhile.

Fish Stories From Bermuda

(New York Evening Post).

Down in Bermuda they have octopuses of the kind you don't meet in muck-raking magazines. According to the 'Royal Gazette,' one of the principal newspapers of Bermuda, Pilot Joseph Millet, commanding the 'Mariette,' and his crew recently had an encounter with a big octopus about thirty miles northwest of the islands, while waiting for one of the steamships from New York.

"They noticed," says the paper, which came through the mails to-day, "a commotion on the surface of the water and sailed up to it; when only a few yards distant they saw that the disturbance was caused by an immense octopus that was sporting himself. His arms were from 12 to 14 feet long, his body as big as a large barrel, and the large suckers from 3 to 4 inches in diameter.

"To capture the monster was impossible, so they let him severally alone and came along inshore, only to fall in with a devil fish, supposed to have been the largest ever seen in these waters.

"The monster was about 18 to 20 feet long, his body as big around as a punch-con, and his horns were fully a foot or more in length; no attempt to capture this monster was made, as it has been to date impossible to capture them. When they are harpooned they simply settle away and tear the irons out or break the warp. These devilfish, so called on account of the horns protruding from their heads, are perfectly harmless, and are frequently seen in these waters by fishermen and others.

And as if these two incidents were not enough proof of the piscatorial monstrosities to be seen in Bermudian waters, the same number of the 'Gazette' contains an account of a school of grampuses seen on the south side of the island by another pilot boat. One of these fish was a large one, it was said. Of course, they were all puffing.

MINISTER PRAISES ZAM-BUK

Tells How it Cured His Wife's Bad Sore

When Everything Else Had Failed

Rev. Henry J. Muntion, of Blackfields, Alta., writes: "My wife had a very bad sore foot, which it seemed impossible to heal. The sore would heal to a certain point and then fester again, and so on. I procured a box of Zam-Buk, and after persevering with this herbal balm for some time the sore was completely healed.

"We were so grateful for this cure, and Zam-Buk acted so differently to any other of the numerous remedies we had tried that I thought you ought to know of this case. I have since recommended Zam-Buk to several of my parishioners, and it always gives satisfaction."

Another instance in which Zam-Buk proved of unequalled value is told by Mr. N. L. Gerry, of Brandon, Man. He says: "I had my left foot run over by a wagon loaded with wheat. The foot was very badly crushed, and my little toe and the next toe were laid open. I applied Zam-Buk, and only had to miss work two days. Zam-Buk healed the wound so quickly that on the third day I was able to put on my boot and walk to my work. In a very short time my toes were quite healed, and the foot is now as sound as ever, thanks to Zam-Buk."

Just as good for chronic sores, ulcers, piles, blood poison, burns, scalds, eruptions, eczema, and all skin injuries, and diseases. 50c. box at all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Try Zam-Buk Soap, too, 25c. per tablet.

Why We Should Eat Raisins

In a table of comparative food values, a pound of raisins is said to be equal to: Six pounds of apples. Five pounds of bananas. A pound of bread. Two pounds of milk. A pound and a quarter of fish. Seven-eighths of a pound of eggs. Three-fifths of a pound of beef. A pound and fifth of potatoes.

A Suffragette Goose

Lisbon, Conn., May 16.—Female suffrage is a fact in Connecticut as far as the geese are concerned.

Hearing the suffragist call, Mrs. Goose, after sitting on a dozen eggs for two weeks, became weary of her task and ordered Mr. Goose to take up the job. It was all unlady-like, of course, but Mr. Goose, having felt the beak of Mrs. Goose on several occasions, sat right down and stayed down until nine little goslings pecked their way through their shells to daylight.

Then, so proud was he of his feat, according to Judge Edward D. Tarbox, of Ross farm, who is responsible for this tale, that he quacked loudly for more eggs. Judge Tarbox therefore took five more half hatched eggs from Mrs. Goose and placed them in Mr. Goose's nest. Soon five more wee goslings broke into the sunlight.

Mr. Goose is now busy finding food for his little charges and proud of it, so proud in fact, that he drives away Mrs. Goose with loud hisses whenever she attempts to approach his offspring.

To Remove Smoke Marks From Ceilings

Mix a thick paste of starch and water and with a clean flannel spread it over the mark. Allow it to get thoroughly dry, then brush off with a soft brush and the marks will have disappeared.

Consolation can be found in the dictionary, but it is an inferior variety.

After a spinster is married she may discover that she merely drew a consolation prize.

When a man begins to shoot his virtues from the housetop his neighbors proceed to sit up and take unfavorable notice.

Breadcrumbs added to scrambled eggs are a great economy. With this addition two eggs go as far as four without it.

Bad Blood

is the direct and inevitable result of irregular or constipated bowels and clogged-up kidneys and skin. The undigested food and other waste matter which is allowed to accumulate poisons the blood and the whole system. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills act directly on the bowels, regulating them—on the kidneys, giving them ease and strength to properly filter the blood—and on the skin, opening up the pores. For pure blood and good health take

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

A Smile or Two

"Oxygen, oxygen, madam. That is what you need," said the eminent specialist. "Come every afternoon for your inhalations. They will cost you $5 each."

"I knew our family physician didn't understand my case," declared the fashionable patient. "He told me all I needed was plain, fresh air."

A traveler in Indiana noticed that a farmer was having trouble with his horse. It would start, go slowly for a short distance, and then stop again.

Thereupon, the farmer would have great difficulty in getting it started. Finally, the traveler approached and asked solicitously,

"Is your horse sick?"

"Not that I know of."

"Is he balky?"

"No. But he is so afraid that I'll say whoa and he won't hear me, that he stops every once in a while to listen."

The tramp sat, serene and dirty, on the backdoor step eating the breakfast for which he had asked, and the servant stood looking at him curiously.

Presently the knight of the road observed the attention she was paying him.

"Wotter yer lookin' at me for?" he asked in idle curiosity. "Think I'm a long-lost cousin?"

"No," replied the maid, coolly; "but I must say you remind me of a man I used to know."

"Sweetheart?" asked the tramp, coyly.

"None of your business!" was the maid's retort. "But something happened to him which'll never happen to you."

"What's that? Died a millionaire, did he?"

The maid's reply was crushing.

"No; he was accidentally drowned while bathing."

Home Hints

Wrap cheese in a cloth soaked in vinegar if you wish it to be kept moist and free from mold.

If the alarm clock rings too loudly slip and elastic band around the bell to diminish the noise.

Shelves are a necessity in every bathroom. So is a little medicine closet to hang on the wall.

Heat the cloths if you would have warm hands while hanging out the clothes in cold weather.

A great aid to baby's bath when he is afraid of water is some water toys which he can play with.

Before dyeing a garment, mark the right side with thread so that there will be no doubt about it.

Every housekeeper should keep a pair of butcher's cuffs on hand to protect the sleeves in emergencies.

Brushes and combs are best washed in strong ammonia water. For the bristles, it should be cold.

To clean ribbon, sponge with alcohol and rub over the spot with clean white soap, holding the ribbon straight.

To remove grease from woollen materials, rub in powdered French chalk. After some hours shake it rub.
