

Fifty-third Wedding Anniversary.

On Saturday evening, 26th ult., there met at the house of Mr. Christian Grimm, Springfield, five of his sons, three of his daughters-in-law, eighteen grandchildren, the teacher and wife, together with other invited guests to celebrate the fifty-third wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Grimm.

After a few gifts and congratulations a beautiful repast was partaken of by all, after which the other members of the company enjoyed a very pleasant evening, listening to the merry songs and songs of thirty and the instrumental music furnished.

Mr. and Mrs. Grimm are now in their 81st and 80th years, and are enjoying the best of health. They have now living five sons, four of whom are married and settled in Springfield, two of them known as the "merchants of Springfield" and one is still living at home with twenty-one grandchildren, and three great grandchildren were at the gathering.

Seven of the present guests in the aggregate about 1300 lbs. These were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Grimm, two sons and their wives, and the "Village Parson." One grandson was present, thirteen years old, who weighed 120 lbs.

Mr. Grimm with his father and family came from Germany, leaving in 1823. That same year they settled in Lumburg county, where he was married in 1842 and two years later, five years ago he moved to Springfield.

After coming to this country he has been self to the study of English, which he has become a teacher, and out of fifteen years he taught eleven in the district.

He has held the office of P. since May 1st, 1879, he also held the office of postmaster for almost thirty-three years, which office he still holds and is faithfully discharging his duties.

The following lines, sung by himself in his native German language on the above occasion, express his feelings and sentiments:

"Who knows how near my life is expended: Time flies and it is passing on— How soon my term will be expired: May have my last expiring song."

With me, O God, shall it be well: My many sins, O God, will ever be: With merits of Thy dying Son: I hope Thy richest grace to receive: Here find I peace, and here I find: After His sake, when I shall fall, And see, O God, shall it be well."

LAWRENCE TOWN.

More snow. Services are being held in the Baptist church.

Mr. Messinger is visiting her son, Jas. Messinger, for a few days.

One of the churches will be used for the public meeting on the 8th.

Rev. J. H. King has been engaged to fill the Baptist pulpit for a short period.

The largest snow storm of the season began yesterday, and is still continuing.

Much sympathy is felt here for the parents of Mr. Pigott, who so suddenly passed away.

Mr. Jas. Fleet, of Macleod, Mass., was the guest of John Hall, Esq., for a day or two this week.

The young people of the village gave Mr. O. P. Goucher a surprise party on Saturday evening last, and a most enjoyable time was spent.

Brayley gave another of his good entertainments in Whitman's Hall on the 30th to a large house. The band was in attendance and rendered some choice selections.

A large number gathered on the 2nd to see some trotting and were rewarded to some extent, but owing to the heavy fall of snow, some of our speedy ones did not get out.

The temperance people here do not relish some of the reports that have been in the paper lately, as they are false, as the meeting of the 8th is not a political one, as reports say.

A general invitation is passed to all to be present at the large meeting here on the 8th, in the evening. The business session in the afternoon is for delegates, etc. Some of the best known speakers of our country will be present.

Miss Crow gave her illustrated lecture here on the 1st, to a large audience. The views were grand and the description of the view and the travel from place to place was so vividly given that one could almost imagine they were on the trip and viewing the scenery itself. Miss Crow would command a full hall should she visit us again.

Lower Greenville Notes.

On Monday evening a large company assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Foster, Kankakee, to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their marriage.

After partaking of a beautiful repast, the evening passed very pleasantly away with social conversation, and speeches appropriate to the occasion by Messrs E. Thorne, James Morrison, E. H. Porter, and our worthy host, who in a very happy way conveyed to his beloved companions thanks to the company for their many tokens of good will.

The list of presents was truly richly and embraced many valuable and useful articles, amongst which we noticed a china tea service, china cups and saucers, dinner plates, china plates, silver knives and spoons, table linen, etc. The happy company dispersed about midnight, thoroughly pleased with the evening's enjoyment. Mr. and Mrs. Foster have, during their residence in this place, endeavored themselves to a host of friends by their genial ways and social kindness and we trust many happy years of married life are yet before them.

One day last week the good brethren of this place enlarged Mr. Allen's school by the addition of good scholars, who were in good work the school boys went on Saturday and prepared some of it for the stove.

Clementsville Items.

We are glad to see the genial face of D. J. Murphy, Jr., with us again.

The inclemency of the weather prevented the ladies of the Baptist church from holding their apron sale and clam chowder on Tuesday evening. It will be held the next fine night.

On Thursday evening last a large number attended the congregation at the Methodist church, and others, gathered at the home of Mrs. Herbert Hicks and presented her with a purse containing a sum of money, thus showing their appreciation of her services rendered as organist of the church.

The party given by Mrs. John Lowe, on Friday evening, was a decided success. A large number were present, and the favorite amusements were indulged in with a pleasure to all. Retaining bonds a convenient hour they declared it to be the event of the season.

Paradise Glens.

W. M. Aid meets this week at Mrs. H. H. Moore's.

Mrs. Ricketson, of Bridgetown, was the guest of her pleasant visit by her parents this week.

The weather prophet made it right when he said a heavy snow storm and high wind, N. E. to North.

On Tuesday last the pupils of the academy obtained by petition a half-holiday to enjoy the beautiful skating on the gravel pit.

Inglaville Items.

Mrs. Samuel Beale made a short visit to her daughters last week.

A large number of our Mountain folks are suffering with severe colds.

Mrs. Albert Dunn, who has been on a five week vacation, has returned home.

Last Saturday a terrific south-easterly gale blocked our roads and made it almost impossible to travel.

Our beautiful sleighing has given place to icy streets, causing a halt, though none have sustained serious injury.

On the 20th ult. the Rev. Mr. King occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church, and was warmly welcomed by a host of friends.

Consumptives obtain relief by using Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. No other cure is so effective.

The many friends of Mrs. Jared Troop, formerly of this town, now residing with her daughter Mrs. Henry Troop, of Pictou, were pleased to hear of her arrival in town on Thursday, for a visit of several weeks.

C. H. Shaffer, of South Farmington, whose advertisement appears elsewhere in this issue, paid the Monitor a friendly call on Saturday last.

Mr. Shaffer is one of our country's representatives at the Glasgow, who has been spending some three weeks at the home of his parents and visiting other friends at St. John.

St. Croix, took his departure on Monday for his return trip. Mr. Hall is conducting a school at the New Glasgow, who is doing a thriving business in enlarging, etc.

Letter From New Mexico, (No. 3.)

A stranger travelling through New Mexico finds it difficult to realize that he is within the borders of the United States. The language, the customs, the manner and the style of dress of the majority of the people are what we have been used to in the time of the middle ages, and the greater part of the houses and cultivated fields still must have looked to the admiring eyes of the first Spaniard who ever beheld the thriving towns and irrigated farms of the civilized people.

Fully three-fourths of the inhabitants of New Mexico are Mexicans. It must be supposed that these people are anything but pure descendants of the Spaniards. The law of attraction has married freely with the Indians, and now the Mexican, still as proud as his Spanish ancestor could ever be, may be half the blood which flows in his veins is of the darker hue.

In every other respect the Mexican seems perfectly contented with his lot. No dreams of a better life, no desire for wealth, no thoughts of the great bay world beyond his ken seem to disturb the evenness of his way. Not even the example of his progressive, new neighbor, the American, serves to rouse him from his apathy. He is wedded to the customs of his forefathers, and anything that has the aspect of an innovation will be met with the most decided opposition.

As the Indian part of his nature can make it may be half the blood which flows in his veins is of the darker hue.

Prof. Craig congratulated the Association on what they had accomplished. He had watched the rapid growth in horticulture here. He explained the fertilization of the apple blossom. The result of this fertilization shows us that it is necessary for the intermingling varieties of fruit in our orchards.

Short and spirited addresses were delivered by Prof. Raville, B. Water, Prof. McGill, Dr. Chipman and J. S. Starr.

The Hibby Quartette furnished some pieces of music during the evening. They received several encores.

Dr. Borden sent a telegram stating that he was unavoidably detained at Berwick.

Legislative.

The first session of the present legislature of this province began on Thursday last.

Mr. F. A. Laurence, one of the members for Colchester county, was elected speaker. Mr. Laurence is a lawyer, has been several years in the House and will doubtless discharge the duties of his position with dignity, impartiality and ability.

The speech from the throne is quite lengthy referring to the visit of His Excellency the Governor General, the generally improved condition of the province, the increased output of the pulp and paper industry, the payment of subsidies to railways, some amendments to the law respecting roads, and to make some further provisions for the large bridge service. The speech also refers with evident satisfaction to the fact that the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada has placed the subject of prohibition beyond the jurisdiction of the provincial legislature.

As however the decisions of the Supreme Court of Canada, on constitutional grounds, have been generally been reversed by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council the matter can by no means be considered settled as yet.

The address in reply to the speech from the throne was moved by Mr. Sinclair, a New Glasgow barrister, who represents Colchester at the time and held the position, another member of the legal profession from Kings, Dr. McKay, of Cape Breton county, has evidently been again selected to lead the opposition, a position he filled in the House of 1889-90.

Melville People Remember Their Pastor.

A very pleasant meeting of the Methodist Society of this place was held on Wednesday evening, Jan. 31st, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bannister, the object of which was to make our annual payment to our esteemed pastor, the Rev. J. C. Coffin.

After the company had partaken of the refreshments, the sum of fifty dollars was presented to our pastor by H. B. Bastin, accompanied with a few appropriate remarks, which were heartily responded to by the Rev. J. C. Coffin.

Compliments were most welcome among the guests were noticed the Rev. Wm. Brown, of Grand Pre, former superintendent of this circuit. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter. We were pleased to greet members of the Baptist and Methodist churches, and also members of our own church from Margareville section.

Mixed, very nicely rendered by the Melville choir, combined with recitations from our local talent, added much to the pleasure of the evening, which sped quickly away, at the close of which the company dispersed expressing their thanks to their hosts, and for the very generous manner in which they were entertained.—COM.

An International Postage Stamp.

The German Government is about to place a proposition before European countries relative to the issue of an international postage stamp. It is believed that such a stamp would be a boon to all who carry on any foreign correspondence. At present, if anyone wishes information from a foreign country, he is unable to send a postage stamp for his reply, since no country will receive a foreign stamp as postage on an outgoing letter. One is therefore compelled to depend upon his correspondent's generosity to pay the return postage. The United States Government has taken the initiative in this matter, and the German minister of posts has designated an international stamp and has arranged a plan for its adoption. The stamp will contain the names of all the countries in which its value as postage is recognized, together with its value as postage in the money of each of these countries. It is thought that only certain European countries will adopt this system.

The strike in Brooklyn is at an end. After a bloody battle thousands of the street railway men are now out of employment and the city and country are put to the test.

There is nothing in these results to indicate of the Militia which was called upon to protect life and property. Besides, the strikers have spent all the money in their treasury and a great deal that was in the hands of other labor organizations.

Worst of all, lives have been sacrificed and the breach widened between labor and capital. There is nothing in these results that is the least creditable to the street railway companies or their employees.

Rev. A. F. Weeks, Church of England, who died at St. John last week, left $3,600 to the incapacitated clergy fund, and $2,400 to Kings College.
