

NOW I AM WELL
THANKS TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Eli, Manitoba.
I wish to state, for the sake of others who may be suffering like I was, that I suffered from severe indigestion and constipation for years and that there was also much trouble with unpleasant pains in my back which made me miserable, constantly. I tried physicians and took many remedies but I got no relief. I was induced to try "Fruit-a-tives" and I can truly say this was the first medicine that ever did me any good. "Fruit-a-tives" quickly relieved the constipation and indigestion and completely cured me of all symptoms of stomach trouble. I cannot express too strongly my great gratitude to this medicine as I am as well now in every way as ever I was, thanks to "Fruit-a-tives". I can strongly recommend "Fruit-a-tives", it is easy to take and the effect is always mild like fruit.

(Signed) Mrs. M. BARKLAND.
Many women suffer with what doctors call "Womb Trouble" - "Dissatisfied Ovaries" - "Female Complaints" etc. - when constipation is causing all the pain. Cure the liver and make the bowels move regularly with "Fruit-a-tives" and the "Womb Trouble" will be cured at the same time.

"Fruit-a-tives" - or "Fruit Liver Tablets" are sold by dealers at one a box - 50 for $2.50 - or will be sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

For "Richer, For Poorer"

"That being Una's wedding its different from anything we've given up on account of the expense. Why, John, she was named for me and she has always called me aunt! I loved her and nursed her when she was a tiny thing, and she was our flower girl, and she wants me."

She was pleading with him in her eagerness, but he answered, a trifle impatiently, "I tell you we can't. We haven't the money for new clothes and I can't spare the car fare just now."

He rose hurriedly and left the room and his wife cried after him like one dazed by sudden misfortune. Of course, woman like, she had first thought of clothes, and realized that the shortness of time would make preparations harder, but she had thought that by beginning that afternoon she could make a pretty evening dress, and she had made her old skirt presentable by a little freshening up, as for John's suit, it could be brushed and pressed. No one ever noticed a man's clothes at a wedding anyway.

But now, dropping her head on the table, she sobbed like a disappointed child. The children, not knowing just how to act in such an emergency, slipped out of their chairs and betook themselves to the back yard to talk it over.

"Isn't it the same as if I were always asking for things?" she sobbed. "I've learned long ago to do without and keep my longings to myself. He treated me as if I were a spoiled child!" Then the sobs came so thick and fast that they choked out the words.

Presently something rattled in her lap, a hard little hand was awkwardly stroking her hair, and the oldest of her four little boys said, timidly, "He answered."

"We put all our money in Wednesday, and we want you to have it to go to the wedding. We were saving for the Fourth of July, but we're too big to care much for that, and—my mother, please don't cry!"

She looked up in astonishment to find her four children regarding her with wide, sympathetic eyes. Drying her face with a handkerchief, she said, "I don't care much for the clothes, but, oh, John, I do want to go to the wedding and you must not spoil all my pleasures!"

The excitement of preparation on the evening before brought color to Mrs. Barnard's cheeks and a look to her eyes that made her look almost youthful, and as she kissed the boys good-bye, little wonder touched the waves of her hair, saying almost reverently, "Pretty mama!" Catching her husband's quick glance, she blushed like a girl.

They arrived early at the church and saw many old friends ushered into the seats all round. Mrs. Barnard folded her hands with the best grace on top, and wondered if her maid did look very unwell between the shoulders.

But the soft sweet music was soothing to the ache about her heart, and when it pealed out triumphantly announcing the arrival of the wedding party, she was absorbed in the excitement of the moment.

Then came the slow, clear procession notes, and she caught her breath with deep feeling. It seemed that she was living over again her own wedding night.

The bridal party passed down the aisle, Mrs. Barnard clasped her hands tightly but they shook with nervousness.

The pretty young bride stood trustfully and proudly beside the tall young man, who hereafter was to be her shield against the world. Una Barnard's heart stood still as she heard the groom repeating the solemn words of the beautiful ring service.

"I John, take thee, Una, to be my wedded wife," John Barnard uttered unhesitatingly. The ceremony proceeded.

"For better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health; till death do us part."

Una Barnard turned a wistful face toward her husband, and reaching over he clasped one of her work-hardened with one of his big, strong ones.

Then the girl's sweet voice was heard distinctly, as she repeated: "I, Una, take thee, John, to be my wedded husband, to have and to hold, from this day forward."

Una Barnard's eyes were filled by tears of memory and regret as she listened to the promise: "For better for worse, for richer, for poorer,"

Ab, the sacred promises, and how poorly she had kept them! She had been a gay bright companion in the time of abundance, but in the time of dearth and unprospered toil she had been bitter, and gloomy, silently pinning for her care free childhood instead of trying to cheer the man who was struggling to make a home for her. He too, had been accustomed to a life of ease. How hard the struggle for daily bread must have been for him! There were grey hairs about his temples and lines of discouragement about his mouth. She caught her breath with a sob and clung to his hand as if she would never let it go.

The audience was intent on the ceremony, and no one saw or heard when

Not a Miracle But Medical Science

Dr. T. A. Slocum, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"Some time ago I began to lose flesh and failed every day until I had to quit work. My physicians and all my friends said I had contracted consumption. I failed from 165 pounds down to 110. I was advised to go to the Rockies or the coast. I went to both places under heavy expense. I continued to fail, and was advised by the doctor to come home as nothing more could be done for me. Hope seemed to have left me."

"I tried Psychine and since starting its use I have gained from 110 to 141 pounds. I have used $10.00 worth of the medicine. I am a well man and I cannot say too much in praise of Psychine. The strongest recommendation would be weak in view of the fact that I believe it has saved my life. It is without doubt the best remedy for run-down conditions and weak lungs."

"I sincerely hope and trust that you will continue your good work of saving run-down people and consumptive from the grave. Wishing you and Psychine the greatest success."

John Barnard patted the hand he held and stooped to whisper lovingly: "There, dear! It's all right. We'll try it all over again."

Then came the closing prayer, and the organ pealed out the recessional. The bride looked trustfully up into the face of her husband as they moved down the aisle to the door, and she was clinging to the church organist, according to the way the ceremony had affected them.

In the crush of the reception Una and John Barnard were almost the last in line to offer congratulations.

The groom asked, as he greeted John Barnard's hand, "Well, sir, did you feel as if you were being married over again?"

And John Barnard answered earnestly: "I don't doubt that it would be a good plan for every married couple to have the ceremony performed at least every fifteen years, if not often."

At the same moment Una Barnard was clinging to the bride weeping brokenly between kisses. "Una, my darling, whatever happens, don't forget that you're married for richer, for poorer, for life!"

MANY SLEEPLESS NIGHTS, OWING TO A PERSISTENT COUGH, WERE LIFTED AT LAST.

"For several winters past my wife has been troubled with a most persistent and disagreeable cough, which invariably extended over a period of several weeks and caused her many sleepless nights," writes W. J. Hayner, editor of the Buffalo, Colo., Bulletin. "Various remedies were tried each year, with no beneficial results. In November she caught a cold, and in appearance and my wife, acting on the suggestion of a friend, purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After three doses the cough entirely disappeared and has not manifested itself since." This remedy is for sale by
