

Saviour's feet. From that hour, he dates the dawning of a new light—and the beginning of a new life.

A Word to Teachers.

Do you wish to be a successful Sunday School Teacher? Successful, I mean, in bringing the little ones to Jesus.—If so, prepare your lessons carefully, pray earnestly, carry each scholar in your class, daily, to the Throne of Grace, and there seek the Spirit's influence to implant the love of Christ in each heart. And having your own soul filled with the same love, teach as if the salvation of each one under your care depended on your efforts.

In the work of the Sabbath School, while there is much to encourage, there is also much to dishearten those engaged in it.

The parents of the children manifest so little sympathy with the Teacher in his work: the children are often irregular in their attendance, and careless and indifferent when present; and the labour of the teacher sometimes seems so utterly fruitless that he is almost ready to give up in despair.—Don't do it. There is a cause; search it out and apply the remedy. A little more personal attention to the children at their homes—Visit them—in the street and in the school, would do much to enlist the sympathy of the parents in yourself and your work, as well as to secure a more regular attendance of the children, and greater interest in the school on their part.

Perhaps you have been trusting for your success entirely to your own ability and aptness to teach. If so, you should expect nothing but disappointment; for don't you remember that Christ Himself said, "without Me ye can do nothing." Go to your work relying on Christ alone, and be assured that, in His own good time, you will find your labour crowned with abundant success. Trust Him.

United Brethren.

The missionaries of the United Brethren at Shengay, Africa, report the recent death of the aged king of the Sherbro country. After a wicked life, he had recently become friendly to the missionaries, and died expressing his faith in the truths they taught, his last words being, "Salvation only through Jesus Christ; Jesus Christ is very merciful." Christian burial services were performed over his remains, and a funeral sermon preached, by permission of his son and successor, though many of the people persisted in observing their heathenish rites.
