

from this sulphurous explosion, how Pusey-ism would deal with heretics, it could avoid itself of the arms of the Civil Power. Not having yet obtained a copy of the Letter, we borrow from an article in the Oxford Chronicle the following close analysis of the 9th, 12th, and 13th pages.—

"Anathema!—Accursed and destroyed be the Protestant principle

"Cursed, 'more especially,' be the Protestant Churches of Germany.

"Cursed, 'more especially,' be the Protestant Churches of Holland, Denmark, and Norway.

"Cursed, 'more especially,' be the Protestant Churches of Switzerland and France.

"Cursed, 'more especially,' be the Protestant Church of Scotland.

"Cursed be the British Dissenters.

"Cursed be the American Dissenters.

"Cursed, 'likewise,' (p. 12) be all persons who maintain the Church of England to have one and the same common religion with any or all the Protestant Churches above anathematized."

After this, the Vicar of Godney's invectives were seen mild and tolerant, and Michael Gathercole himself is no match for the Rev. William Palmer in cursing. We gave him credit for frankness, when he declares, that, to declare the restoration of unity with the Eastern Churches, "and above all with the Church of Rome itself, be Popery," then he, for one, is a Papist from the very bottom of his soul. Who can doubt it!—Patriot.

PROGRESS OF PUSEYISM.—The Rector of Leadenham, in the diocese of Lincoln, in the fervency of his desire for the Pusey doctrine, introduced into the church a moveable cross, and an altar with a pair of candlesticks and burning tapers, administered the holy eucharist at an early hour in the morning by taper light, and adorned the back of his surplice with a cross. The prayer books also bore the emblem of the cross, and on the roof of the building the litany is painted in Latin. These things, and various devices and ceremonies, the Bishop has ordered to be removed, and the plain decorum of the church service to be observed in its performance.—Courier.

"BURIAL OF SIR JOHN MOORE."—The Proceedings of the Royal Irish Academy, just published, contain among other communications of much interest, one from Dr. Luby, of an autograph letter from the Rev. Charles Wolfe (post mark Sept. 6, 1816) to his friend Mr. John Taylor, at Clonoulty, Cashel; and containing a complete copy of his "Ode on the Burial of Sir John Moore." This proof, if any had been wanting, to refute the absurd surmises and foolish claims about this noble composition, would set them at rest for ever, and it is also precious, as giving correctly the author's own version which has been strangely deformed in copies and translations.

GOD OMNIPRESENT BY FARE BENJAMIN.

The Lord, the high and holy One, Is present every where; Go to the region of the sun, And thou wilt find Him there! Go to the secret ocean caves, Where man hath never trod, And there, beneath the flashing waves, Will be thy Maker, God! Fly as swiftly, on the morning's wing, To distant realms away, Where birds in jewelled plumage sing The advent of the day; And where the lion seeks his lair, And reindeer bounds alone—God's presence makes the desert fair, And cheers the frozen zone. All Nature speaks of Him who made The land, and sea, and sky: The fruits that fall, the leaves that fade, The flowers that bloom to die. The lofty mount and lowly vale, The lasting forest trees, The rocks that battle with the gale, The ever-rolling seas. All tell the Omnipotent Lord, The God of boundless might—In every age and clime adored, Whom dwelling in the Heav'n: 4
