

who have read "Jan Vedder's Wife" know how this really delightful author can catch, retain and intensify the interest of the reader as her stories sweep on to their usually happy close.

A BOYS' BOOK FOR CHRISTMAS.

Wm. Briggs has arranged to issue a Canadian edition of Egerton R. Young's new book, "What Three Boys Saw in the Wild North Land," which is expected to be ready for the Christmas trade. Messrs. Ward & Downey, of London, have the English market, and Houghton, Mifflin & Co., the American. The author promises this to be the best boys' book he has yet written. Mr. J. E. Laughlin, of this city, has been engaged to illustrate the volume.

BOOK NOTES.

The new book on "School Management," by John Millar, B.A., the Deputy Minister of Education for Ontario, is being rapidly adopted in the model schools of the province. It has everywhere received high encomiums from educationists. A second edition has already been placed on the market.

Mr. Charles A. Winter, of Preston, has prepared and published a record book for choirs that is very complete in its way, and likely to find general favor.

ORDERS FOR CHRISTMAS PAPERS.

A great business in Christmas papers should be done this year, and the Toronto News Co. are already taking orders from the trade. The Christmas papers are a good thing to order early, and the trade generally find this to be the case.

A HANDSOME CARNAVAL NUMBER.

The Province, British Columbia's clever weekly, the best of its kind ever issued, got out a special Vancouver carnival number Sept. 1. It contains a map of the Fraser Delta and some colored half-tones—altogether a creditable production.

NEW MUSICAL PUBLICATIONS.

The Toronto News Company announces a new list of popular music books at prices which afford the dealer a good profit. The full list appears on another page, and comprises a great variety of musical publications suited to every class of trade. The retail and trade prices are printed beside each book, and the dealer can without trouble make his selection.

A MEMOIR OF QUEEN VICTORIA.

Just as THE BOOKSELLER AND STATIONER goes to press the Toronto News Co. has word of a very timely and attractive publication to be out in England on the 21st, and likely to secure a large circulation in Canada. It is a special issue of The Gentlewoman, and will be called The Gentlewoman's Record of Her Majesty's Sixty Years' Reign. The Queen has been pleased to accept two copies of the work herself. There will be 60 illustrations, one of them a portrait of Her Majesty by her daughter, the Princess Louise. The publication is being prepared in the highest style of art. Accompanying it is a portrait of the Queen in her coronation robes printed in colors on white satin, and itself a fine souvenir. The work retails at $1, and as the Toronto News Co., who are the Canadian agents, are cabling for a supply, orders should be sent in at once.
