THE WEEK:

A CANADIAN JOURNAL OF POLITICS, SOCIETY, AND LITERATURE.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY, AT $3 PER ANNUM.

THE WEEK enters on its second year with a most encouraging prospect for the years to come. Its early difficulties have been surmounted; it is now firmly established; its circulation fully answers the expectation of its proprietors, and is steadily increasing. The union which it presents of the Magazine with the Weekly Journal appears to be recognized as the thing needed, and Independent Journalism is evidently growing in favour with the most enlightened and patriotic portion of the community. The literary talent of Canada, having an organ offered to it, is being drawn forth, and our staff of Contributors is constantly increasing. We are thus enabled to improve from time to time special departments, such as those of Commerce, Education, Art, Science, Music, and Chess. The lovers of music have, we trust, of late been sensible of our desire to promote the interests of that great source of happiness and refinement.

In politics, THE WEEK is thoroughly independent. It is untrammelled by party connections, free from party leanings, unbiassed by party considerations. In Canadian politics its desire will be to further, to the utmost of its power, the free and healthy development of the Nation.

The second year of our enterprise opens in hope, which we shall do our utmost to fulfil.

C BLACKETT ROBINSON, PUBLISHER,

5 Jordan Street, Toronto.

PRESS OPINIONS.

THE WEEK is one of the most influential journals in Canada.—Truth, London, England.

There can be no doubt that a thoroughly high-class, independent journal like THE WEEK, not wholly or even mainly given up to political matters cannot have other than a beneficial influence on the country.—Globe.

The real value of the paper consists of this: It gives us in the first place a good deal of the best criticism from one of the most brilliant of modern pens; it gives us the expression of the opinions of young men who are not partisans, and it affords the only vehicle for purely literary effort which the press affords. THE WEEK fills its own literary office with much skill, and while we do not always agree with it we recognize its value and wish it success.—The Daily Mail.

We want a journal like THE WEEK, and we are glad to know that we have a reading community large enough to support and appreciate it.—Toronto World.

Our contemporary, THE WEEK, is doing bravely.—Montreal Star.
It gives better promise of usefulness than any weekly paper which has ever before been published in the Dominion. Its matter is all readable, well-digested, and attractive in appearance.—Hamilton Spectator.

THE WEEK will be sure to find a ready welcome from those who are anxious to see matters of interest discussed in a temperate and intelligent manner.—London Free Press.

Fills an important place in Canadian journalism.—St. John Globe.
Is a handsomely got up paper of sixteen pages. Fills a want in our newspaper literature.—Guelph Daily Mercury.

THE WEEK should find a ready welcome at the hands of all who desire to encourage Canadian literature.—Galt Reformer.

A most interesting critical journal.—Dundas True Banner.
Treats the subjects discussed in a masterly manner, and from a high standpoint.—Welland Tribune.

It is the best weekly paper we have ever seen in Canada. The chapter on "Current Events and Opinions" is worth the whole annual subscription.—Seaford Sun.

THE WEEK should be in the hands of every man desirous of keeping pace with the progress of thought and the advance of political discussion.—Strathroy Despatch.

Such a paper as THE WEEK is a boon for which Canadians should be profoundly thankful.—St. Thomas Times.

THE WEEK is designed to supply a palpable void in Canadian periodical literature.—Welland Tribune.

THE WEEK deals with questions from an elevated standpoint.—Grey Review.

Its literary notes and comments on current topics are well written, and with greater care than is usually bestowed upon the contents of newspaper publications.—Sarnia Observer.

It is high-class in tone.—Chatham Tri-Weekly Planet.

A high-class publication—an oasis in the desert of political, sectarian, and catch-penny publications which constitute the literature of Canada.—Pictou Times.

There is a field for such a journal in Canada.—Moose Jaw News.

THE WEEK is becoming more and more readable.—Ayr Recorder.

THE WEEK is a journal replete with questions of deep interest to every thoughtful student.—Dalhousie Gazette.

It is unquestionably the best paper of the kind ever given to the Canadian public.—Collingwood Enterprise.

THE WEEK is impartial in pointing out the faults and shortcomings of both parties.—Renfrew Mercury.

THE WEEK keeps up a brilliant reputation in discussing public questions from an independent point of view.—Orillia Times.

It displays the highest order of ability throughout.—Chatham Tribune.

THE WEEK only requires to be more widely known to be more generally appreciated.—Renfrew Mercury.

THE WEEK is an admirable example of independent journalism. There are better things in store for both publishers and readers.—Verndale Journal.

It gives expression to a good deal of advanced and independent thought that is not wedded to either political party.—Berlin News.

La pensée à large envergure est condensée en quelques pages dans un style philosophiques, châtié, magistral.—L'Electeur.

A most excellent journal.—Chicago Current.

THE WEEK is superb.—Vanity Fair, Chicago.

THE WEEK has made a good impression, and occupies a position of no small influence in the Dominion.—The American, N.Y.

THE WEEK has a personality of its own. Its editorials, especially, are characterized by a catholic and judicial tone that comport well with the dignity of a true exponent of Canadian enterprise and culture.—Fortnightly Index, Michigan.

THE ANDOVER REVIEW FOR 1885

Will be of the same general character as the volumes for 1884, which have commended themselves so signally to the favour and confidence of the religious public. It will treat with ability, learning and candour those questions which specially appeal to religious readers, and cannot fail to be heartily welcomed by all who wish the best and freshest thought on matters of the deepest interest.

In Theology, the Review advocates Progressive Orthodoxy, and discusses with reverence freedom the important subjects which challenge the attention of the religious world. It is wholly unsectarian.

The REVIEW has very valuable departments of—

Archæological and Geographical Discoveries,
Theological and Religious Intelligence,
Editorial Papers on Current Topics,
And careful Book Reviews.

THE WRITERS FOR THE REVIEW

are the leading clergymen and scholars in various religious denominations.

"Conspicuous for the ability with which it is conducted."—The Messenger, Philadelphia.
"In every number we find something to be especially preserved."—Churchman, New York.
