

Seabed minerals from the area which constitutes “The common heritage of mankind”

These Seabed Minerals ordinary looking potato-shaped stones called nodules, may be the source of future revenues for the benefit of all mankind.