

The first part of the report discusses the general situation of the country and the progress made during the year. It also mentions the various projects and activities that have been undertaken.

The second part of the report deals with the financial aspects of the organization. It provides a detailed account of the income and expenditure for the year, along with a comparison of the actual results with the budget.

The third part of the report focuses on the administrative and operational aspects of the organization. It describes the various departments and their functions, as well as the measures taken to improve efficiency and effectiveness.

The fourth part of the report discusses the future plans and objectives of the organization. It outlines the various projects and activities that are planned for the next year, along with the resources required to carry them out.

The fifth part of the report is a concluding statement, which summarizes the main findings and conclusions of the report. It also expresses the confidence and faith of the board of directors in the management of the organization.