mency.-But, although so little was done for their relief, the king's servants were not inattentive to the state of Quebec, or deaf to the cries of the Canadians; for fo foon as the report of the attorney and folicitor general was received, the board of trade was directed to prepare an instruction to the governor, requiring him to pass an ordinance for the better regulation of law proceedings, which that board, with great care and pains, prepared accordingly. But the Lords of the Council, not thinking themselves fufficiently informed of the laws and customs of Canada, which, by this instruction, were to be adopted; the instruction was laid aside for the prefent; and the earl of Shelburne, then fecretary of state in the fouthern department, fent Mr. Morgan, one of his under secretaries, to Quebec, to collect the laws and customs which had prevailedor been of force in Canada under the French government; a trust which that gentleman executed with great fidelity and
