55 to 61 King St. E., TorontoENTOMOLOGISTS
MEET AT GUELPH

Remarkable Assembly at the
O. A. C. at the End of August.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Prominent Scientists From All
Parts of the World
Coming.

The Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, is the scene of a year to year of many notable gatherings. At the end of August there is to be a somewhat remarkable assembly, when the Entomological Society of Ontario holds its 50th annual meeting, at which a number of eminent entomologists are expected, in celebration of the jubilee. Scientific societies and institutions in many parts of the United States are sending delegates, and some are also coming from Great Britain. The Universities of Edinburgh and Manchester are to be represented, and also the natural history department of the British Museum; the venerable Linnean Society of England and the Entomological Society of London; the Entomological Society of South London. Among the American delegates expected are mentioned: Dr. L. O. Howard, chief of the bureau of entomology at Washington; Dr. Felt, state entomologist of New York; Prof. Comstock and Needham of Cornell University; Prof. Wheeler of Harvard; Prof. Garman of Kentucky; Webster of Washington, MacGillivray of Urbana, Illinois; Melander of Pullman, Washington State; Sherman of North Carolina. Also delegates from entomological societies in various parts of the Dominion.

It is somewhat remarkable that the two men by whose efforts the society was formed half a century ago are still in active work and will be present at the meeting, namely, Dr. William Saunders, who established the experimental farms of the Dominion, and was for 25 years director of the C. J. S. Bethune of the agricultural college, who is president of the society for the current year. In addition to those referred to there will, of course, be a large representation of Canadian entomologists from all parts of the Dominion.

WELLAND CANAL
PLAN PRESENTED

Ald. Pitt of Niagara Falls Had
Interview With Harbor
Board.

The proposal to use the Niagara River from Lake Ontario to a point near Queenston, in connection with a new Welland Canal, which would be built from that point to a Lake Erie outlet, was presented before the Toronto Harbor Board yesterday by Ald. Pitt of Niagara Falls, Ont., who is behind the project. Should this plan be adopted it is claimed that about $30,000,000 would be saved over the cost of the new Welland Canal proposed by the government. Ald. Pitt, after showing the plans to the harbor board, stated that he was his intention to at once lay the question before Hon. Frank Cochrane, minister of railways and canals.

LEG WAS BROKEN.

As the result of the upsetting of a load of lumber at the new civic auditorium building, Joseph Brown of 127 Niagara street, a Polish laborer, lies in St. Michael's Hospital with a broken leg. Brown was working on the construction of the new building and was just beginning to unload the lumber when the load fell apart.
