

ing. You will have the kindness to return on my behalf, to your school-fellows, my best thanks; and I can assure you that Lady Dufferin will very much appreciate the very gallant expressions in which you have been kind enough to allude to Her Excellency. (Applause.)

His Excellency further said:—Mr. Mayor, Ladies and Gentlemen, I have already on so many previous occasions had the opportunity of expressing to the public of Canada the deep interest I take in all these institutions, and the confirmed conviction that I entertain that there is nothing more calculated to promote the prosperity of the country than establishments of this kind, founded on pure and sound principles, that it will be unnecessary for me to repeat those observations, or to give you any fresh assurance of my sentiments in this regard, but I do not wish to let this opportunity pass without expressing my supreme satisfaction for the very satisfactory account with which I have been favoured. Of the circumstances which have led to the foundation of this institution—of the prosperous condition in which it is at its commencement, and of the promising future which lies before it. And I can assure you that so soon as the object which you have in view is in progress—when the walls of this hall are raised, I shall consider it one of my chief privileges to come and visit the school, (Cheers.) I may also be forgiven if I take this opportunity of expressing the personal gratification I feel in congratulating those who are interested in the success of this institution upon its possession in the Head Master, of a person so admirably qualified to secure the prosperity of the school and conduct it on proper principles. He was one of the first persons with whom I became acquainted on arriving in Ottawa, and I must say that I esteem it as a great privilege that I should have had opportunities of maintaining my intercourse with him, and conversing on many classical subjects. I also have the pleasure of knowing one of his assistants, whom I am perfectly justified in considering a great acquisition to the teaching staff of the College. I trust that in future years it may be my good fortune to extend my acquaintance to the other gentlemen who assist him. I may also be permitted to say that it is my intention to give a silver and a bronze medal to be annually competed for by the pupils on conditions that can be settled between the Head Master and myself. I need only say further that it must be a source of pride and gratification to every inhabitant of Canada to know that there are institutions of this kind, founded on such principles, and administered with such sound judgment, established on such satisfactory conditions in almost every city and centre in the Dominion. It affords the strongest evidence that for the future the young of Canada will have the means of obtaining an education and the development of their natural intelligence, and which will also inculcate the principles of virtue and morality as well as literary wisdom, by which the civilization of the world is maintained.

A silver trowel was then presented to His Excellency, and the corner stone having been lowered to its bed of mortar, he declared it duly laid. The Rev. D. M. Gordon then offered prayer for the prosperity of the institute, and the protection of those engaged in the work, and the ceremony was brought to a close after three hearty cheers, called for by the Mayor, had been given for the Queen, and three for His Excellency and the Countess of Dufferin. The band of the Foot Guards played "God save the Queen," and His Excellency drove off amid cheers.
