

Baseball Amateur Leagues Getting Ready

LAKE SHORE SENIOR BASEBALL LEAGUE

Goodyears, the New Team in Circuit Building Plant for Championship Games.

A general meeting was held at the office of Brown's Rolling Mills of the Lake Shore Senior Baseball League yesterday, when the following officers were elected for the coming season:

Chas. Lovejoy, president; Bert Campbell, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Lovejoy is reeve of the Village of New Toronto and the Lake Shore Senior League is to be congratulated on securing his services. Mr. Campbell is a well-known baseball enthusiast and is well fitted for his new position. The league will be composed of the following clubs: Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Regal Shoe Co., Gutta Percha & Rubber Co., Brown's Rolling Mills.

The Goodyear Tire Co. are newcomers to the league this year, but claim to have a very strong team. Regal Shoe expect to have a strong aggregation, while Gutta Percha and Browns expect to have their last year's teams practically intact.

The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. are building a large athletic field which will include a very fast baseball diamond, and it will be used for all league games. This should insure first-class baseball for the patrons of the Lake Shore League. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Edwards, the league president, for his faithful and efficient services in the past.

A large amount of routine business was transacted and the league looks forward to the most successful season of its history. The next league meeting will be held at Brown's on Monday next. The league is open for applications for the position of official scorer, which will be considered at the next meeting. Applications should be made to Mr. Campbell, the secretary.

NOW THE Y.M.C.A. BASEBALL LEAGUE

Riversides Take Place of R.C.B.C. in East End Circuit.

It is now the Y.M.C.A. Baseball League, the name of Riverside having been dropped by the league. At a special general meeting last night, when the R.C.B.C. dropped out, being unable to meet the requirements of the Y.M.C.A. League are Broadway Y., Athletics, and the Riverside. The Riverside Y.M.C.A. admitted instead. C. Gallagher is manager of the new club, and with G. Dupp representing the Riverside at the meeting. The other clubs in the Y.M.C.A. League are Broadway Y., Athletics, and the Riverside. The Riverside Y.M.C.A. admitted instead. C. Gallagher is manager of the new club, and with G. Dupp representing the Riverside at the meeting. The other clubs in the Y.M.C.A. League are Broadway Y., Athletics, and the Riverside.

THRIFT AT BALL GAMES.

Chicago, April 10.—Thrift stamps, peanuts, pop corn will be the cry of peanut boys in baseball parks throughout the country this season if the club owners of the various leagues act on the suggestion of the national war savings committee.

President Johnson of the American League said today he had instructed the club owners to install booths for the sale of war saving and thrift stamps and that candy vendors would carry the campaign thru the crowd if possible.

Thomas J. Hickey, president of the American Association, also said the plan would be placed before the club owners of his organization.

JAYNES GOES TO MOBILE.

Mobile, La., April 10.—Pitcher Ona Jaynes, of the Boston Americans, was purchased today by the Mobile Southern Association club. He was with the Buffalo club of the International League last year.

WINS CHESS HONORS.

The Epom Convalescent Camp, England, has just finished the Easter chess tournament, the champion of which was won by a former Toronto University chess player, who went overseas with the 40th Toronto Battery. He has been in England for some time recovering from a severe attack of trench fever. His home is at Canfield, Ont.

PENNY ANTE

DEAR ME, YOU ARE SUCH A WONDERFUL COOK. YOU MUST LET ME HAVE YOUR RECIPE FOR 1000 ISLAND DRESSING.

NOW I DO HOPE YOU HAVEN'T GONE TO ANY TROUBLE ON OUR ACCOUNT.

I'M ON A DIET. YOU KNOW I'M GROWING SO FLESHY.

NO TROUBLE AT ALL—MRS. SMYTHE GAVE ME HER FORMULA FOR CAMOUFLAGE PUDDING AND I THOUGHT YOU'D ENJOY IT.

IT TAKES ALL DAY TO MAKE.

A-HEM! LET'S GET STARTED. WATCHA SAY?

UNHDDA Y'HEAR?

BAH. I'M GONNA TAKE A NAP.

Jess Willard and F. Fulton Advised to Fight in France

Reno, Nev., April 10.—In reply to a query from a eastern paper asking if Willard and Fulton would be permitted to fight in Reno on July 4 Governor Boyd sent the following reply this morning:

"Willard and Fulton cannot fight in Nevada on July 4 or any other date. They have my unqualified permission, however, to go to France and fight the Boche any time they are ready."

Scale Fe. N. M., April 10.—"The Willard-Fulton fight cannot be held in New Mexico while I am governor," Governor Lindsay today answered when asked what he would do if permission to stage the bout in this state on July 4 were asked him.

NEW SINGLES LEADER IN FIVEPIVOT TOURNEY

Broomfield Spills Pins for Big Total—Alerts Lead Five-Man Event.

The second day's play in the big tournament at the Broomfield Hotel in the Alerts led in the five-man event, with a 248 count. George Dunk's All-Stars, who take the alleys tonight at 7.30, rolled 289 in a practice match, which is a royal chance when they are called a 250 count in their first game. They slipped in their last effort, finishing with a 183 count. E. Jordan and W. Webster collected a 110 total, which gives them fourth position.

In the singles, W. Broomfield slipped into the lead with a 613 total. H. Wigton is second, scoring 588. W. Simpson moved into third place, totaling 581. H. Glendenning, with a 525 aggregate, holds fourth position. John Glover is right behind the Stanley star, with a 523 score to his credit.

At six o'clock Herb Gillis' team of all stars will endeavor to set up some dizzy records for the trailers to do. Friday Hammond's Pets and George Bell's Maple Leafs will shoot in the five-man, doubles and singles.

ALL THE PROCEEDS GO TO THE SOLDIERS

Because of the fact that all the proceeds will be devoted for patriotic purposes, the annual boxing tournament of the Sportsman's Patriotic Association, to be held at the Broomfield Hotel on Monday night, is worthy of note that every boxing tournament conducted since the outbreak of the war has been for patriotic purposes, and thru the efforts of the S.P.A. and the military authorities a large amount of money has been collected and expended on behalf of the soldiers. As in former tournaments the bouts will be conducted without any undue exhibition of enthusiasm on the part of the spectators, as the rule is that no cheering, hand-clapping or other noise is allowed. There will be no smoking, which will be welcome news to all spectators and contestants. The seat sale, which opens today, promises to equal if not surpass any that have preceded this year's tournament.

J. COFFROTH COMES FORTH WITH THE RIGHT IDEA

Half of Proceeds of Fight Would Go to the Soldiers.

San Francisco, April 10.—James W. Coffroth, fight promoter, telegraphed from San Diego, Calif., today to Dr. J. E. Rayner, secretary of the war department bureau on training camp activities suggesting that the Willard-Fulton heavy-weight championship fight scheduled for July 4 be staged under government auspices, with half the proceeds to go to the other half to be used for the use of gymnastics in training camps in this country and overseas.

A copy of the telegram received here said Coffroth was prepared to handle everything, including getting permission from the governor of Illinois or New York but would ask Dr. Rayner to get permission from the attorney-general for the interstate transportation of boxing films.

Ladies' Night

Linfield F.C. will hold a special meeting on Friday, at 8 o'clock, at the club rooms, 3 Fielcing avenue. All players please take notice of this meeting; also practice game on Saturday afternoon at Jones avenue, when it is expected a visiting team will play a friendly game.

ED. MACK, LIMITED

"Clothiers to All Mankind"

Ed. Mack ready tailored garments always reflect an air of originality in design that distinguishes them from all others. The Spring lines are fairly teeming with the newer ideas for men and young men. Come in, anyway.

Suits or Topcoats $18 and up

Clearance of Men's Hats

Choice from the Best Makers—Soft Hats $3, Hard Hats $3.50

New Arrivals in Smart Neckwear—Silk and Cambric Shirts—Arrow Collars

ED. MACK, LIMITED

167 YONGE STREET—Opp. SIMPSON'S

Last Night's Bouts

Buffalo, N.Y., April 10.—Irish Patsy Cline of New York shaded Rocky Kansas of Buffalo tonight in a ten-round bout, in which both men at times held the advantage, and in which neither left his feet.

Baltimore, Md., April 10.—Pal Moore of Memphis won the referee's decision over Johnny Ertle of St. Paul in their fifteen-round bout here tonight.

SPORT FOR THE ANGLER.

To the excellence of the fishing to be enjoyed in Algonquin Park there is undisputed testimony. Fish caught in the waters of the Park have won each year many of the National competitions open to the anglers of the Continent. The brook trout of Algonquin Park are of the genuine square-tailed, red-spotted or speckled variety. Black bass are plentiful in the Rock Lake district and are of the small-mouthed variety. Salmon trout are found in all the waters of the Park and are much gamier than the same species in the southern part of the Province. Splendid camp sites, unlimited canoe routes and hotels if you want them. Easy access, only 200 miles north of Toronto and 170 miles west of Ottawa. Illustrated descriptive literature giving full particulars for the asking. Apply to any Grand Trunk Ticket Agent or C. E. Hornung, D.P.A., Toronto, Ont.

EXPRESSMAN ARRESTED.

Charged with the theft of a case of whiskey from the Canadian Northern Express Company, William J. Hanna, 622 Parliament street, was arrested by two officials of that company last night and turned over to the police. Hanna, who was employed as a driver for the company, is alleged to have removed a case from a load he was taking from a car to a warehouse.

SPELLSIBERS ARE CHAMPIONS.

The Printers' Two-Man League have finished their schedule. Two teams tied for the leadership, the Spellibers and the Parkhills, necessitating a roll off. The same was played, total pins counting, and resulted in a victory for the Spellibers by a majority of 42 pins. There is a triple tie to be played off for fifth place team prize, which tournament will wind up the season. The scores for the roll off game are as follows:

Spellibers	2	3	71
Boer	112	159	421
Handicap	156	156	477
Total	7	7	21
Total	275	322	312-919
Parkhills	111	126	3	71
Farkes	133	171	182	493
Total	250	297	330	877

ALDERMAN CHARGED WITH DEFAMING EDITOR

Kitchener, April 10.—Magistrate Weir today found the crown had made out a prima facie case against Ald. J. R. Campbell, in whose defamatory libel is charged against the alderman in connection with a statement he read in council regarding Allan A. Eby, session editor of The Telegraph. The case will be heard at the fall sittings. It is amounting to $200 was furnished to the defendant.

DENIAL BY RIBOT.

Paris, April 10.—Ex-Premier Ribot said today that the French Government, of which he was the head at the time that Count Czernin asserts conversations concerning peace had been held between Austria-Hungary and France, never took, directly or thru neutral intermediaries, any initiative in such a proceeding as the Austrian official communication asserts.

IDA PUTS IT UP TO JIM AND DAN

President and Prospective Manager Are Demure When Questioned.

By Ida L. Webster.

It certainly does not take one swallow to make a drunk, but it does take one near-summer day to get all the fans near the rest of the suffering strap-hangers just who will hit 500 on the home team. To date these enthusiastic followers of the wagon tongue and horseshoe have had slight encouragement so far as Toronto baseball news is concerned. To be sure, there has not been any excitement since Lalonde and Schultz hit the trail. Yesterday we heard a man say "I wish I could see the face of Jim and Dan."

"Those newspaper guys are in cahoots with McCaffery and they will not spring any news until they jolly well feel like it."

This is most disconcerting, because we happen to know that Lonesome James McCaffery would part with his right eye in preference to news at the present time. Just to show you that we are on the level with this stuff we will give you a little inside information on interviewing the Toronto president and prospective manager. Enter private office (private because it only has three chairs); you slip into the room, because there is a regular attendant on the floor, and you know, folks lots of people have lost a foot by letting it sink into one of those rugs. As Jim and Dan are not to be seen, you enter through the side door, being careful to wind your feet around the legs, because there is a regular attendant on the floor, and you know, folks lots of people have lost a foot by letting it sink into one of those rugs. As Jim and Dan are not to be seen, you enter through the side door, being careful to wind your feet around the legs, because there is a regular attendant on the floor, and you know, folks lots of people have lost a foot by letting it sink into one of those rugs.

Now everybody knows that Howley is not the assured manager of Toronto Club, and everybody regrets the fact greatly, but just to be sociable and sort of break the ice you say: "Have you signed Mr. Howley yet?"

Jim and Dan together: "No."

J. and D. still doing a sister act, and in perfect time: "Not in a position to do so."

Then you ask: "Have you anything to tell the fans?"

Jim and Dan: "I will give them a good bunch of ball players. Nothing else to say, but probably tomorrow I'll have some good news to tell you."

You do not feel like stinking out in the member the situation demands, so you turn to Howley, as you would to a ham sandwich at a kosher feast.

"What is your opinion of the new international league?"

Howley, sitting at an extremely good-looking silk cuff, and backs away, coughs, and then smiling as he had done before, he says: "I am not connected with it in any way, and am really not in a position to speak. Certainly, I have always looked good to me, and I do not know of any town that I would prefer, but please understand that I am not in a position to speak."

Now, there you are, friends, that is the limit of the baseball news. Judge for yourself if you are holding out in the news line.

If Mr. McCaffery cannot make suggestions to you, you turn to Howley, as you would to a ham sandwich at a kosher feast.

"What is your opinion of the new international league?"

Howley, sitting at an extremely good-looking silk cuff, and backs away, coughs, and then smiling as he had done before, he says: "I am not connected with it in any way, and am really not in a position to speak. Certainly, I have always looked good to me, and I do not know of any town that I would prefer, but please understand that I am not in a position to speak."

Now, there you are, friends, that is the limit of the baseball news. Judge for yourself if you are holding out in the news line.

WAR HITS SOCCER FOOTBALL HARDEST

New York, April 10.—Soccer football has been hit harder than any other major sport by the flood of young men into the nation's service. This, for many months the contention of leading authorities in soccer in this country, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among the 42,500 soccer players approximately 3,000 organized soccer clubs in the United States have been conscripted into the war more than 15,000 exponents of the winter game are in government service. This would mean that considerably more than 100 soccer clubs have either been forced to disband for the duration of the war or to fill the ranks of the colors. Reports to the secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks, is borne out by the early returns from all sections of the country in response to an appeal issued from the offices of this city of Thomas W. Cahill, secretary of the United States Football Association, for the names of those soccer players who have gone into the fighting ranks. If the ratio indicated in the two score lists to reach Secretary Cahill is sustained, it will be shown that from among