

"ORANGE LILY SAVED MY LIFE."

These words, or expressions having the same meaning, are contained in hundreds of letters I have received during the past year. Many were from women who had suffered agonies from falling of the womb; others from women who had escaped dangerous surgical operations, as the tumors and ulcers had been removed by the action of Orange Lily; and others who had suffered from suppressed menstruation, leucorrhoea, painful periods, etc. For all these and the other troubles known in general as Women's Disorders, Orange Lily furnishes a positive, scientific, never-failing cure. As a trial actually proves its merit, I hereby offer to send absolutely free, a box worth 50c, sufficient for ten days' treatment, to every suffering woman who will write for it. Address, with stamp, MRS. E. F. CURRAH, WINDSOR, ONT.

Orange Lily is recommended and sold in Toronto by the T. Eaton Company, Limited.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

FLOWERS WITHOUT FRUIT.

Prune thou thy words; the thoughts that over thee swell and throng— They will condense within thy soul. And change to purpose strong.

But he who lets his feelings run in soft, luxurious flow, Shrinks when hard service must be done. And faints at every woe.

Faith's meaneast deed more favor bears. Where hearts and wills are weighed. Than "brightest transports, choicest prayers. Which bloom their hour and fade."

—John Henry Newman.

Suffragettes Inveigle Church.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The suffragettes last night for the first time carried their campaign into a place of worship. Augustine Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, while addressing a meeting in favor of disestablishment at the Temple, was subjected to disgraceful interruptions. Nearly a score of the adherents of the suffragette movement, men and women, were ejected from the building, amid uproarious scenes of struggling and violence.

The earnest appeals of Secretary Phipps and the pastor of the Temple to the disturbers to respect the sacred building, were without avail.

How Fashions Originate.

While doubtless the first modification of the merely useful garb which we call fashion was induced by the ineffective feminine desire to please the male eye, rivalry with her own sex has subordinated this aim. A severely plain head covering is useful, when the fair wearer puts a feather in her hat she surely won masculine approval; for there was the decorative touch. But when other women, dominated by an ambition to excel, used the whole bird and several strange feathers, besides the original aim of pleasing the masculine eye was lost in a bitter strife to go a gorgeous "one better." Then the contest was on—a contest that has brought to an astonished and not utterly inartistic world such exhibits as the hoop-skirt, the puffed sleeves, the Merry Widow hat and the much-constraining corset. Indeed, in the making of women's fashions there every motive that has ever impelled femininity—and the greatest of these is rivalry. This is merely one writer's opinion, but it has the philosophy of human nature to strengthen the theory.

In these latter days of combinations and industrial aggregations it is interesting to note that fashion has followed the current of the times. For were one fashion to run two seasons, whom would the makers of feminine apparel profit?

Two-thirds of the sex would surely wear the same garb, and it was "called in" for he it said, the "better half" of the world does not spend good money without pronounced results.

Style have the yearly or semi-yearly change of fashion. From some strange quarter of Paris or Vienna or London comes annual the news of the "new thing." The Queen of England, perhaps, has designed or unwittingly put a plum-colored belt on with a dark blue riding habit, and, presto! the vices carry the news of the world's fashion centres, the facile fashion artists devise a costly combination of this "latest," the festive magazines bear the tidings to the waiting feminine world. A new fashion has sprung into existence, the fashion dictators send a financial reward to the dress-makers and to their bank account, the world of women wearing plum-colored belts and blue riding habits adds to their spiritual contentment—and may be surprised Queen of England, who has changed her belt, looks on in amused wonder.—"Do Women Listen to 'Please the Men'?" by Louise Cass-Evans.

NO WOMAN

CAN BE STRONG AND HEALTHY UNLESS THE KIDNEYS ARE WELL.

When the kidneys are ill, the whole body suffers, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to filter out of the blood are left in the system. Then how important it must be to see to it that the organs of excretion be kept clogged up. Those who have never been troubled with kidney trouble know not the misery and suffering which these afflicted undergo.

Doan's Kidney Pills are a specific for all kidney troubles. They begin by healing the delicate membranes of the kidneys and thus make their action regular and natural. They help the kidneys to flush out the acid and poisonous impurities which have collected, thus clearing out the kidneys, bladder and all the urinary passages.

Doan's Kidney Pills are entirely vegetable, and may be safely taken by young and old.

Let Doan's Kidney Pills do for you what they have done for thousands of others, that is, cure you.

Mrs. M. Bryant, 85 Valley P.E.I., writes: "I was troubled with my kidneys for two years. They were so bad at times I could not cross the floor for the pain. I tried a doctor but he did me no good at all. I used to my nervous drag and got four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, and I am glad to say that after taking them I have had no more trouble for nearly three years now."

Price 50 cts. per box, or 3 for $1.25, all dealers or The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

On the evening of Dec. 12 a joint recital in the hall of the Toronto Conservatory of Music by Miss Madeleine Carter and Miss Mary Caldwell will undoubtedly be one of the most delightful events of the present season.

Miss Carter, although not very long before the public, is already recognized as one of our most pleasing local sopranos, and has been heard on many important occasions during the past two seasons before her visit to England last summer. Miss Caldwell, the talented pianist, has distinguished her reputation of playing in Massey Hall with the Symphony Orchestra, as well as at smaller concerts and musicales, and always succeeds in creating an impression of splendid vitality, unusual power, and individuality. The program will contain several numbers, both for voice and piano, which are seldom heard in Toronto, such as the celebrated "Kreutzeriana" of Robert Schumann, a composer who is perhaps underrated in our country.

Important programs, notwithstanding the beauty and poetic interest of his best music for the piano, at one time so wonderfully well interpreted by the late Madame Schumann, nee Clara Wieck. Miss Carter's songs on this occasion include selections from Brahms, Robert Franz, Hugo Wolf, Grieg, Costa, and several lighter pieces in ballad form. Both these young ladies are members of the Conservatory staff and have been successful in their recitals on the platform or with their pupils, a spirit of devotion to their art and a concentration on the matter in hand which always ensures success. Among Miss Caldwell's piece will be included Liszt's second rhapsody, a composition perhaps unequalled for the display of pure virtuosity.

The Toronto Symphony Orchestra. The great Fichtel, Hector Berlioz, is best known to-day thru the medium of his compositions, one of the most celebrated of these being included in the program for the first concert of the Symphony Orchestra in December, but in one respect he was even more gifted than the majority of people are aware, and that is as a critic of keen discernment and brilliant writer on musical subjects.

His work on instrumentation is not only technically profound, but contains also many passages treating of the modern orchestra, still interesting and correct. He distinguishes cleverly, for instance, between orchestras that are large yet never noisy, only powerful, and orchestras like those in theatres, small and noisy. The general public sometimes is led to conclude otherwise.

SLEEPLESS BABIES ARE SICKLY BABIES

When babies are restless and sleepless it is the surest possible sign of illness. Well-babies sleep soundly and wake up brightly. Sleeplessness is generally due to some derangement of the stomach or bowels, or to teething troubles. A few doses of Baby's Own Tablets will put the little one right and make it sleep naturally and soundly. Mothers always will be afraid of this medicine, as it is guaranteed by a government analyst to contain no opiate or narcotic. Mrs. Louis Reville, Cayuga, Ont., says: "I am never without Baby's Own Tablets in the house. I have used this medicine for my children, as occasion required, for the last five years, and have found it superior to all other medicines in curing the ills of childhood." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

SELLERS-GOUGH

"Furs Exclusively"

A GREATER FUR STORE

OUR NEW STORE was an absolute necessity to our business, though this is the second time since the formation of this company that we have been forced to double our capacity. The demand for furs bearing our label has increased so much in the past few years that we were compelled to double both our selling and our factory space. This has been done, and Toronto's fair sex have come here to criticize, and we believe are pleased with our efforts to afford commodious show rooms with comfortable and appropriate environment. There is a sound reason for all of our success in business. We have aimed to have the most exclusive style and perfect furs for the least possible amount of money, and if we had not succeeded in doing this we would never have found it necessary to have spent the immense amount of money we have done in doubling our establishment. We are absolutely certain of the quality and style of our furs—there is no guess work in this house. There is no misrepresentation and only one price. We have gained the confidence of careful shoppers and will continue to keep that confidence as long as we are in business.

There are several reasons why we are giving such values, one is, that we are specialists in Fur. Our entire capital, energy and business ability is devoted to the making and selling of furs; as a consequence we know the business from every standpoint and are absolutely in close touch with the values and styles. Another reason is, that our immense turn over enables us to buy raw furs at a much lower price than we would otherwise have to pay; we also keep an immense staff in our factory busy all the year around, thus every employee becomes an expert at his particular work. We are only too anxious to receive criticism from the ladies, and wish to impress upon you that you are entirely welcome to visit this store whether you wish to buy or not.

either from unwise choice of selections to be performed or from want of taste and delicacy on the part of the conductor. The truth is that orchestral music to be properly appreciated requires to be treated and approached in the proper way and all supporters of the new local orchestra will look forward to the day when fortnightly or weekly concerts throughout the season will delight and educate our citizens.

Mr. Weisman's program for Dec. 8, however, needs no apology nor explanation. It is not too long, nor too heavy, and sufficiently contrasted to suit all tastes. Mme. Gadski, the favorite prima donna, is the assisting vocalist on this occasion, and it is a great privilege to hear her, as this season she seems to be more in demand than ever. Reserved seats can be had for the very moderate rate of one dollar and one dollar-fifty. Subscriptions are now invited, but must be sent in before Nov. 21 to F. T. Stanford, 46 West King-street.

Miss Blanche Walter, pupil of Owen A. Smily, will give a humorous recital in Association Hall on Thursday, Dec. 3, assisted by Harold J. Jardon, Edgar R. Doward, pianist, and the Glendon concert orchestra. Miss Walter is the talented young lady who played the part of Tilly Slowboy with such marked dramatic ability in the governor-general's competition at Ottawa last winter.

A little down and a small sum monthly is all that is asked in payment.

Two Hurt. Water-Boiler in Basement of Savoy Restaurant Explodes. Two men were injured and the Savoy Restaurant and Candy Store, at Yonge and Adelaide-streets, somewhat shaken by the explosion of a 15-gallon water boiler in the basement of the building at 11.35 yesterday morning.

Peter Sims, 73 Nelson-street, was struck in wrist and groin by flying pieces of the burst boiler. He, with John Lewis, a negro porter, who was struck on the side of the head, was taken to St. Michael's Hospital. Neither is seriously injured.

The interior of the candy store shows the effect of the explosion. The flooring was forced slightly up in the centre and considerable glass was broken. The thirty girls working there and several customers who happened to be in the store were badly frightened but unhurt.

The covering of the coal-hole in Yonge-street in front of the store and the iron doors over the freight hoist on the Adelaide-street side were blown open, and this attracted a large crowd, and there was across the street thunderclap and then the lower front windows came out in a smother of dust.

The store was immediately closed until things inside were straightened out, and was opened again in the afternoon.
